WEAK HEART
SYSTEM WAS RUN DOWN

When the heart is healthy and performing its functions naturally, it should beat regularly seventy-two times a minute without causing its owner the slightest inconvenience or distress.

When it begins to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitate and throb, skip beats, beat fast for a time, then so slow as to seem almost to stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm.

The least excitement or exertion seems to affect it.

Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through unnatural action of their heart.

To all such sufferers
MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS
can give prompt and permanent relief. Mrs. F. Fletcher, Sault Ste. Marie, West, Ont., says: "I have been troubled for four or five years with weakness, and run down system. My feet were always cold and I felt almost dead. My heart was weak and I was so nervous I could hardly walk across the street. I started taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after using three boxes I felt much better. I continued their use until I had taken twelve boxes and I am now well."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

HE SAW A SPECTRE

STRANGE APPARITION APPEARS TO BRIDEGROOM.

He Recognizes It as His Mother—She Had Opposed His Marriage—Bride's Mother Hears Spectre Talk.

London, April 2.—The freaks of a so-called spectre are alarming a hamlet some forty miles from Cardiff, says the London Mail. The ghost has been paying unwelcome attentions to a well-known inhabitant of the hamlet who was recently married.

The trouble commenced by his finding himself lying on his bedroom floor beside his bed one morning. Naturally he put this down to nightmare. The morning after, however, on awaking, he found himself at the other end of the room, and he then became somewhat uneasy. His wife on both occasions had slept peacefully.

The third night, however, both kept awake, and their vigil was rewarded by a sight of their mysterious visitor, who appeared shortly after the traditional hour of midnight. A trustworthy correspondent ascertained from the victim that the spirit took the form of his own mother, who is still alive and well. He says that his mother opposed his marriage with the lady of his choice very strongly, and he thinks that the nocturnal visits are acts of revenge.

In order to drive forth the unwelcome intruder, the victim persuaded several of his male friends to remain in his house one night, but although the ghost appeared as usual, to the young man, his wife, and his mother-in-law, the other watchers were quite unable to discern the strange presence.

The young man's mother-in-law declares that on one occasion she approached the spectre, who said, quite distinctly, "Well, what do you want?" She also also says that she temporarily lost the power of the right side of her body at the meeting.

The victim declares that the spirit has several times accompanied him part of the way to the village, where he is engaged as a collier. His comrades are greatly perturbed by the frequent appearance of the spectre, and believe firmly in the victim's veracity. The vicar of the parish and several others have visited the house and tried in vain to elucidate the mystery.

Moved, Sleeth-Barr, and resolved, that these accounts be paid: J. Smith, $5, for wood for hall; E. Ames, $5, for repairs on Dog Lake bridge; S. Anglin, $4.68 for lumber. Moved, Bruce-Barr, and resolved, that the auditors' report be adopted, that 100 copies of report be printed; also that auditors receive their salaries. Moved, Sleeth-Barr, and resolved that A. On The Verge.

S. E. Kiser in Chicago Record-Herald.

Here upon the verge we stand,
Looking where the future lies;
What about the things you planned—
All the brave things and the grand?
Can you, as the old year dies,
View the past without a pang?
Ere the bells begin to clang
Take one backward look and then
Bravely face ahead again—
Face ahead and stretch a hand
To the brother halting there,
Or the sister in despair!
Still the arching skies expand,
Still our land's a christian land,
And the future opens fair—
On the splendid verge we stand.
