IT'S BETTER BECAUSE IT'S CANADIAN

WELL-PRESERVED HAY

Mr. James McPherson of Spruce Glen Farm, Proton, left a bundle of hay in this ofice, which is 13 years old. The hay, which is mostly mamoth clover with a few wisps of timothy, is remarkably well preserved, and in better condition than most year-old hay one would see in a barn. The blossoms are still on the clover as are also many of the leaves and the hay smells sweet as if it were but a few weeks old instead of 13 years. It has been stored in Alex. McPherson's barn at the corner of 37th sideroad and concession 10, and had been covered each year by the season's hay.—Dundalk Herald

S. S. Convention

One of the most successful, enthusiastic and largely attended conventions in the history of the Artemesia Markdale and Flesherton Religious Education Council was held in the United church, Priceville, on Monday, June 3rd, afternoon and evening. Rev. H. C. Priest, General Supt. for Ontario was present and delivered powerful addresses at both sessions. He also conducted an interesting and helpful round table conference during the afternoon.

Inspiring addresses were also delivered by Rev. Wm. Coutts of Markdale in the afternoon and Rev. Frank Sullivan of Priceville in the evening. The devotional exercises in the afternoon were led by Rev. A. Wills and in the evening by Rev. A. N. St. John of Markdale. The President, Mr. W. J. McFadden, gave an excellent report of the year's work. The report of the Secretary, Mr. Howard Graham, showed a total enrolment of 1,100 in the schools of the district, and that splendid reports had been sent in from all of the fifteen schools.

The Ramage quartette of Priceville gave a couple of excellent numbers. Mr. Willis Coburn gave two fine musical selections and Miss Judith St. John a splendid reading during the evening session. Between sessions a splendid supper was provided by the ladies of Priceville in the basement of the church.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Prisident, Mr. W. J. McFadden; Vice.-Pres., Mr. T. W. Findley; Sec.-Treas., Mr. Howard Graham; Children's Supt., Mrs. St. John and Miss Tena Henderson; Boy's Supt., Mr. Jack Hill and Mr. W. J. Messenger; Girls' Supt., Miss Kate McMillan and Mrs. Dave Williams: Young People's Supt., Mr. Alf Hincks; Adult Dept., Mrs. (Dr.) Murray; Home Dept., Rev. F. Sullivan; Teachers' Training, Mr. Jos. McKee: Missionary Supt. Mrs. Wes. Armstrong and Mrs. W. J. Lyons; Temperance, Mr. Ed. Burnes.

The next convention will be held in Markdale.

THE SAW BLEW UP

An accident that is more important for its peculiarity than for its news value occurred at the sawmill of the Durham Furniture Compnay here a few days ago when the big saw, without any warning, flew into a hundred pieces or so. Considering that the full complement of workmen were engaged at their daily tasks and that the pieces of the saw weer distributed to all parts of the mill, it is miraculous that no one wasinjured.

At the time the saw flew to pieces a small log was being putthrough the machine, and as there was apparently nothing the matter when inspected before work began, it is thought that something in the log caused it to jam and, being of the high speed variety, it naturally flew to pieces.—Durham Chronicle.

Great interest is being taken in the tour of men and women of Grey County, being sponsored by the Department of Agriculture and which will take place next week.

While with a party down at his cottage at Wasaga Beach, Mr. M. Woodward found a partridge's nest with thirteen young partridges in it. At least they were in it until they concealed themselves, as their foreparents did, under leaves scarcely big enough to cover them. After concealment they "froze" so immovably that scarcely anything could move them.—Stayner Sun.
