GERMANY IS MASTER

CAN DO AS IT LIKES WITHOUT FIRING A SHOT.

Change is Coming, Though—Britain is Roused, France is Pulling Herself Together and Russia is Recovering.

London, April 12.—Gradually the causes and effects of Germany's ultimatum to Russia and the fundamental changes which it has made in the situation are being disclosed. It is now known that the kaiser's sudden blow at the great empire which holds dominion over one-sixth of the world was his reply to Russia's attempt to form a hard and fast alliance between herself, Great Britain and France.

M. Isvolsky's memorable tour six months ago was for this purpose. The matter had been discussed previously between the three powers. Isvolsky encountered the first objection from France, whose government felt that she was the most exposed to attack from the common enemy, and asked if Russia would provide promptly an adequate fleet for her own defence. Russia agreed to do this.

Then Isvolsky came to London and urged that England increase her military resources. Just at this time, and when the negotiations were still in progress and when Austria had announced her repudiation of the treaty of Berlin, Germany got wind of Russia's plan. The kaiser promptly notified the three powers concerned, as Sir Edward Grey announced in his great speech last week, that Germany would regard any attempt to isolate her as a casus belli. Grey promptly yielded and refused to go on with Isvolsky's alliance scheme, and Germany gained full revenge by her humiliation of Russia a fortnight ago.

Everything combined to give Germany the whip hand of the whole situation for the time being, and she is undoubtedly master of Europe at the present moment. France was and is still half-paralyzed by the spirit of revolt among her civil servants and by other internal dissensions. Britain is under the control of a government which is willing to purchase peace at any price, notwithstanding what the future portends. Russia is in the first stages of national reorganization and for the moment is impotent. Germany, in a word, can do as she likes in Europe to-day without firing a shot. But this situation is certain to undergo a radical change. Britain is aroused as never before in this generation and the present government will not last long. France will speedily pull herself together after the solution of her internal crisis. Russia is stirred to the depths and her anger will prove the best possible stimulant for the rapid development of her enormous resources. Any definite prophecy would be absurd, but it is almost axiomatic that Russian politics will be the dominant feature of history for the next three or four years. Already there are reports of two new moves of the utmost importance by Germany. She is urging Turkey to join the triple alliance, and although English diplomatists profess no anxiety over the possible success of this scheme, it cannot be said that the new Turkish government's policy is so definitely pro-English that such a thing is impossible. Then there comes the assertion that Japan is about to renounce her treaty of alliance with Britain, and that Germany is angling at Tokio for a fresh commission in peace thereof. The New York Sun's Berlin correspondent wires that this report is fully credited in German diplomatic circles. It is pointed out that Great Britain, Russia and the United States recently made an agreement which will seriously limit Japan's political and commercial liberty of action in the far east and Japan is deeply incensed against her ally. King Edward's great peace league, in fact, is being attacked all along the line. The greatest game in history is being played and it has reached a critical stage. Will it be finished without bringing in rifles and Dreadnoughts as the deciding factors? One man's opinion is as good as another's at this juncture.

In the meantime the alarm over the naval crisis increases instead of diminishes. It was enhanced by the news that Austria is to commence the construction of four Dreadnoughts this year, which may be completed in the autumn of 1911. This will necessitate Great Britain sending a naval force to the Mediterranean and adding this number to her programme for matching German construction. The revolt is spreading in the liberal party on its naval policy. The British Weekly, an influential liberal review, publishes a vehement article denouncing Asquith for cowardice.

Dreadnought Programme.

W. T. Stead, who recently came out as a strong advocate of a big Dreadnought building programme, declares that Admiral Beresford does not support that policy, and that he is opposed to laying down eight Dreadnoughts during the current year. On the other hand, it is declared that Lord Charles says that eight are insufficient. The popular sailor himself, who has already been invited by nineteen constituencies to represent them in the House of Commons, keeps silent, although doubtless his views have been given freely and forcibly to the government. It would seem that there is considerable difference of opinion among naval officers as to whether a naval battle in the future will depend most on Dreadnoughts or torpedo boats and submarines. An expert has given an opinion that torpedo boats will go first into action, and quite possibly will be able to deal with Dreadnoughts attacking before the Dreadnoughts with which they are acting come on the scene. In the British navy just now great attention is being devoted to night work. One of the most difficult tasks of gun layers is firing at night, especially when the moon is obscured and there is anything of a sea. For some years the British navy has been exercised in these conditions, but this year greatly increased attention will be paid to firing at night. An increased allowance of ammunition has just been sanctioned for this purpose. New regulations to control night training are about to be introduced.

BLEW DOWN THE FENCES.

The Windstorm Played Havoc Around Harrowsmith.

Harrowsmith, April 12.—The wind storm of Wednesday, made considerable work for the farmers, as about all the fences in this locality were blown down. No other serious damage was done.

George Barstow, in the employ of Samuel Cowdy, having charge of his traction engine and saw, cutting up wood for the farmers, is hustling to get done, but owing to the unfavorable condition of the roads, progress is slow. As the sleighing is gone, Mr. Campsall is making the logs in his mill yard look scarce. There is not much syrup being made. E. N. Charlton and wife have returned from their honeymoon, and have taken up housekeeping in the house lately vacated by F. E. Smith, who moved to Kingston. Charles Stewart is laid up with inflamatory rheumatism. A very pleasant time was spend at the home of Miss Myrtle Gallagher, on Thursday evening, when she entertained about thirty of her friends. A little visitor arrived at Charles Hagerman's—a girl. The I.O.O.F. lodge here will hold its annual anniversary services in the afternoon of April 25th. J. T. Gallagher, M.P.P., who is attending the session of the Ontario house at Toronto, spent Sunday at home. F. R. Patterson, spending some time in Colebrook, has returned. Albert James left on Monday for Cobalt. Visitors: Miss Eva Griffith, of Toronto, at J. S. Gallagher's; Miss L. Knight, at G. A. Redmond's; Mrs. Thomas Kennedy, Cole Lake, at E. N. Charlton's; Mrs. F. Deceased had been poorly nearly all winter, but not confined to his bed. Deceased was born in Richmond township and lived all his long life within a few miles of Napanee. They are: William and Henry, on the homestead; Mrs. Carlton Woods, Roblin; Mrs. Thomas Woods, Picton; Mrs. Thomas Burley, Spokane, Wash; Ledrew and Maurice, in the west; Francis, Napanee, and Miss Della, Picton.

NASAL CATARRH

An Old Physician Says to Look For Dizziness, Frontal Headache, Stuffiness and Nose Colds.

Tells How to Cure.

Catarrh in almost every instance starts with a common cold in the head, which is added to with another cold, and because of some extra exposure or weakness of the system, it becomes chronic.

A full case of disgusting nasal and throat catarrh then develops. Unless a radical cure is effected then the disease passes rapidly to the throat, bronchial tubes and finally to the lungs.

No man or woman can ever get new lungs any more than new fingers or a new nose, but every one suffering from catarrh can get a sure cure by inhaling Catarrhozone, and this is proved after you read further.

Quick, Lasting Cure.

"After ten long years of suffering with catarrh in the throat and nose I write to tell you that I am now completely cured with Catarrhozone. What a relief it was to get that buzzing stopped in my ears, to have my nose free and easy to breathe through—what a blessing it was to get cured of droppings, catarrhal dyspepsia and bad breath. All this is the result of Catarrhozone, which I recommend everyone to use for any trouble in the throat, nose, bronchial tubes and lungs."

John McCullough,
Moosebrook, N.S.

Let Catarrhozone cure you, get the large dollar outfit which lasts two months and contain an indestructible hard rubber inhaler. Smaller sizes 25c. and 50c. each. Beware of imitations of Catarrhozone, which all reliable dealers sell, or by mail from The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

"SPRING FEVER"

The need of a spring medicine seems to be universal. This is due to the fact that during the winter the blood becomes impure on account of the hearty food eaten. This causes that tired, weary, all-gone, don't-care-to-work feeling, which is so prevalent at this time of year.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

That Tired Feeling.

Mr. F. H. Leard, Saskatoon, Sask., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a blood builder and think it an excellent remedy. Every one should take it in the spring to cure that tired feeling that comes to so many at this time of year."

Use It Every Spring.

Mr. H. Langley, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a spring tonic, and I find it the best thing I can take. It builds me right up and I use it every spring. It is excellent for the blood."
