

Other Features

Other pleasing features of the day were greetings from the Children's Aid Society by Mrs. S. Abbey, from the federal W. I. representative, Mrs. J. Henderson, from the agricultural fair board by Mrs. J. E. Miller, and from the Women's Institute in bonnie Scotland by Mrs. J. M. Myles, of Stair, Ayrshire.

Several resolutions were brought in by the convener of the resolutions committee, Mrs. W. H. Hamilton some of which the delegates voted to send on to the area convention, others to be dealt with in the district. Reports on hospital work in charge of the W. I. were given by Mrs. J. Findlay for Arnprior, and Mrs. W. Galbraith for Renfrew.

At the beginning of the day, silent tribute was given by the entire body to members of South Renfrew Institute who had been called to higher service during the year, namely Mrs. John Crozier, Mrs. H. B. Frood, Mrs. Stanley Mayhew and Mrs. Alonzo Wright. And at its close, warm commendation was expressed, by unanimous vote, of the loyal and untiring work of the two chief officers, Mrs. C. D. Dewar and Mrs. R. Muilin, both of whom retired from office this year. Mrs. R. M. McGregor, of Lochwinnoch, first vice-president, was elected to succeed Mrs. Dewar, and Mrs. W. H. Hamilton, of Glasgow, was chosen secretary-treasurer for the coming year.
