It gives us great pleasure on this the ocrasion of the relebration of the 60th wedding anniversary, to extend to you our hearty congratulations and best wishes. Mr. Phillips, we appreciate the long years of loyal, faithful service you have rendered to Christ and your Church. To-day you and your dear wife enjoy a privilege which is given to only a few, that of spending so many years of matrimonial life together. We pray that the dear Lord, who has spared you both through all these years, may give you many more happy days together in your home and in the community in which you are held in the highest esteem. Mr. Phillips, yoo have the honor of being the oldest member of our church, and one who has proved loyal to it in all stages of its spiritual life. Words fail us in expressing our gratitude for your service and also in extending congratulations. We beg of you to accept this token of your church's appreciation, not for its value in currency, but because of your loyalty to its teaching. In the closing years of life may it continue to be "a lamp unto your feet, a light unto your pathway."

Signed on behalf of the Rock Mills Baptist Church,

—W. Akitt, A. Blackburn, A. English, Deacon's Board.

A very impressive address accompanied the gifts from the family:

Dear Father and Mother—

We, your family, have gathered here this afternoon, to take this opportunity to express our heartiest congratulations. You have to-day completed sixty years of married life. It is seldom that couples are favored with such a long life of married bliss, happiness and usefulness. We belong to a younger generation, more accustomed to the things of life in their plenty and ease, as compared to your younger days when life was more arduous and strenuous. We wish to congratulate you on your happiness and success. Both of you have lived for your family and friends, some of whom live around you and will have your noble example of consideration for others. We ask you to accept these gifts as a token of your faith-may be spared for many years, to fulness and pray that both of you enjoy life amongst us.

—Your loving Family.
