OIL LAYED THE DUST

Alliston people have had an object lesson in oiling the streets this season which they will likely tuck away in their memories with pleasure for use another year. The streets of this town were thoroughly oiled by use of the most approved machinery. Today, notwithstanding all the rain that has fallen, these streets are still oiled and when sunshine makes dust out in the township there is none in town. Last year a commercial dust layer was used. A couple of rains obliterated the substance and dissolved the money spent in the unsatisfactory purchase. Not only is there no dust now; there is a solid clean rock surface. Don't frget all these conditions, Mr. Councillors, next summer when the dust nuisance comes up for consideration.—Alliston Herald.

OSPREY COUNCIL

Osprey oCuncil met at Singhampton on July 14. All members present. Minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

W. W. Christie, Engineer on the Weatherall Municipal Drain attended to assist in the letting of the contract on the above drain. Only one tender was received, however and it was decided on motion of Mr. Grummett, seconded by Mr. Clark that the time for letting the contract on the Wetherall Drain be extended to the date of the next regular meeting and that the Clerk be instructed to advertise for tenders.

Accounts were passed as follows: Miscellaneous—$101.53; Road Act.—$6026.43.

The Council adjourned to meet at Maxwell on Saturday, August 11th at 2 p.m.

A PECULIAR PET

Ellis Dryer, a young Elora lad, while out fishing last week, found two baby skunks playing about in a field, and caught both of them. Needless to say the mother of the two youngsters was nowhere around when he made the capture. He took them to his home with the idea of making pets of them, but one, unused to the ways of civilization, died over the week end The other, however, is thriving and rapidly becoming accustomed to his strange surroundings, and bids fair to become as good a pet as a cat or dog.—Grand Valley Star.

LAUREL AND MARKDALE CARS COLLIDE

Clarence Hill, of Markdale, and his father, Tho. Hill were injured in a motor accident which occurred about 7:30 o'clock on Saturday night on the provincial highway a mile north of Shelburne and Miss M. W. Grosskurth and her mother, Mrs. Grosskurth, of Laurel, were badly shaken up and bruised. Mr. Hill, who was driving a Ford coupe was travelling north, and was in the act of passing a car in front of him, apparently not noticing that another car, travelling south, was coming. Before he could do anything to avoid an accident his own car and that driven by Miss Grosskurth collided headon.

Mr. Thos. Hill, who was with his son went right through the windshield and landed on the hood of the other car but escaped with some minor cuts about the head, while Clarence Hill was cut in the face with flying glass. His car was completely wrecked, and rendered useless. Miss Grosskurth was also cut a little about the face, but her mother escaped with slight bruises and shock, although the Star coach, which they were driving was put out of commission.—Dundalk Herald.

Winnipeg Flier Killed at Wasaga as Plane Hit Tree

Ralph Brown, aged 23 of Winnipeg, Man., was instantly killed at Wasaga Beach last Thursday afterrpon, when a plane, of which he was piloting crashed into a tree. It seems that the plane hit an air pocket at a good distance from the ground and started to descend. Upon nearing the ground the engine failed to assert and struck a tree. Dr. W. E. Tisdale of Toronto extricated the boy from the wreck, and 15 minutes afterwards pronounced him as dead. He had just secured his pilot's certificate at Camp Borden, where he was a student, only a few days before his fatal accident.

"Battleship Grey" for 1929 Markers

After a series of exeperiments, the Ontario Department of Highways has decided on colors for the automotive license in 1929. They will have a battleship grey background, with black letters and figures. There was a strong tendency to repeat the colors used this year, but it was thought this would result in confusion.
