BOB COOK IN TOILS ON GRAVE CHARGES AGAINST GIRL

Dispatches from Orangeville Monday stated that "Bob" Cook is again in the toils of the law, this time on the serious charges of seduction and abduction. The charges were laid by Joseph McCullough, a farmer residing on the fifth sideroad of Amaranth Township, about twelve miles west of here. According to McCullough, who arrived here late last night, Cook, who has been boarding at the McCullough home for some months, wished to marry Ethel, the plaintiff's 13-year-old daughter. Objections were raised, but yesterday morning Cook drew a knife when Mrs. McCullough tried to interfere as they were leaving the house, and Cook said he would have the girl anyway.

When they failed to return home last night a warant was sworn out for Cook's arrest. Early this morning Provincial Police Joseph Nelson and License Inspector Thomas J. Robinson, drove to Cook's farm, three miles west of Orangeville and found them. For the first time Cook submitted to the officer without puttingup a fight. Cook and the girl were brought to town, Cook being lodged in the county jail, and the girl agreeing to return home with her father.

For about twenty years Cook has been a thorn in the flesh of the local police. When the Great War broke out he was serving a term in the Penitentiary, but was granted parole to enlist. On his return to town he purchased a farm in East Garafraxa Township, west of Orangeville. At regular periods he was caught on the farm operating liquor stills. For the year he has been experimenting with turf or sort of peat found in one section of the farm, and chemists have been successful in extracting several ingredients including wood alcohol from it. It is not thought he will be granted bail as the penalty for the offence is life imprisonment and lashes. His preliminary trial will take place before Police Magistrate Hugh Falconer at Orangeville on Monday next.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mr. John Porteous last week purchased the one hundred acre farm owned by Mr. Robert Morrison of Maxwell. This farm was advertised in last week's issue of The Advance for the first time and the farm was sold the following day therefrom.

The Clover Leaf Club of the United S.S. elected their officers last week as follows: Pres., Alma Lever; V. P., Donelda MacDonald; Sec., Alice Heard; Treas., Doreen Batty; Visiting Committee, Lola Blackburn and Audrey Brown; Good Workers, Mrs. Findlay, Doris McMullen, and Marie Fenwick. Twelve dollars was raised, which has been donated to the Mission Band.

Nature still continues to turn out freaks of all kinds, but the latest in this district is a pig without any feet. Last Sunday a sow belonging to Mr. Willis Johnston gave birth to eight little pigs. When the feet were given out there was evidently not enough to go around as one of the little fellows was left without any. This young fellow is still alive and thriving.-Listowel Banner.

The village Council met on Monday evening with all the members present except Mr. O. W. Phillips, who was ill. After reading of minutes the following accounts were ordered to be paid: Dr. E. C. Murray, installing lights and supplies, $9.20; R. Fisher, sanding sidewalks, $2.75; W. J. Bellamy, registering B. M. and D's, $4; Municipal World, supplies, $16.43. The Hydro report for the year was submitted, which showed a balance on hand of $735.54. This has been placed to the credit of the village for contingencies.

The Concert Was Good

The Ladies' Aid of St. John's United Church put on a play in the high school auditorium Friday evening last entitled, "The Joggsville Convention." For unadulterated fun it beat everything. Those frolicsome young matrons put on a show which would have made those laugh who never laughed before. The program defies description and it would look tame to attempt it. As a burlesque show nothing better could be wished for. Between acts Miss Stewart, teacher at Ceylon, favored the audience with a solo as also did Mr. S. W. Hardwick, and Misses Jean and Marion Stuart delighted the auidence with a piano duet. Dr. Murray described "How the cat came back." The proceeds amounted to $65.

A GAME SANCTUARY

It is understood that arrangements are pratically completed to have the Credit River Valley from Port Credit to Caledon set aside by the Ontario Department of Mines and Fisheries as a game sanctuary. It is proposed to rpohibit all trapping, fishing and hunting within that area, extending one mile on eahh side of the Credit River. The plans inllude the shipping of a large number of adult pheasants into the sanctuary and the stocking of the river with bass and trout.

Euphrasia Man Dies When Shoots Himself

An unfortunate occurrence took place near Kimberley on Thursday of last week, when a young farmer, Clifford Camack, shot himself with a rifle and died instantly.

Camack, who was 41 years of age and a bachelor, resided three miles north of Kimberley and had his sister keeping house for him until last fall when she went to California on a visit to some relatives, and during the winter he had been living alone.

On Thursday morning he telephoned Dr. J. F. McKee of Thornbury and told him he was not feeling well, and that he was very nervous, and asked him to come and visit him. The doctor could not get away just at the time, but drove out in the latter part of the afternoon. When he went in the house he could find no person around and going on through and out to the back door he discovered the prostrated body of Camack just outside of the summer kitchen.

Dr. McKee examined the body and soon discovered the cause of death. The unfortunate man had placed the muzzle of a .22 rifle to his right temple and pulled the trigger, with the result that the bullet tore a hole right through his brain, and it is thought that death was almost instantaneous.

As soon as possible Dr. McKee reported the circumtances to Dr. T. E. Bennett,, Coroner,, of Meaford, who later visited the scene and made some further investigations. It was very evident that the deceased had taken his own life, as there was a small sum of money found on a shelf in the kitchen and no signs of there having been anyone else around the place. The body was still warm when found by Dr. McKee. Dr. Bennett finally decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

AEROPLANE FORCED TO LAND AT RED WING

Great excitement prevailed among the residents of Redwing vicinity on Friday about 11.40a.m. when an aeroplane of the Curtiss type landed in their midst on J. M. McCallum's farm. The scene of landing was soon a mecca for citizens for miles around who eagerly sought mementos of the event by cutting or sawing off bits of the aeroplane.

The aeroplane, driven by Eng. Fleming, was making a flight from Hamilton to Camp Borden, and had left the former place about two hours before. Fleming mistook the waters of Georgian Bay for that of Lake Simcoe and had come down to locate his bearings. The landing was harder than anticipated, and the undercarriage of the machine gave way, while a wing crashed into a stump. The engine, a ninety horsepower, is still in good condition.

The machine was of an older type of make and was due to be overhauled soon. The machine was owned by Jack Elliott, Hamilton, who possesses others. The wrecked aeroplane was shipped back to Hamilton via the rail route.—Review-Herald.
