Ontario Legislature to Open Earlier in 1929

The Ontario Legislature will open Monday, January 30th, next, as compared with Thursday, February 9th, the opening date of this year's session. It will be the third session of Ontario's 17th Legislature, and it is hoped to finish all business by Good Friday(March 29th).

The Government side will be one man stronger, due to the election of Foster G. Moffat (Conservative) over Malcolm A. McMallum (Progressive) in the South Bruce by-election last June. Two other members-elect are Controller Wm. Morrison, Conservative, East Hamilton, and Ed. A. Dunlop, Conservative North Renfrew, also by-election winners.

Legislation to be considered includes an Old Age Pension Act, act to regulate real estate brokers and salesmen, and to make policing of municipalities by the provincial force optional with counties and districts. A bill establishing a Provincial Racing Commission may be introduced by Provincial Treasurer Monteith.

The Department of Health, it is understood, has abandoned for this session its plan to bring control of native wine manufacture within its jurisdiction. No new hospitals bill will come from the Provincial Secretary's Department.

One law to which numerous amendments may be made this session is the Game and Fisheries Act.

W. H. Thurston & Son.—

Dear Friends:-

Just a line or two to wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Well Mr. Thurston we are having splendid weather. We have had real threshing weather this fall; no delay to speak of, and no snow yet, except a few minutes last night. The cars run just like summer and lots of cattle and horses have not been in the stable yet this fall. The ground is frozen about two inches. There is one thing the Canadian people and English speaking race regret so much in Saskatchewan is the foreigners that talk German all the time. If we don't get a change of government and stop this race of people from coming to the west, there will be another war very shortly so I would like to see you people wake up and stop such trouble in the world.

FINE BUNCH OF TURKEYS

Mrs. Ronald Cameron of Lions Head was in town on Tuesday with as fine a bunch of dressed turkeys as we have laid eyes upon for a long time. There were 24 birds in the lot, weighing 364 pounds making an average of 15 pounds each. We did not learn the price she secured, for she did not know, herself. They were addressed to James Malcolm, M.P., of Kincardine and were expressed to him on the simple faith that she would get a fair market value for them. These Scotch folk seem to have a lot of faith in those Scotch folk, haven't they? Mr. Malcolm, whilst in the north, some time ago, saw the birds on the hoof and insisted that Mrs. Cameron should let him have them when the Christmas season came around, as he had quite an extensive list of employees to whom his kindnesses are extended around the Christmas season.

SMITH — McFADDEN

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at St. John's United Church parsonage on Saturday afternoon, December 22nd, when Miss Cora Evelyn, the second daughter of Mrs. and the late J. A. McFadden, was united in marriage to Mr. Leslie M., youngest son of Mrs. and the late Alexander Smith of Singhampton. Rev. Jos. Harrower officiated. The happy young couple left for a short honeymoon after which they will reside on the groom's farm, east of Maxwell.

We, along with a host of friends, wish the young couple much happiness and joy during the coming years.

The Spirit of Christmas

Of all the days of the year, we could not, we would not give up Christmas. Every nation in the world pagan or Christian, must do something to carry through the spirit of Christmas. We need to have a great deal of sympathy for the millions of workers who are forcing their fingers a little faster and walking a good few steps more and trying to crowd an extra hour into the day to make yours a real merry Christmas. How busy have been the wooden toy makers in Switzerland. Even men in German prisons are busy, and the girls of Japan and China, and the candy and biscuit makers of Britain, also Canada and U. S. wireless, telegraph, steamers, liners, railroads, motor trucks, aeroplanes, all are under the sovereign rule of Father Christmas, helping him out in a thousand ways. Oh, the many bundles of love hidden away in secret places to bring a joyous shriek on Christmas morn. How wonderful it is that all the world should be blessed so with Christmas.

It would be an empty, grumpy world and so many hearts sad without it. It would be the slackest time of all the year for business men whereas now there is such a merry exchange of money with the golden flow of goodwill, and not one trade, but every trade, is helped along. This is the finest thing that could happen to any of us. To cause us to be glad making others glad. It is the final tribute that Christianity makes for who don't believe in a better world, are working real hard at the task just now, and we say God bless them! I have just finished reading Mother India, by Katharine May, and you do want the inner meaning, the inner India's ignorance and her shameless cruelties to motherhood. Christmas has given new sanctities to mother and child because of this birthday of the Christ Babe born in a crude stable which was lit with the glory light of Heaven. Let daddy put his arms around mother and smile down on sonny and sis and breathe a prayer that others may be as blessed and happy as they and the best of Christmas blessings are yours. Let the Christmas cheer be everywhere. Not riotously drunken, for that saddens the Christmas joy —but the real fun of pulling crackers—wearing paper caps, where all the family romps, with nuts and candies aplenty, and even the baby can giggle his merry Christmas. That you may all be very happy indeed is my best wish for you.—Wiarton Echo.

December "Blue Bell" employees' magazine of The Bell Telephone Co., of Canada, records the promotion to a still more important position in the telephone service of G. W. Rispin, an old Orangeville boy. Mr. Rispin becomes Toll Line Inspector Central Division.—Orangeville Sun.
