Gusts of Wind at Lake Tahoe.

Lake Tahoe, in California, is subject to tremendous gusts of wind, which rush down the surrounding gorges of the mountain.

Not long since a party were fishing from a pier in the lake when their attention was attracted by a great roaring, and they saw a regular cyclone approaching. Before the hurricane came a long, unbroken wave, at least fifteen feet in height. Knowing that this would sweep the whole line of the pier, all present beat a hasty retreat to the shore.

When at a safe distance they turned to gaze upon the scene. While thus employed they were startled by a tremendous roaring to the northward, and a moment afterward a cyclone from that direction struck the lake. This sent before it a huge wave which had soon attained the height of the one coming from the southward.

In a few minutes the two waves came together. When they struck, a column of water and spray was sent into the air to the height of at least one hundred feet. The collision of the two waves was followed by a loud report that sounded like a heavy clap of thunder. One moment after this grand meeting of the waters five or six huge waterspouts made their appearance, all within an area of three or four miles, and carried great columns of water and spray to the height of several hundred feet. After about 15 minutes of this elemental warfare the lake became calm.

General Harney in a Hurry.

The following comical story is told of Gen. Harney when he was in command at Camp Necce, Texas. He was an intensely dignified officer, and if there was one thing he detested more than another it was undignified haste. One evening, just as he was about to hold a dress parade, he perceived that he had forgotten his handkerchief, and as the weather was very hot, he said to his orderly: "Go to my quarters, quick, and bring my handkerchief." The orderly touched his cap, and started for the quarters, several hundred yards distant. After he had proceeded a short distance, remembering that there was no time to lose, he broke into a trot.

"See that scoundrel running as if the Indians were after him. If there is anything I hate it is to see a soldier running instead of marching properly. Here my man," continued Harney to another soldier, "go after that fellow and tell him I say to walk."

The second soldier started after the first, but as the first kept on running the second one saw his only chance to deliver the message was to hurry up, so he, too, broke into a run. To say that Harney swore is to use but a mild expression.

"Here, Sergeant, go after that man and tell him if he don't stop running I'll hang him by the thumbs."

The Sergeant started out in a brisk walk, but as his predecessor had a good start, he too, began to run as hard as he could.

"If all three of the scoundrels ain't running like jack rabbits!" ejaculated Harney. "I'll show 'em," and tucking his sword under his arm, he started in pursuit as fast as he could run, but suddenly remembering his dignity he came to a halt, and walked stiffly and slowly back to the place where the dress parade was to come off.—Siftings.

NEW VILLAGE.—A village rejoicing in the name of Westbank, is springing up on the town-line between Luther and Proton where the road crosses the Grand River, being exactly midway between Bell's Corners and Shelburne. Two nice frame stores and a saw mill have been erected and are in full operation, whilst Mr. John Hammond has let the contract for the erection of a two-story tavern. Mr. W. McMillan of Mount Forest has purchased a piece of ground on the River bank as a sight for a cabinet factory and on the opposite side of the road Mr. John Livingstone is hauling timber for a black-smith shop. A post-office will be opened in the early part of November, the mails coming by way of Luther village. The survey of line of the Alisten and Mount Forest branch of the Northern Railway passes within forty rods of the village and should the line ever be built it is very probable that Westbank will be favoured with a station. $15,000 worth of logs were bought in this vicinity last winter by lumbermen from Fergus, Elora, Breslau and Galt, and it is expected that the coming winter will see three times as many logs floating down the Grand River, so that there is every prospect of a good future for the village of Westbank.—Advocate.

The little town of Axminster, Devonshire, England, became famous by reason of its carpets in 1755. They were woven in one piece, but until 1839 this involved so much time that it caused them to be few in number and enormously expensive. In that year it occurred to Mr. Templeton, a Paisley shawl manufacturer, that the process adopted in weaving chenille shawls might be applied to Axminster carpets, and this greatly reduced their price, although they are yet very costly. The firm of Templeton & Co., of Glasgow, still do nearly all the weaving by hand. They have designing establishments in London and Glasgow, where nearly one hundred persons are employed. They are now making a carpet for the library at the White House and some for Mr Vanderbilt. They some time since made for the King of Siam a carpet 100 feet by 54. Its centre was a three headed white elephant. A carpet made for the King of Denmark as a present to the Mikado represented a menagerie. One 74 by 52, woven for the Sultan was valued at $6,000.

The Chicago & G. Trunk has just received ten of the largest and most powerful passenger engines in the county. They are supplied with the extended smoke arch and are said to be perfect smoke consumers, no smoke whatever being emitted from the funnel, thereby doing away with the unpleasantness experienced by travellers on account of cinders and smoke.

A. Chard, of Sterling, in a recent letter, states that he met with an accident some time ago, by which one of his knees was severely injured. A few applications of Hagyards Yellow Oil afforded immediate and complete relief. c244

THE MORAL CONDITION OF CHICAGO.—Chicago has 300 churches against 5,242 liquor Saloons; 400 clergymen, evangelists, and lay-readers, and 5,000 bar-tenders; only a half dozen art galleries, and 350 variety theatres. Out of 100,000 buildings, 8,000 are used for immoral purposes; $1,500,000 is spent for schools, $15,000,000 for liquor; $800,000 for police, perhaps $1,000,000 for religious worship and charities; $15,000,000 for that which destroys both soul and body.—The Chicago Inter-Ocean.

A Big Investment.

G. M. Everest, of Forest, states that Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam still holds its own amongst the many cough medicines in the market. He says that he has sold it for nearly sixteen years and the sales are steadily increasing. One family has purchased over 50 bottles for various members and friends. c244

DEATH OF A SNAKE TAMER.—The Calcutta Englishman publishes a report of the death of a snake-charmer at Puddoopookur, entirely through over confidence in his power of handling with impunity a good-sized cobra. The reptile, it appears, was discovered in a shop by some natives, who were about to take measures for destroying it, when a man named Ghose, well known as a professional snake-charmer, asked them not to do so, and volunteered to tame and subdue it. He had managed to seize its head with one hand and its tail with the other, after the fashion of his tribe, and was in the act of putting it into an earthern "chally," when the snake suddenly turned and bit him on the left thumb. Even then the man refused to be taken to the hospital or to be treated surgically, saying that he could cure himself by the use of a remedy known as mantras. This he repeated, but his efforts proved unavailing, and he finally expired about an hour and a half after the moment of the bite.

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual remedy yet discovered for diseases caused by derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and effectual treatment. AYER'S PILLS are specially applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these PILLS are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they compel to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.
