SOME CURIOUS OLD FIGURES.

The other day, while looking over some old things, The Advance man came across an old copy of Scobie's Canadian Almanac published in 185[illegible]. The Canadian Almanac was first published in 1848 and is still published by a Toronto firm. From the copy in our possession we glean some very interesting information regarding Upper Canada, and more particularly with reference to our own county.

In 1852 the County of Grey possessed a population numbering 13,217. According to townships the population was: Artemesia 733, Bentinck 1272, Collingwood 545, Derby 471, Egremont 660, Euphrasia 603, Glenelg 1250, Holland 954, Melancthon 250, Normanby 539, Osprey 480, Proton 200, St. Vincent 1601, Sullivan 538, and Sydenham 2432. The Co. of Grey was at that time affiliated with the County of Wellington for judicial purposes, but a movement was on foot in 1854 for a separation, which took place shortly afterward. The county seat was then Sydenham, but post marks of that date in our possession bear the name of Owen Sound. The county town postoffice appears to have had two stamps—one calling the town "Owen's" Sound and the other "Owen" Sound. The former was evidently used as much as the latter from the years 1854 to 1859. The Almanac calls it "Owen's Sound," with George Brown as postmaster. Frederick LePan was the first, and for many years, treasurer of the county.

There is a large amount of other interesting matter in this musty old pamphlet, including a copy of the "Regulation of Voters' Act" of 1848, designed to give a larger representation of the people. From this we learn that Grey was then composed of only one electoral district. The city of Toronto, with a population at that time of 30,775, also comprised but one electoral division.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Hamilton Spectator, one of the leading Conservative papers of the Province, takes strong grounds on the chief issue in the campaign now progressing. Says the Spectator:

"There will be no one in his or her sane senses who will deny that the O.T.A. has effected an immense amount of good in the province. The evidence of its benefits are on every hand—in the homes, on the streets, in the workshops, everywhere. Because of lawbreakers, are we to surrender to a clamorous opposition? Is the O.T.A. to be discarded because of abuses? Or should the courageous course be taken, and the fight manfully carried on? For these can be no mistake about the consequences of adopting a personal license policy. The Premier promises there will be no open bars, and that is well. But it makes little difference, after all is said adn done, where liquor can be bought, if its sale in liberal quantities is again legalized."

The electors should think well before rushing into ill-digested experiments.

Commend us to Canadian farmers in the North-west. No matter how many troubles come to them they always see the silver lining in the cloud, and hope for the best. Sometimes like many people in the East they bemoan their troubles that never come to them, but they quickly recover their optimism, and find that it pays. They do well to accept the advice tendered by the sacred scriptures:

"Ye fearful saints, fresh courage take,
The clouds ye so much dread
Are big with mercy and will break
With blessing on your head."

The Byngs are certainly a versatile noble family. One of them advertises in the Spectator newspaper of London, England, as follows:

HOW TO MAKE MONEY by Angora Rabbit Wool Farming, Price 1s. 3d. Vacancie Pupils.—The Lady Rachel Byng, High Sandhoe, Hexham."

If Angora rabbits increase at the rate the common breed do, Lady Rachel and her pupils may soon have their hands full.

As the Provincial campaign proceeds, we are all assured of the fact that an orator may not be a big gun because he proves himself a smooth bore.

* * *

Ontario requires neither bar-rooms (to stand up in) nor beer parols (to sit down in.)

* * *

The law is good enough as it stands, but no law is as good as it ought to be unless its provisions are enforced. Think what a state of society we could have if the statutes for the suppression of murder, theft, robbery and burglary were repealed because some rascals insist on breaking them!

* * *

Will automobiling be rendered more safe when there are beer parlors all along the highways? Will there be official breath smellers to examine the autoists?

TWO WEEKS AFTER CHRISTMAS.

You wake up bright and early Christmas morning. You open the stockings. Christmas presents on Christmas morning are the most wonderful, beautiful things in the world. Under the soft light of Christmas candles, every present looks like a priceless treasure.

On the day after Christmas you begin to look at your presents more carefully. It is easier to decide which ones you like best.

One week after Christmas, your preferences are very definite. Two weeks after Christmas you have to stop and think a minute to remember what some of your friends gave you.

Why not give your friends a Christmas present that they cannot forget, and would not if they could? The Youth's Companion comes every week—fifty-two times in a year. For $2.00, what present could you possibly buy that would be more useful, more used, and better appreciated?

Just send your order to the address below and Santa Claus will take care of delivering the Companion to your home or to the home of a friend. Subscribers will receive:

Here are the terms of an investment guaranteed to be profitable:

1. The Youths' Companion—52 issues in 1927, and
2. The remaining issues of 1926.

All for only $2.

3. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions.

Both publications only $2.50.

The C. Beck Manufacturing Company, of Penetanguishene, states that they will not put in any camps this winter as they claim the price of sawn lumber is below the cost of taking it out.

H. S ENTERTAINMENT.

The entertainment given by the High School Literary Society last Thursday evening was a great success, when the fact is taken into consideration that the pupils' time was not taken from their studies to practise for it. Mr. Russel Cameron, President of the Literary Society, was chairman, and though nervous, sustained his part well. A playlet, which bruught down the house, was given with great effect. A part of Canto V., Lady of the Lake, was given by two boys and Miss Ethel Preston, which showed elocutionary talent.

The solos, duets, quartettes and chorus were well rendered. Mr. Lawrence presented the prizes won in the field day competitions. Mrs. Huff of Meaford, wife of Inspector Huff, was present and gave a talk on "Art." She spoke of Art as a very necessary training for the pupils of even the lower forms in our public schools as well as in the high schools. She also spoke on "Home Decorations and Furnishings," which subject she made very interesting and instructive.

The proceeds amounted to over fifteen dollars.

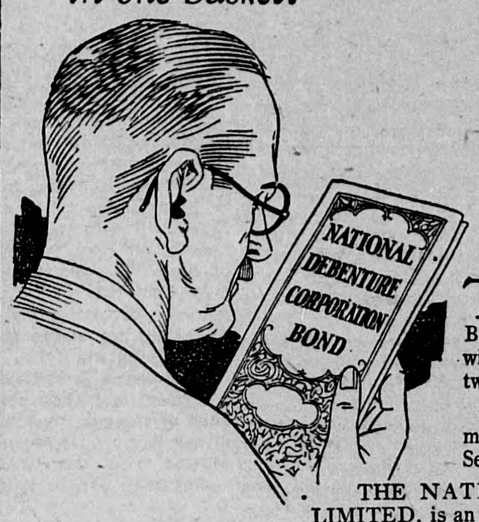
GOD SAVE THE KING

Prudent financial advisers constantly tell their clients to diversify their holdings. Do not put all your eggs in one basket!



Here is a Bond That Carries with It All the Benefits of Diversification

THE NATIONAL DEBENTURE CORPORATION, LIMITED, Series "A" Bonds are now offered to the public at 100, with interest at 5½ per cent., maturing in twenty years.

Back of these Bonds are Dominion Government, Provincial Government and Municipal Securities and approved First Mortgages.

THE NATIONAL DEBENTURE CORPORATION, LIMITED, is an Investment Trust, patterned after successful British Investment Trusts. By means of such an organization, the combined funds of many investors, in large and small amounts, are utilized to purchase such a wide variety of securities that safety of principal and interest is attained in diversification.

For forty-three years, no Bond recommended and sold by our organization has failed to pay principal and interest.

Funds placed at the disposal of THE NATIONAL DEBENTURE CORPORATION, LIMITED, are invested in Government and Municipal Securities and First Mortgages. For every $100.00 invested with the Corporation by buying its Series "A" Bonds, the Corporation's Trustees must have $105.00 par value in the securities named. Of these securities in the Trustees' possession, no less than $55.00 par value must consist of Government and Municipal Securities. No more than $50.00 may be in First Mortgages. There can be no deviation from this rule.

THE NATIONAL DEBENTURE CORPORATION, LIMITED, is the first Investment Trust of its kind in Canada. Its Series "A" Bonds, in $100.00, $500.00 and $1,000.00 amounts, offer unusual security, together with the relatively high rate of 5½ per cent.

Write us today for our new booklet, "The Investment Trust." It will demonstrate to you the safe Bond purchase and the good dividend.
