Never Sell Grain on a Dull Market

It does not always pay to sell grain as soon as the threshing is finished. If you have a good crop and themarket is depressed see the local manager of the Standard Bank and arrange a loan until a more favorable situation presents itself.

Our manager is always glad to discuss such problems in confidence.

James O. Patton Dies at His Home in Town

After suffering illness for some time there passed away in Flesherton on Tuesday morning, September 27th, James Oscar Patton, aged 59 years. Mr. Patton had been taken to Durham to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mark Wilson, and spent the past week there, returning home on Sunday. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon. Service at the house at 2.30 p.m., interment to take place in Flesherton cemetery.

FARM HOUSE BURNED NEAR BADJEROS

The farm house of Samuel Clayton, south line, Osprey Tp., between Maple Valley and Badgeros, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday forenoon. The cause is not really known, possibly from an overheated stove in the portion of the house occupied by Mr. Caleb Clayton.

Neighbors were quick to respond to the call for help. Much of the house contents were removed to safety and a volunteer brigade protected the large barns which were threatened.

The loss will be a eavy one, not yet fully ascertained, partially covered by insurance.—Creemore Star.

HOLDFAST U. F. W. O.

The September meeting of the Holdfast U. F. W. O. club was held at the home of Mrs. Ben McKenzie with a splendid attendance of members and visitors. The roll call was answered by a quotation for a Canadian author. Some resolutions for the coming convention were read and discussed. Humorous readings were given by Mrs. Dan Campbell and Miss L. Whittaker. The topic was "Hob bies" given by Mrs. J. K. McLeod. An interesting paper on the Emancipation of Women was given by Miss McPhail. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. Best and the program will be given by the grandmothers of our club.—Mrs. W. A. Beaton, Sec.

High time the traffic officers jumped hard on the cars that park along the highways at night. The old back porch is the proper place for courting. The highways were built for traffic.

Painting and Decorating

Now that Fall is here you will spend more time in your homes. Why not have them freshly decorated and attractive looking? Do not wait till Spring to have your painting and decorating done. We can give you a better price on work done now than we can in the Spring when we are always rushed. Talk the matter over with us.

Flesherton Fair is Best in History

The year 1927 will go down as the best year up to this time in the history of the Society, as the fair on Friday last had the largest attendance and gate receipts of any fair for the past thirty-seven years. There was a large entry of horses, cattle, sheep and swine and the improved yard for the latter classes was very beneficent to the exhibitors in displaying their stock. The exhibit of poultry this year was away above that of former years with exhibitors from Durham, Honeywood and, Clarksburg, besides local birds, taking up a large part of the show.

Among the features of the fair that received special attention was the visit of an airplane owned by Harry E. Tegart of Toronto and piloted by Mr. Colley of Toronto. He did a rushing business during the afternoon in taking up passengers, charging five dollars for each trip. Women took advantage of the opportunity as well as the men and enjoyed the experience immensely. The pilot also gave an exhibition of stunt flying that was thrilling to watch.

Eight schools took part in the parade to the grounds from market square, the Swinton Park Pipe Band leading. Rock Mills won first place, Eugenia second and Springhill third, with Proton, Ceylon, 8th line, Stone's Line and Flesherton schools also in parade. Springhill also took the prize for the best decorated school, the same decorations as those at the school fair being used.

The softball tournament for girls was an attraction that was well attended, the Orioles from Clarksburg taking first money and Dundalk second. Flesherton, Chatsworth, Markdale and Kimberley also taking part in the contest.

The drawing contest for farm teams proved to be one of the exciting features of the afternoon, but was not decided at the time, owing to there being some difference of opinion with regard to the weight of one of the teams, but the matter will be statisfactorily adjusted.

Wm. Parks of Heathcote took first place with a fine heavy draught team with Cliff Hutchinson of Markdale in second place. The Agricultural class was well filled with Neil McLeod of Swinton Park, R. M. Londry, Clarksburg, and Andrew Hincks of Priceville taking the prizes. In the General Purpose class Joshua Brinkman of Meaford took first place with W. Hussey of Alliston in second place. Harold Dawn of Heathcote won first with his team in the Carriage class and Ade McDougall took first in the single driver, with H. Dawn second. Frank Taylor and T. H. Wilson of Markdale divided the honors in the Roadster class, team and single driver. Capt. R. J. Hall of Millbank was the judge for horses and his was no easy task to make awards, the showing this year being of a fine order.

The showing of cattle also was larger than for some years. The Shorthorn class especially having keen competition between John Flynn, Ed. Littlejohns,, F. Taylor and J. I. Graham. Percy Sims of Markdale was the only exhibitor in the Polled Angus class, his fine animals showing up well. Chas. Moore of Victoria Corners and Harry Baker of Vandeleur divided the prizes in the Holstein class with their excellent herds, while F. R. Boland of Vandeleur had a fine herd of Herefords, taking all the prizes in that class. The grade classes for both beef and dairy were well filled with some fine animals.

Leicester sheep were exhibited by Frank Spearing of Batteau; Shproshire sheep by Batty Bros., Meaford, and Oxford Downs by W. J. Meads of Flesherton and Edgar Betts of Osprey.

E. Betts took all prizes for Yorkshire pigs except for boar, first prize being taken by Albert Sparks.

Mr. J. A. Cockburn of Puslinch awarded the prizes in the cattle, sheep and hog classes.

One of the finest exhibits was that shown in the hall. There never was as much baking and domestic science as was exhibited this year, and the flower show was equally noteworthy of mention. The ladies' work was about the same as other years. The roots and vegetables was also of excellent quality, although the year was not well suited to root growing. T. W. Findlay had a fine exhibit of furniture in the south end of the building that received a great amount of attention. Robt. Cunningham of Tara judged the grain and roots, Mrs. R. Faris of Bradford the dairy and domestic science and Mrs. E. Stewart of Midland the ladies' work.

Over eighteen hundred entries were made this year by the one hundred and ten exhibitors.

It has been said that the school fairs would detract from the success of the larger fair, which would shortly disappear. This year we notice a number of young people showing, who are some of the largest exhibitors in the school fairs. Their interest continues to the larger fair with larger prizes.

With a few well chosen words Mr. F. R. Oliver, M.P.P., opened the fair, wishing all those present to enjoy themselves with the many special attractions offered.

Since this year's fair has gone "over the top" so successfully this year let us all commence to boost the fair for next year. Make it bigger and better than ever.

Joshua Brinkman won most of the specials in the General Purpose class with T. H. Wilson in the light horse class. For best lady driver T. H. Wilson took first place with A. McDougall second.

THE CONCERT

The concert in the evening was a decided success, the proceeds being nearly forty dollars in excess of last year and over one hundred ahead of two years ago, showing that the fair oncert is also forging ahead. The contest of plays between Holland Centre and Flesherton created quite a lot of comment with Flesherton finally winning first place with their play entitled "The Rough Diamond." Holland Centre was a close second with their play "Squaring it With The Boss," some very fine acting shown in it also. It is generally conceded that the dance competition was much closer thatn the play, this being for the community that could produce the best set of old time square dancers, old time music and callers. The judges had a hard time to determine a winner, owing to the fact thta there were some musical instruments used that were not in use in the olden times, and one of the sets used a tune never heard of until a few years ago. They finally decided in favor of Bognor for first place, Swinton Park for second place and Ceylon for third. The judges were Messrs. John McKee, Wm. Kaitting and Jas. Davidson.

The program was made complete by a reading by Mrs. J. T. Ruthven, which was well rendered and received a hearty applause. Perhaps the part which took the fancy of the large audience was the step-dancing of the Misses Ruthyen and McDonald, and both received loud applause when finished. These people deserve a special vote of thangs for so willingly coming and helping in the program.

The skati[illegible]k was an ideal place for the concert, as when fully seated, it will hold well over one thousand people, seven hundred attended the concert that evening.

LONG PHONE CALL

The 'phone call to Dellas, Texas, mentioned in last week's Hearld wasn't the "long distance" record for the local "central." Some weeks ago a call came through the local office from Los Angeles, California, to the Sprott's at Badgeros. This is an almost unbelievable distance for the human voice to be trasmitted and it goes to show the wonders of the present age. From Los Angeles to Badjeros as the crow flies, the distance is 2225 miles and by wire at least a third of that distance could be added, making this conversation 3000 miles long.—Dundalk Herald.
