THE NEED OF THE HOUR.

Sir Robert Borden's Appeal for Harvest Workers.

An appeal to the people of Canada, to the great industries, banks, commercial institutions and employers generally to assist in providing labor to garner in the harvest has been issued by Sir Robert Borden. Owing to many representations to the Government with respect to the shortage of labor for harvesting operations the Prime Minister called a meeting of transportation companies and of several other important bodies for the purpose of arranging as far as possible for the provision and transportation of labor to those portions of the country where it is most needed for gathering the harvest. At that meeting representatives were present on behalf of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, the Grand Trunk Railway, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, the Canadian Northern Railway Company, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Canadian Bankers' Association, and the Imperial Munitions Board. In the absence of Mr. R. B. Bennett the National Service Board was represented by its secretary, Mr. Peterson. The Ministers of Trade and Commerce, Railways and Canals, Labor, Militia and Defence, the Interior and Agriculture were also present.

The following appeal has been issued by the Prime Minister in pursuance of suggestions made at the meeting:

"The Government has received from many quarters urgent representations as to the need of arranging for the provision and transportation of labor necessary for gathering the harvest in some portions of the country, especially the Province of Ontario and the Prairie Provinces. An urgent appeal is made to the people of Canada for assistance and co-operation to meet this very urgent need. It is vitally necessary that no portion of the approaching harvest shall be lost through it. That harvest is required for the sustenance of the men who are fighting the battle of civilization and humanity in every theatre of war, it is necessary also for the sustenance of our own population and the people of all the allied nations. The time during which the harvest can be gathered is very brief, the necessary labor must, then, be available, for the work cannot be performed at any other time.

"There are many other industries of the highest importance for the purpose of winning the war, but in almost all these industries work can be carried on during twelve months of the year. The Government appeals for every possible effort by the great industries of the country, by the banks, by commercial institutions, and by all employers of labor to assist and co-operate. To those who are employed in industries other than agriculture the Government appeals for such co-operation and aid as will ensure that all available labor for this most essential need shall be forthcoming. There is in Canada abundance of human energy to ensure the gathering in full of the approaching harvest without materially interfering with other essential industries. By the good-will and co-operation of all our people that most vital and essential purpose can be fully secured. We appeal also to the women of Canada who can assist by supplying the places of those who leave their employment to take part in harvesting. The Government is confident that its appeal to the Canadian people for this great purpose will not be in vain."

Lacrosse Player Honored.

One of the best known lacrosse players in Canada has proved that he is as fine a performer in the national game of the moment as he was for many years in the Dominion's national game. Corporal Guy Smith of Cornwall learned to play lacrosse in the Factory Town, and he played for several seasons with the Cornwall team. When the Big Four was in existence, Guy Smith moved to Toronto to play with the Tecumsehs. He proved a hard working and aggressive player and soon became a favorite with the Toronto fans. He enlisted early in the war, and distinguished himself by such signal bravery in the Battle of the Somme last September that he has been awarded a military medal. During the Summe battle Corporal Smith lead a charge that resulted in the capture of several guns and 128 prisoners. For some time past the lacrosse player has been a patient at the Cottage Hospital, Southport, England, recovering from wounds, and the medal was pinned on his breast in that instituion by Colonel Burns Gemmill, in command of the First Western General Hospital, Fazakerley.

Mild Irony.

When his detachment came to relieve a small advance party on the firing line, somewhere on the western front, Lieut. N. naturally took possession of the only shelter he could find—a sort of hut rudely contrived by his predecessor amid the blackened and battered ruins of one of the houses in that blasted village, still swept night and day by a furious tempest of shot and shell. The only roof was a piece of tin torn and riddled with bullet holes, while inside a pile of muddy straw did duty as a couch. Over the straw hung a bit of chain, and fastened to the chain was a scrap of paper upon which was scrawled in the handwriting of the former tenant these words: "Alarm bell. Do not pull the cord except in case of danger."

High Cost of Suicide.

Harry—And what changed your mind about committing suicide? Was it some spiritual message?

Carrie—Naw; I'd a had to put another quarter in the gas meter.

24,592 Western Farmers Enlisted.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—According to the records of the Militia Department 45,794 farmers have enlisted in the Canadian Expeditionary Forces up to June 30th last. Of these 24,592, or almost as many harvesters as are now required for this year's crop, came from the western provinces. This information was given to the House by the Minister of Militia, in reply to a question by W. A. Buchanan (Medicine Hat.)

It pays better to be a dentist than an oculist. A man has 32 teeth and only two eyes.

Send in War Letters.

Letters and photographs from soldiers and sailors, describing the progress of the great struggle for the liberty of the world, have had a welcome place in the Whig's pages since the war began. When desired, the letters and photos are returned to the friends who supply them. All such contributions will be gladly received by the Whig. Any personal or private passages in such letters will be carefully excluded from the published account.
