Miss Macphail Was Visitor At Buffalo

Ottawa, April 6, 1929

On my way back to Ottawa I went for a couple of days to attend the Fellowship of Reconciliatoin Conference. The Fellowship is a group of people of any denomination, race, nationality or class, working to reconcile differences in the industrial and international field.

The Conference was most interesting and enjoyable. Instead of speakers and a silent audience, a leader would outline a problem, and the group discuss it. One could hear and feel thought developing, the thought of the group being wiser than the thought of any individual in it.

Dr. Harry Laidler, author of several books on Social Reconstruction, and Vice-President of The League of Industrial Democracy, led the discussion on "Its strife in Industry Inevitable." He is considered a foremost authority on industrial questions, equally familiar with British and American conditions. I appreciated his vast knowledge and love of humanity.

A young professor, William Nunn of the University of Pittsburg, told with force and fine irony, his experiences of the strike of the coal miners in Pennyslvania. He told how the courts and state troopers were on the mine owner's side, that even Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers, did not play fair with his men—that is not the first time I have heard of Mr. Lewis'methods. Several closed towns were to be found in the mining area. The Company owns the town, the houses, stores, etc., and in the time of a strike the company closes the town, allowing only those who have permits to leave or enter. Mr. Nunn believes that too many coal mines were opened up during the war with the result that even the luckiest miner in UnitedStates works, on the average, only half the working days. The unlucky chap goes hungry.

Wilbur Thomas, Quaker, who was for ten years administrator of the Friends' Relief Fund in Europe, lead the discussion on the International situation. In his opinion Poland is the dangerous spot in Europe, and France with her satellites — Poland being one— is throwing an iron band around Germany. He believes Great Britain is the natural ally of Germany, rather than France. He was outspoken in his belief that the Soviet Government of Russia should be recognized by the United States. His testimony of the recovery of Russia was identical with that of our own Colonel Mackie, Ex.-M.P. (Conservative.)

In the opinion of the group the lowering of tariffs the world over and the complete, if gradual, disarmament, were steps which should be at once begun. They expressed a great friendship for Britain and they believe that any trouble between the Anglo-Saxon peoples unthinkable. The four Canadians present were treated as honored guests and friends. Every one stressed the need of each person doing everthing possible to spread truth, uproot predjudice, and insure peace. It was a heartening experience.

Father Boland who presided on the second night, told us a good Irish joke. An Irishman one day stopped the Father on the street,-"I know Father what Shrove Tuesday is, and I know what Ash Wednesday is, but tell me what is this Nut Sundae (Sunday) I hear so much about?

Have you heard of the Robot? He is a mechanical man. I went to see him in Buffalo. His inventor is Capt. W. H. Richards of London, England, who is oddly enough a journalist, not an electrical engineer. The Robot was on display in Edwards' Furniture Store. Mr. Richards calls him Eric Robot. It or he looks like a man in armour, and is made of aluminum, electric motors and wire, but when he is told to he stands up, sits down, bows, salutes the flag, answers questions, or when he does not know the answer, says very slowly and distinctly, "I do not know." He gives the correct time when asked, and he answered O.K. to the question, "How do you like Buffalo?" He told us he was nine months' old, and that he was made in London, England. The talking part is on the same principle as the phonograph. The new thing is that the sound sets the machinery to work but knowing that, I thought it a most weird and uncanny sort of thing. It made me wonder "what next?" What will happen the men who will be displaced by the Robots when they are perfected. To that question Eric answeed, "I do not know",—nor do I.

I regret to have made an error in my writing of the Sun Life's bill last week. Next week I will give the facts of the case. I had no desire to misrepresent the Sun Life Company on their bill.

We expect the vote on the Budget will come tomorrow.

AGNES C. MACPHAIL.

Chevrolet Demonstration

From the famous "Bluenose" fishing fleets of Lunenburg and the iron mines of Sydney to the logging camps of British Columbia is a far cry. Yet the several hundred people who were fortunate to gain admittance to the special Chevrolet Chassis lecture and demonstration held in the new town hall on Monday evening, viewed these scenes and many more from the length and breadth of the Dominion, illustrative of the nation's vast natural resources and scenic wonders.

"Chevrolet Across Canada" is the title of the highly educational moving picture which was specially taken for the Chevrolet otor Company of Canada and was shown here under the auspices of D. McTavish & Son, local dealers.

Following the moving picture film, an interesting and instructive descriptive description of the inner workings of the new Chevrolet Six was acorded the audience by means of an illustrated lecture delivered by Mr. Cyril H. Schofield, of Oshawa, Chevrolet expert.

Between films Mr. Roydn McDonald favored the audience with severals axaphone selections, accompanied by Miss Jean Stuart on the piano.
