Oliver's Maiden Speech

Wednesday's dailies of last week make mention of the speech of F. R. Oliver, South Grey's youthful member in the Provincial Legislature, in his maiden effort. Following is the article in the Toronto Globe:

F. R. Oliver (U.F.O., South Grey) the youngest member of the Legislature, next took a hand in the debate. It was his maiden speech in the House but the youth displayed no nervousness. In this gathering of senior men aged in political experience, he proved himself in the matter of oratory an equal to any.

In his opening remarks he disassociated L. W. Oke, Lambton East, T. Farquhar, Manitoulin and himself from the Progressive group in the House. The three of them constituted their own U.F.O. group, and for this trio he spake.

The three, he said, would extend the hand of co-operation to any group in the House, irrespective of party, in any matter that met with their approval.

Agriculture was faced with the problem of rural depopulation. Governments had advocated immigration as a solution. But, said Mr. Oliver, the European coming here took one look at the farms and then followed the boys and girls to the cities. Immigration, he declared, was not a basic solution. The real way to solve the probem was to improve agricultural conditions — make agriculture attractive.

He suggested remedies for Agriculture's ills. First, co-operation in all its phases. He thought that the Government should study co-operative movements in countries where they were successful and make the information of their findings valuable to Ontario farmers. "We are only touching the fringe of co-operative enterprise in Ontario," he said.

He suggested that a committee from the Legislature should study the rural education systems in other countries and that Ontario should adopt the best of the successful systems.

Icy pavements accounted for three broken limbs in Meaford in one day. George Crabtree, aged 79, sustained a broken hip and two women suffered broken arms.

A couple of weeks ago Mr. William E. Bellamy of Alliston shipped two three-year-old steers to Toronto that weighed over 3100 lbs., the best on the market that day. Although cattle were dragging at 6¾ to 7¼c. a pound, Mr. Bellamy's were snapped up quickly at 7¾.—Stayner Sun.

FOR SALE or RENT — 100 acre farm, lots 192-193, 1st Con., Township of Proton, S.W.T.&S.R. Good brick house, good stabling, all cleared, 1 mile from Proton. For particulars apply to ROBT. LEE, Proton, R.R. 3, Phone 83-31, Dundalk.

Who are the firms MOST ALIVE?

That is the question every good buyer asks himself before establishing a new connection. Other things being equal, his answer is, "The firms that are most alert to solicit business and fill orders."

■ ■ ■

Such firms depend upon the telephone, because it enables them to be alert. Those who use the telephone the most are necessarily the most alert.

■ ■ ■

Many subscribers who used to think they had to make Person-to-Person calls now find that they reach the person they want with Station-to-Station calls. They are quicker and cheaper.

Late Mrs. Philip Ottewell

Sarah Osborne, beloved wife of Philip Ottewell after but a few days' illness, passed to her reward on Tuesday morning, February 8th, at the home of her son, James, 8th line, Osprey township, in her seventy-fifth year.

She was a devoted wife and mother and was a large-hearted neighbor and friend. She saw the country in its cloak of forest gradually change to what it is to-day and she knew the hardships of the early settler's life, but she toiled uncomplainingly thro' the years She was a life-long adherent of the Methodist church and had the old-time love of the House of God. She had been apparently enjoying her usual health till heart trouble and paralysis combined, brought about her demise.

A sorrowing husband, five sons, three daughters, and five sisters and a brother are left to mourn her loss. The sons are, W. John, P. Sherman, George, Isaac, who lives on the old homestead on the 10th line, and Jas. They all reside in the vicinity of the old home. The daughters are: Mrs. G. Armstrong, Lockwood, Sask., Mrs. A. White, Collingwood, and Mrs. Geo. Waller, Flesherton. The sisters are: Mrs. I. Perigo, Mrs. W. Hanley and Mrs. W. J. Stewart, all of Flesherton, Mrs. W. Ross, Georgetown, and Mrs. R. Smith, Markdale, and the brother, Samuel Osborne, Flesherton.

The funeral took place on Thursday, February 10th, from the home of the son, James, after singing of a hymn and prayer, to the Gospel Workers Church, Feversham, where the service was conducted by Rev. A. Mills of Markdale, assisted by Rev. Mr. New of Maxwell United Church. The church was packed to capacity. The text used was Matt. 11:28, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." Mr. Harold Fenwick sang an apropriate solo, "Sometime We'll Understand." After the service the remains were laid to rest in Bethel burying ground.

The large funeral gathering and the many beautiful floral tributes spoke strongly of the esteem in which the departed was held.

THE ACQUITTAL OF FRANK NORRIS

The Canadian press has carefully refrained from commenting on the acquittal of Frank Norris, who last July, in the State of Texas, shot to death an unarmed man, who had entered his study in the Church of which Norris was pastor where he was preparing his sermon. Norris drew his automatic from his desk and poured four or five bullets into the body of his defenceless victim. Tried for murder, he set up a plea of self-defence based upon evidence which would not be listened to for a moment in a British Court of Justice and a Texas jury acquitted him.

The Judge charged the jury that if Norris believed that he was in "apparent danger," he was justified in shooting and cited a Texas Statute in support of his ruling. Obviously this Texas law opens the door wide to the crime of murder afterwards to be justified by feigning a belief that the manslayer was in danger and by marshalling a multitude of meaningless threats to his defence.

The case seems to afford more evidence, if indeed it is needed, that American life and American laws and American juries fail to properly protect society with the result that the Republic is suffering to-day from an appaling epidemic of homicide.

What business had a man who posed as a preacher of the Gospel of brotherly love and who may be supposed to have had some knowledge of the standards of Christian ethics laid down in the Sermon on the Mount, to have a loaded revolver in his study desk? With what intent did he put it there? What was his purpose? On the desk in the drawer of which this weapon was concealed, lay his Bible, with the agelong admonition, "Thou shalt not kill," and which further enjoined sincere believers to "bless them that curse you," and "do good to them that hate you." Was this man-slayer seeking to graft the ethics of the N.Y. gunmen on to the exhortations of Holy Scripture? Why that loaded revolver?

When did it become fitting that a leader of a Christian Church should with bullet after bullet, sweep an unarmed fellow-citizen into eternity? Even if he had been in danger, and he never was, not for a moment, by what reasoning does he justify this act of bloody aggression? Fancy the Apostle Paul drawing a concealed weapon out of his mantle and savagely attacking a Jewish mob which not only threatened but actually did try to take his life. Imagine the missionaries in China, property destroyed, lives in danger, pouring a fusilade from their compound upon the furious mob of Chinese. What new doctrine is this that this man whose hands are stained with human blood is trying to impose on his people.

It is a shameful and humiliating story. It hurts the Christian religion. This man has done infinitely more harm to the cause of religion than Sterry, the editor of the Christian Inquirer, who has been convicted of blasphemous libel.

Norris will continue to preach. Oh the mockery of it! Well may the people ask "Is Cain among the prophets?"—Chesley Enterprise.

An old friend, Mr. W. H. Sloan, of Ladner, B. C., writes: "I see by the label on my paper that it is high time to send you my subscription for 1927. We would not do without The Advance. We look forward every week to see how the good old friends and neighbors are getting along. We often think of you all. We have a nice climate here and the kindest neighbors we could wish for. We have a new ferry on here across the Fraser river which carries 38 cars and trucks. We can see it from our house. We live in a very pleasant place, Ladner, which is a nice town about 16 miles from Vancouver and from Westminster about 16 miles. I often think of writing up my pioneer life at Eugenia. We moved there in 1864, when it first started."
