Alex. Morrison Passes

After a lengthy illness Alexander Morrison passed away on Friday evening, May 24th, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Morrison, of Osprey Ttownship, in his 44th year. The deceased had been a patient sufferer for some time and four months ago underwent an operation in the Toronto General Hospital and was later taken to the Durham hospital, where he was nursed by his sister, Miss Ethel Morrison, R. N. When it was seen that he could not recover he wished to be taken to his parental home, where he passed peacefully away on Friday evening. While at home he was nursed by his sister, Hazel.

Fifteen years ago he was married to Miss Mary Brown of Dromore, who survives, and to them were born nine children, seven of whom are now living. Besides his wife and children he is survived by his parents, eight sisters and two brothers: Ella (Mrs. Findlay) Owen Sound; Emma, at home; Ethel, in Durham; Tena (Mrs. D. Henry) Toronto; Lizzie (Mrs. Kendall) Osprey; Minnie (Mrs. Turnbull) Smiley, Sask.; Elsie (Mrs. F. Barber) Flesherton; Hazel (Mrs. Majdic) New York; John, Vancouver, and Ernie of Osprey, all of whom, with the exception of Minnie and John were home when he passed away.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon, May 27th, when Rev. Mr. Mills of McIntyre had charge of the short service held at his parental home and also at the graveside. Interment took place at Amos Cemetery, Dromore. By request two of his favorite hymns were sung: "Hold Thou My Hand" and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

The pallbearers were: Alex Findlay, Wm. Kendall, Fred Barber, Thos. Brown, John Brown and John Menary.

The floral tributes were beautiful and were presented by the wife and family, parents, sisters and brothers, Menary family, of Toronto, Durham hospital staff, Mr. and Mrs. Standon of Durham, Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Sims of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Seelev, Owen Sound, Annie Keith of Toronto and Jean Henry of Florida.

A large number of friends and relatives from Toronto and other points assembled to pay their respects and sympathize with the sorrowing relatives.

Nephew Killed In Airplane Crash

Particulars were received last week by Mr. Wm. Caswell of the death of his nephew, H. A. McCallum o Calgary, which occurred on Sunday, May 19th. The deceased met death along with N. E. Stevens, when the plane in which they were flying crashed to earth following a loop-the-loop, when about five feet of one of the wings were torn off by air pressure. Both victims were membes of the Calgary Aero Club and were flying one of the club's planes.

Interesting News of Ottawa Doings

A varied menu was offered at the Commons this week, as is always the case near the end of the session. —let us hope that it is near the end.

We were to be through at Easter, then by May 1st, later by May 24th; some optimistic souls now say that we will finish by June 1st. I have no hope of getting away before June 8.

If private business were organized as the Commons is, and took as long to get things done, everybody would be bankrupt. Fortunately private business uses sensible methods.

The number of questions and orders for return regarding the liquor traffic between Canada and the United States lead me to believe we will soon have a debate on the subject. Questions regarding fish traps in Western waters; the tabling of papers regarding the dismissal of Mr. Cooper, warden of the New Westminster penitentiary reminds us that B. C. is on the west coast. I read the Senate debate on the dismissal of Mr. Cooper. It is a most amusing tale. Cooper seems to have been a good official, but his wife and the wife of the deputy warden didn't like each other. The ladies quarrelled. One wouldn't take cake when the other passed her a plate of it at tea, but took a piece of the same cake later when someone else served it—so Cooper was fired to keep the peace. I must watch that I take cake from the right person. I never realized the importance attached to it before. Isn't there an old adage "A woman is privileged to change her mind?"

War reparations are to be paid in full to those who lost up to fifteen thousand dollars. In some cases boats were lost, in other luggage, and in still others, relatives. Fifteen thousand dollars seems a fright of a lot of luggage, but not much for first class relatives. The debate is not finished yet.

The Government introduced the payment of claims four years ago, but they were violently opposed by Mr. Meighen and his followers. The Conservatives are this year supporting it. Mr. Jacobs, the witty Hebrew member from Montreal, was rather bubbing this fact in on Friday, and in doing so treated the House to the following bit of subtle sarcasm:- "I should like to read to the leader of the Opposition, (Mr. Bennett) the views of the then leader of the Opposition (Mr. Meighen) a man who, I think, at that time had the confidence of the gentlemen who sat behind him, to the same degree that the present leader of the Opposition has."

Penny stocks were by the Budget this year, more heavily taxed than high priced ones. Mr. Robb has levelled it up a bit, but according to an illustration given in the House, if one had a thousand dollars to spend in stocks, and bought penny, that is low priced stocks, the tax would be twenty dollars. If he bought certain high priced ones the tax would only be eight cents. Mr. Malcolm Lang, Liberal member for Timiskaming advocated an ad valorem tax, a percentage of the money invested, whatever the market value of the shares. The committee of the whole divided three times on it. In each instance I supported Mr. Lang. Later Mr. Bennett moved an amendment on 3rd reading to refer the matter back to the Committee of the Whole with instructions to section four. This would have eliminated all tax on shares. I believe in taxing directly, but I want it evenly spread. To support Mr. Bennett's amendment seemed the only way to protest against the present unfair tax. I used that method. Mr. Lang was the only Liberal who supported the amendment.

Milton Campbell of Saskatchewan started a debate on British preference. He claimed that the change made by the Budget of last year requiring 50% of the value of the products entering under British preference, to be of Empire material and labour, rather than 25% as formerly had not helped, but hidered Empire trade. Mr. Campbell quoted the Canadian Textile Journal to prove that the Canadian manufacturers approved of the change.

"This increase in Empire content is due to the repeated demands of the Canadian manufacturers."

We were lead at the time to believe that the change would increase Empire trade.

Wednesday evening I spent very pleasantly in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Newton MacTavish. Dr. MacTavish is one of the three Civil Service Commissioners. The party was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hector B. MacKinnon, who have been recently married. Hector MacKinnon is well known in Southeast Grey. He was raised at Priceville, and for years was on the staff of the Globe, becoming city editor. He is now Secretary of the Tariff Board. The MacTavish's are artistic people. They have a collection of pictures, statues and books, which their home displays to advantage.

We spent a wholesome, inspiring old-fashioned evening—no bridge, no dancing. Conservation, music readings from Canadian poets and home going came surprisingly soon. It is encouraging to know that conversation hasn't become wholly a lost art.

The Late Mrs. Aikin

Announcement was made in last week's issue of the death of Mrs. J. W. Aikin of Lynn, Mass, which took place on May 19th at her home. The deceased, whose maiden name was Eleanor Richmond, was an adopted daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Richmond of Meaford and was a sister of Mr. W. P. Crossley of town and also of the late Mrs. Jas. Sullivan. She passed peacefully away after an illness of eight days duration, suffering from a paralytic stroke. She was born at Meaford 63 years ago and spent her early life in that vicinity.

Besides her husband she is survived by four children: H. R. Aikin, New York; W. E. Aiken, Perht-Amboy, N. J.; Misses Lila and Aileen at home.

The body was conveyed from Lynn Mass., to her former home at Meaford, and service was held at the residence of Mr. Henry Richmond, interment taking place in the family plot in Meaford emetery, on Saturday afternoon, May 25th. Many of her school day acquaintances were present at the funeral.

The floral tributes were veny numerous and beautiful, many of them being expressed with the body by her friends at Lynn, Mass., and arrived in a very fresh condition.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Crossley of town, Mrs. C. J. Crossley of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. G.. Welton and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Thurston attended the funeral.
