The Printing Press.

How wisely events follow each other in proper order! Just at the time when the mind of Europe was waking from a thousand years lethargy and when means were required to spread abroad the results of the inquiries which the learned were making in all branches of science, Caxton gave to the world the Printing Press. By its instrumentality the discoveries and inventions of one land have become the property of the entire globe, and the advancement of science has been greatly promoted. No man of the present age has more fully comprehended this than Holloway. The same intellect that led him to the studies which resulted in the production of his celebrated Pills and Ointment saw at once the immense advantage, to the world as well as to himself, which might be drawn from this source. He laid his discoveries before the world, sowing his seed broadcast, where ever a written language is read, and modestly awaited the result. His confident statement of his theory led men to try his remedies; their intrinsic excellence when once tried established them firmly in the confidence of the public of both hemispheres, and Professor Holloway stands now in the estimation of the people, as the most powerful opponent of all disease. For disorders of the liver and stomach, the Pills are claimed to be a swift and sure specific, and the claim is verified by an overwhelming mass of testimony. Now we all know how entirely the bodily health depends upon the condition of these two important organs. If the digestion is impaired, the bowels disordered, and the liver torpid or congested, the whole frame suffers; the strength declines, the spirits droop, the complexion becomes cadaverous, the flesh wasted, supineness and despair take the places of energy and hopelessness, the sick man becomes as dead to the great objects and pursuits of life as if he were entombed alive. Out of his self-sepulchre, as it were, this powerful remedy lifts him as if by magic—a few timely doses of the Pills brings back digestion, appetite, and physical energy. These statements are too plain, and too easily contradicted if untrue, to admit of the slightest doubt. On the contrary, we know them to be nothing but the literal fact. They are not founded merely upon common report, but upon the testimony of parties occupying high positions in society—men of unblemished reputation and matured judgement—that likewise is confirmed by circumstances within our own immediate knowledge.—IVERACH TELEGRAM.

Small-pox ravages.

Twenty deaths from smallpox are reported at Coucharley, Ind., and the pest still rages.

Never Be Without It.

Tourists and all who are subjected to a change of climate, water, diet &c., should not be without Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, the infallible remedy for all summer complaints.

Massacred by Indians.

A special despatch from St. Paul says that news has been received from Redfield, Dakota, that hostile Indians from the West had ruthlessly massacred eleven adults and three children in the centre of Fauld county on Thursday. General Terry has ordered a company of the 7th United States Cavalry to the scene, with orders to pursue and punish the murderers.

It Always Works Just This Result.

Mr John Bonner, proprietor of the celebrated Yonge Street Dry Goods and Gents Furnishing Store, Toronto tells a most remarkable story of the great German Remedy "St. Jacobs Oil cured me of a bad case of neuralgia, of five years standing, when I had given up hopes of being cured, and had tried fifty different so-called remedies. I now keep it all the time not only at home, but here in my place of business; it is an excellent thing and something nobody should be without."

Shocking Cruelty.

A PITIABLE CASE.—There is an elderly female on the 5th Con. of Uxbridge, who needs looking after, and we think it is about time for the Council to either change caretakers or to send the person to one of the institutions in Toronto, where she will be properly taken care of. One day last week she was seen wandering on the road with no other covering whatever than a kind of cotton jacket, just covering her from her shoulders to her knees. We know the Council make provisions for her clothing and keep, but from what we can hear she cannot be properly attended to.—Advance

Bad Blood.

The blood is the true essence of vitality, without pure blood there can be no healthy action in the system. Boils, blotches, pimples, and the various humors and blemishes of the skin are only symptomatic of bad blood—that needs purifying at its fountain head, to render its tributaries pure. Burdock Blood Bitters effectually cleanse the blood from all humors, obtains a healthy action of the liver, bowels, kidneys, skin, etc., and strengthening while it regulates and purifies.

It is now stated that the report of the murder of seven North-West Mounted Policemen by Indians was incorrect, but that three murders were perpetrated by the Indians, the victims being three horse drovers who were coming through from British Columbia with a number of horses.
