Considering the night, there was a good attendance at the political meeting in the hall here on Tuesday evening, Nov. 9th, when the chief speakers were Dr. Jamieson and Dr. Campbell. Dr. Campbell spoke on government control and the O.T.A., saying that out of nine provinces in Canada five had government control, which had been secured by either Liberal or U. F. O. candidates. No Conservative government had yet brought in government control, and if government control is brought into Ontario it will be controlled differently to what it is in other provinces. It will be an amendment to the O.T.A. and an honest endeavor to put Ontario in a little better condition than it is to-day.

Mr. John Magee, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. Wickens and daughter, of Flesherton, visited in Shelburne on Sunday.

Dr. Jamieson favored cheaper credit for long term years. It has been lowered and he hopes to see it down to at least 5 per cent. He was not altogether in favor of old age pensions, as he thought many would not lay anything by for old age if they knew they could get a pension when that stage was reached. The Douglas boys and their father delighted the audience with a number of vocal selections. They are wonderful singers, and we will be pleased to hear them again.

PROTON STATION

It was with sorrow that the people of Proton Station and vicinity learned of the death in Toronto of Mrs. Geo. Binnie, a former much-respected resident a short distance from this village. After over forty years of life on their fine farm about one and a half years ago Mrs. Binnie, with her late husband, moved to Toronto to be with their daughters. A series of painful accidents seemed to be her misfortune, followed by an attack of pneumonia which proved fatal. She died on November 15th and on November 18th she was laid to rest in Flesherton cemetery beside her husband, who predeceased her about six months ago. Five daughters are left to mourn the loss of a devoted mother: Mrs. Boyd of Flesherton, Mrs. J. C. Wright of Hamilton, Misses Mabel, Clara and Mildred of Toronto.

Four more weeks until the merry festival.

Miss Marion Muir, teacher at the O. D. R., is preparing the scholars for the annual Christmas concert.

PRICEVILLE

We are getting a taste of real winter, we believe, this week end, but still we hope for a few nice days before Christmas.

Times are rather quiet around here at present, with the exception of election talk, as plowing and land work is at a close, and winter work has not yet begun.

Saturday evening, the 20th, Mr. Oliver held a meeting in the old Methodist church. Quite a number were present. Some are sure Mr. Oliver will win the day, and others are certain that Dr. Jamieson will be the winner. But the first of December will decide the question. The majority in this district, we think, will not be able to uphold the present O. T. A., as it seems to be helping the bootleggers around, more and more each year. What we want and wish for is some new idea that will keep down the liquor and stop the making of moonshine.

Mrs. Buchan of Toronto is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Aldcorn over the week end.
