Sending Money to Distant Points

You can send any amount of money to any point in Canada at a minimum of expence by using a Standard Bank Money Order. This method is the simplest, safest and most conenient way to send remittances by mail in the Dominion; if the mail gos astray no loss is sustained. Should you desire to send money to a point outside the country, a Standard Bank Draft will serve your purpose for forwarding money to foreign places.

New rural mail boxes will shortly replace the swinging arm type now in vogue. The increase of traffic on the highways and byways brought the risk of damage to, and by the boxes sticking out over the road. To eliminate this objectionable feature the new boxes are pivoted on the post itself, so that at no time can they extend more than half of their own length outside the post.

FINED $100 AND COSTS

On Friday afternoon last two young men, giving their address as Niagara Falls, Ont., appeared before Police Magistrate Creasor of Owen Sound and one was fined $100 and costs for keeping liquor in other than their place of residence. They were arrested on Thursday afternoon by Constable Johnston, who stopped the car in which they had a cargo consisting of several cases of ale and wine. The car had been in town on several occasions lately and the constable was on the lookout for it, but apparently the new law allows the transportation of any quantity of liquor as the fine was imposed because the car and the liquor had been stored in a hotel stable at Flesherton on Monday night. The car with three occupants was in Dundalk on Monday, in Flesherton Monday night,here on Tuesday,part of the time on Main street empty and at other times with its load. It was in the park in the afternoon. If the Control Act permits this kind of thing then its not what the people were led to believe it would be, and is not what the people want. The third member of the party, who was out of the car when stopped, disappeared and has not been located by the authorities.—Markdale Standard.

Rob Roy Mills and Elevator Were Burned

For the second time in three years the Rob Roy Mills of this place were visited by a disastrous fire, that of Tuesday night wiping out the elevator and machinery, saved at the fire of November, 1924. The loss is estimated to be $20,000 on buildings, $15,000 on machinery and about $2,000 on wheat and grain in storage at the time of fire. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Since the big fire of 1924, which spelled the end of the manufacture of the famous Roy Roy oatmeal products the elevator had been used as a grain storage and a certain acount of chopping had been done, mostly feed products for export. The mill had been running all day Monday and Tuesday, and when the plant was closed shortly after 6 o'clock Tuesday night, nothing apparently was wrong. Up to shortly after 8 o'clock the mill was much as usual and following the game of softball at the high school grounds approximately two hundred fans had passed the plant on the road down town and nothing unusual was noticed.

They had scarcely reached the corner, however, before smoke was seen coming from the basement, and though the fire whistle blew immediately and the brigade made a quick run to the scene with both chemical truck and fire engine, nothing could be done but pour on water and protect the surrounding buildings.

The building was completely consumed, though it took the greater part of the night before the heavy floor timbers were burned through and members of the fire department were on duty until all danger from flying sparks was past. We have no authentic information at present, but understand that there is little chance that the building will be replaced, as the cost of construction is too high in comparison with the monetary returns.—Durham Chronicle.

HORSE JUDGING CLASS

A class is being formed in town for the purpose of educating the young men how to clasify and judge the various types of horses, as to conformation and soundness. The first class was held Monday evening on General Purpose Horses with five horses in the class to be judged, and considerable interest was manifest. It is the intention to hold meetings from time to time and have different classes of horses each meeting.

The class is in charge of Mr. T. W. Findlay, who has been a government judge on horses for some years, and he would like to see some of the young men qualify for the Grey County Judging team. It is Mr. Findlay's intention to offer prizes at the Fall Fair for members of this class, in judging some different classes before the Judge finally places them. Then he has written to the Department to give him a fair to judge within motoring distance from Flesherton and any members of the class can go along and be in the ring with him to pick up all the information they can.

This class is open to any young man who feels he could learn something more about classifying and judging of horses. Those desiring to attend the next meeting are requested to phone Mr. Findlay as to the time to attend.

ROAD WORK WAS STOPPED

Work was begune last week on the Meaford to Markdale County-Provincial highway, the start being made on the stretch west of Meaford connecting with the nineth line. Ex-Reeve White of St. Vincent was in control of this working outfit. On Saturday last Mr. White received instructions from the county road and bridge committee through Johnston to cease operations, but not to leave the road in dangerous condition. This order came as a bolt from the blue. Many guesses were given to the cause. After some investigations the Editor of this paper discovered that an influential delegation had gone to Toronto and secured authority to have the order carried out. At least the delegation claims to have secured that authority. Just what the next move in the chequered career of this piece of road will be remained to be seen, and we await it with much curiosity.
