The annual garden party of the Presbyterian congregation of Priceville held on Thursday, August 12, was favored with fine weather and an extremely large crowd. A splendid softball game was played between Maxwell and Priceville, the score being 7-2 in favor of the former. After this the large crowd assembled at the well-filled tables and enjoyed a real supper. Later order was called and Mr. John L. McKinnon of Sask. ably filled the chair. The program consisted of singing, cornet solos, orchestra music, speaking and bag pipes from Shelburne friends; Hanover quartette; Priceville orchestra; Mr. Cameron with the pipes, and last, but not least, Dr. Banks Nelson gave a wonderful talk on the present system of church union. We only hope that Dr. Nelson may be of some help to the Presbyterians of Priceville, who have struggled so hard.

A very sudden death occurred near here on Tuesday night, August 10th, when Mr. Geo. Thompson, a farmer just east of this village, passed away. He had been out after his horses that had wandered into the grain and on returning to the house about 10.30 p. m. collapsed and passed away before the doctor arrived. The remains were laid to rest in the Presbyterian cemetery in Feversham on Thursday. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. F. G. Goff of the Gospel Workers Church, assisted by the Revs. Mills, Simpson and Trotter of the same church, and by the Presbyterian minister here. One of the largest gathering of friends and neighbors ever seen here assembled to pay their last respects. Much sympathy is expressed for the now sorrowing widow and relatives.

Another very sad thing in connection with the funeral of the late Mr. Thompson was that a car load of friends were returning home to Scarboro, near Agincourt, when something went wrong with the steering gear of the car and it ran into the ditch and turned turtle, causing the death of two people. Mr. Andrew Nicol, an elderly man, was killed outright and Mrs. Frisby was so badly injured that she died two days later in the hospital at Orangeville and two more of the occupants were badly hurt, one of them being Miss Lily Thompson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Thompson of the 12th line near here.

While Mrs. D. McMullen and son, Stewart, were coming into town on Thursday last to Mr. Thompson's funeral their horse became unmanageable and ran away, throwing Mrs. McMullen out and fracturing two of her ribs.

HOW AGNES VOTED

In reply to Mr. Watson Griffin's criticism of Miss Agnes Macphail, that "Everyone knows that Miss Agnes Macphail, Progressive, was in sympathetic co-operation with the Liberal party during the whole period of her Parliamentary careeer, until she voted censuring the Mackenzie King Administration," Miss Macphail, in a letter to the Mail and Empire affectively replies. She says: "It will be quite amusing to members of the 14th parliament to hear of my sympathy with the Liberal party. In the four years we had 63 divisions, and 40 times I voted against the Liberals. I was several times absent, when, as the list clearly show, I would have registered my vote against the Liberals.
