MOFFAT'S VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES.—These Medicines are indebted for their name to their manifest and sensible action in purifying the springs and channels of life, and conducting them with renewed tone and vigour. In many hundred certified cases which have been made public, and in almost every species of disease to which the human frame is liable, the effects of Moffat's Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters have been gratefully and publicly acknowledged by the persons benefited, and who were previously unacquainted with the beneficially philosophical principles upon which they are compounded, and upon which they constantly act.
The Life Medicines recommend themselves in diseases of every form and description. Their first operation is to loosen from the coats of the stomach and bowels the various impurities and crudities constantly settling around them, and to remove the hardened mass which collect in the convolutions of the smallest intestines. Other medicines only partially cleanse them, and leave such collected masses behind as to produce habitual costiveness, with all its train of evils, or sudden diarrhœa, with its imminent dangers. This fact is well known to all regular anatomists, who examine the human bowels after death; and hence the prejudice of those well-informed men against quack medicines, or medicines prepared and detailed to the public by ignorant persons. The second effect of the Life Medicines is to cleanse the kidneys and bladder and by this means the liver and the lungs, the healthful action of which entirely depends upon the regularity of the urinary organs. The blood which takes its red colour from the agency of the liver and the lungs before it passes into the heart, being purified by them, and nourished by food coming from a clean stomach, courses freely through the veins, returns every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming cheek.
Moffat's Vegetable Life Medicines have been thoroughly tested, and pronounced a sovereign remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, palpitation of the Heart, loss of appetite, heartburn and headaches, restlessness, ill temper, anxiety, languor and melancholy, costiveness, diarrhœa, cholera, fevers of all kinds, gravel, worms, asthma and consumption, scurvy, ulcers, inveterate sores, scorbutic eruptions, and bad complexions, salt rheum, erysipelas, common colds, and influenza, and various other complaints which afflict the human frame. In Fever & Ague, particularly, the Life Medicines have been most eminently successful; so much so, that in the fever and ague districts, physicians almost universally prescribe them. Moffat's Medical Manual, designed as a domestic guide of health. This little pamphlet, edited by W. B. Moffat, 375 Broadway, New York, has been published for the purpose of explaining more fully Mr. Moffat's theory of diseases, and will be found highly interesting to persons seeking health. It treats upon the prevalent diseases and the causes thereof, price 25 cents—for sale by Mr. Moffat's agents generally.
The above valuable Medicines are sold by S. PALMER, who, in addition to a very General and Extensive Assortment of Drugs and Medicines, keeps a general and elegant assortment of English and American Fancy and Common Stationery, Books, Perfumery, &c. &c. &c.
Kingston, 29th April, 1841.

The proprietor of these valuable preparations received his education at one of the best Medical Colleges in the United States, and has had fifteen years experience in an extensive and diversified practice, by which he has had ample opportunities of acquiring a practical knowledge of diseases, and of the remedies best calculated to remove them.

DR. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.—This invaluable Medicine is daily effecting some of the most astonishing and wonderful cures that have ever been known. All who have ever used it for Asthma, Cough, Spitting of Blood, Hooping Cough, Croup or Hives, Consumption, Chronic, Pleurisy; Hoarseness, pain and soreness of the breast, difficulty of Breathing, and every other disease of the Lungs and Breast, can and do attest to its usefulness. Bronchitis, a disease which is annually sweeping thousands upon thousands to a premature grave, under the mistaken name of consumption, is always cured by it. The usual symptoms of this disease (Bronchitis) are cough, soreness of the lungs or throat, hoarseness, difficulty of breathing, Asthma, Hectic Fever, a spitting up of Phlegm or matter, and sometimes blood. It is an inflammation of the fine skin which lines the inside of the whole of the wind tubes or air vessels which run through every part of the lungs. This Expectorant immediately suppresses the cough, pain, inflammation, fever, and difficulty of breathing, and produces a free and easy expectoration, and a cure is soon effected.
It always cures Asthma—two or three large doses will cure the Croup or Hives of Children; in from 15 minutes to an hour's time. It immediately subdues the violence of Whooping Cough, and effects a speedy cure. Hundreds who have been given up by their physicians as incurable with "Consumption," have been restored to perfect health by it.
Rev. Jonathan Going, D. D. President of Granville College, Ohio, says—"I was labouring under a severe cold, rough and hoarseness, and that his difficulty of breathing was so great that he felt himself in imminent danger of immediate suffocation, but was perfectly cured by using this expectorant."——Mrs. Dolkes, of Salem, N. J. was cured of Asthma, of twenty years standing, by using two bottles of this medicine;——Mrs. Ward, also of Salem, was cured of the same complaint by one bottle.——A young lady, also of Salem, who was believed by her friends to be far gone with Consumption, was perfectly restored by three bottles.——Dr. Hamilton, of St. James, South Carolina, was greatly affected by a cough, hoarseness, and soreness of the lungs, and on using a bottle of this medicine, found permanent relief.
The following certificate is from a practising Physician, and a much respected clergyman of the Methodist Society, dated Modest Town, Va. August 27, 1838.
Dr. Jayne—Dear Sir—I have been using your Expectorant, extensively, in my practice, for the last three months, and for all attacks of colds, inflammation of the lungs, consumption, asthma, pain, and weakness of the breast, it is decidedly the best medicine I have ever tried.
Very respectfully yours,
R. W. WILLIAMS, M. D.
Numerous other certificates might be added, but the above are considered sufficient evidence of its great usefulness.
Prepared only by Dr. D. Jayne, No. 20, South Third Street, Philadelphia. Price $1.
For sale by E. M. LUFF, General Agent, Sackets Harbor, and by WM. MACKINTOSH, Chronicle & Gazette Office, Kingston, Canada.

MOFFAT'S VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS AND PHŒNIX BITTERS.—The high celebrity which these excellent Medicines have acquired in curing almost every disease to which the human frame is liable, is a matter familiar with almost every intelligent person. They became known by their fruits—their good works have testified for them—they did not thrive by the faith of the credulous.
In cases of Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Bilious and Liver Affections, Asthma, Piles, Settled Pains, Rheumatism, Fevers and Agues, Obstinate Headaches, Impure State of the Fluids, Unhealthy appearance of the Skin, Nervous Debility, the Sickness incident to Females in Delicate Health, every kind of weakness of the Digestive Organs, and in all general Derangements of Health, these medicines have invariably proved a certain and speedy remedy. They restore vigorous health to the most exhausted constitutions. A single trial will place the Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters beyond the reach of competition, in the estimation of every patient.
☞The Life Pills are sold in boxes—Price, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1 each, according to the size; and the Phœnix Bitters in bottles, at $1 or $2 each, with full directions.
Prepared and sold, wholesale and retail, at WM. B. MOFFAT'S Medical Office, 375 Broadway, New York.
N. B. None are genuine unless they have the fac simile of John Moffat's signature.
FOR GRATUITOUS DISTRIBUTION—An interesting little pamphlet entitled "Moffat's Medical Manual, designed as a Domestic Guide to Health—containing accurate information concerning the most prevalent diseases, and the most approved remedies—by WM. B. MOFFAT." Apply to the Agents.

MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS AND PHŒNIX BITTERS.—The perfects safe, effecting, and successful treatment of almost every species of disease by the use of MOFFAT'S LIFE MEDICINES, is no longer a matter of doubt, as reference to the experience of numerous thousand patients will satisfactorily prove. During the present month alone, nearly one hundred cases have come to the knowledge of Mr. Moffat, where the patient has, to all appearance, effected a permanent cure by the exclusive and judicious use of the Life Medicines—some weight or half of them had been considered beyond all hope by their medical attendants. Such happy results are a source of great pleasure to Mr. M. and impels him with new confidence to recommend the use of his medicines to his fellow-citizens.
THE LIFE MEDICINES are a purely VEGETABLE preparation. They are mild and pleasant in their operation, and at the same time thorough—acting rapidly upon the secretions of the system—carrying off all acrimonious humors, assimilating with and purifying the blood. For this reason, in aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, the Life Medicines will give relief in a shorter space of time than any other prescription. In Fever-and-Ague, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Fevers of every description, such as Scarlet, Hearth-burn, Dizziness in the head, Pains in the Chest, Flatulency, impaired appetite, and in every disease arising from an impurity of the blood, a disordered state of the stomach, the use of these Medicines has always proved to be beyond doubt, greatly superior to any other mode of treatment.
All Mr. Moffat's agents are instructed to be particular in taking them strictly according to the directions. It is not by a newspaper notice, or by anything that he himself may say in their favor, that he hopes to gain credit. It is almost the results of a fair trial. To the reader an invalid, we does he wish to know whether the Life Medicines will suit his own case? If so, let him call or send to Mr. Moffat's agent on his place, and procure a copy of the Medical Manual, designed as a Domestic Guide to health, published gratuitously.—He will there find extracted very many extraordinary cases for cure, and perhaps some exactly similar to his own. Moffat's Medical Office is New York, 375 Broadway.

HOOPING COUGH—To Parents.—JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT is, without exception, the most valuable preparation in use. It converts Hooping Cough into a mild and tractable disease, and shortens its duration more than one-half, and produces a certain and speedy recovery. Two bottles are sufficient to cure a severe case. It can be administered to infant and young children as half an hour to an hour—The lives of hundreds of children will be saved annually, by always keeping it on hand ready for any emergency. For sale at No. 20 South 3d street, Philadelphia, and also by Wm. Mackintosh, Chronicle & Gazette Office, Kingston, Canada.

WORMS, WORMS, WORMS.—To remove these troublesome and dangerous inhabitants of the stomach and bowels, which so often impair the health and destroy the lives of children, use Dr. JAYNE'S TONIC VERMIFUGE, a certain and safe preparation for the removal of all various kinds of Worms, Dyspepsia, sour Stomach, want of Appetite, infantile Fever and Ague, and debility of the stomach and bowels and organs of digestion.
For sale by Wm. Mackintosh, Chronicle & Gazette Office, Kingston, Canada.

ADDRESS OF THE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND TO THE JEWISH PEOPLE.

TO THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL IN ALL THE LANDS OF THEIR DISPERSION, THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND SENDETH PEACE,

Men and Brethren beloved for the Father's sake.—The God of glory appeared to Abraham, when he dwelt in Ur of the Chaldees, and promised to make of him a great nation, and that in him all the families of the earth should be blessed. This promise, which was again and again renewed to him, was confirmed to Isaac and to Jacob.—Gen. xii. 1—3, 7; xiii. 14—17; xviii.; xxi. 12; xxii. 15—18; xxvi. 2—5, 24; xxviii. 20—29; xxviii. 10—15; 21—30; xxxv. 9—12; xlvi. 2—4. As it is also said in the 105th Psalm, He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word he commanded to a thousand generations; which he made with Abraham, and his oath unto Isaac, and confirmed the same unto Jacob for a law, to Israel for an everlasting covenant. Within the ample bosom of this covenant, the glorious charter of all the blessings which as a nation, you have ever possessed, or yet hope to receive, we, sinners of the Gentiles, as well as you, the men of Israel, find ourselves embraced; for so it is written, Gen. xxviii. 12. In thee, and in thy seed, shall all the families of the earth be blessed. Of this promise we, in this distant island of the sea, and after the lapse of almost 3000 years, can attest the truth. In Abraham and his seed we have been blessed. In him who was to be the desire of all nations, Hag. ii. 7, our souls have found a secure refuge. Through him have we been brought to the knowledge of that God whom your fathers worshipped. In him have we found peace to our consciences, hope and joy to our hearts; even in the Man who, as the prophet foretold, Isaiah xxxii. 2, would be an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place; and as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land.

Men and brethren, having thus obtained mercy ourselves, how can we but be deeply moved by the unhappy condition of those from whose stock has sprung that branch of the Lord, beautiful and glorious! Isaiah iv. 2! under whose wide-spreading shadow we have been made to sit with great delight, Song ii. 3. How can we but desire that they might come and find rest from their weary wanderings under the shelter of that wonderful name, Jehovah our righteousness! Jer. xxiii. 6. How can we but seek the good of that people, by whose means, at first, we ourselves were turned from many idols to serve the living and true God, and from whom we have received those oracles of truth which every where testify of his Anointed!

Moved by these considerations, our Church, as many of you know, sent forth, two years ago, four of its ministers to seek the welfare of the children of Israel. These brethren, full of love to your nation, traversed many lands and brought us word again. They have been at Jerusalem and have seen the Jew at his mournful devotions beside its ruined wall. They have been through the land once flowing with milk and honey, and have seen the thorns and briars which now cover it—Isa. xxxii. 13. They have seen your holy cities a wilderness, Zion a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation—Isa. lxiv. 10. They have been in your synagogues; they have visited your families; they have observed your religious services; they have conversed with your people; and, grateful as they have felt for the kindness received, they have been pained, though not surprised, to witness your wide departure from the ordinances of God, and the ignorance which prevails of his life-giving Word.—Deut. xiii. 3.

Knowing, as we do, that the Lord, in his sovereign grace has persuaded us, the sons of Japhet, and caused us to dwell in the tents of Shem, Gen. ix. 27; enjoying, as we do, the fulness of the provision of our Father's house,—we would seek, in our turn to persuade you, saying to you, as Moses to his father-in-law, Numb. x. 29, Come with us, and we will do you good. We cannot think of possessing alone the privileges and honours of adopted children, while you, the natural heirs, are outcast and destitute. We feel it to be a reproach to us that it should be written, This is Zion, whom no man seeketh after.—Jer. xxx. 17. We would rather desire to be employed, under the shepherd of Israel, in seeking out his sheep, and delivering them out all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day.—Ezek. xxxiv. 12. We have therefore thought of sending you this letter. May the Lord incline your hearts to receive it from our hands, and lead many among you soon to call to mind the blessing and the curse among the nations whither the Lord your God hath driven you.—Deut. xxx. 1.

And because we know that, by the Jews, the very name of Christian is oftentimes regarded with aversion, from the idea that those who bear it are the adherents of a false religion, and have been the authors of the calamities they endure, we consider it needful, at the outset, to declare that, in our opinion, none who call themselves Christian deserve that name whose religion is not founded on the Word of God.

We are well aware that a stumbling block it has been to the Jewish mind, to observe the idolatry and other corruptions which prevail in many countries which profess the religion of Jesus.—But we wish you to understand that such things are forbidden by the precepts of the gospel as much as by the commandment of the law. Those who worship saints or angels, or bow down before graven image, show themselves to be, not Christain but anti-Christian; belonging, not to Jesus, but to that great apostacy from the faith, which both the Old and New Testament declared would take place in the latter days.—Dan. xi. 36—39.

Nor are the cruelties and oppressions to which you have been so often and so grievously subjected less repugnant to our holy religion, which teaches us to do to others as we would have others to do to us. We lament to think that in England itself you have at times suffered so much from grasping avarice and bitter animosity; but we bid you remember that these things were done during the reign of that iron superstition which persecuted the true followers of Jesus Christ as well as the Jews.—Dan. vii. 8, 20, 21, 24, 25.

And now, men and brethren, permit us to inquire whether every visible mark which the Scripture gives of the advent of Messiah, may not be seen in connection with Jesus of Nazareth?—Your father Jacob foretold, Gen. xlix. 10. The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come, and unto him shall the gathering of the people be. The sceptre did depart when Jesus appeared, and to him the Gentiles have come. You have, therefore, here a double mark that Jesus is the Christ. Again, the Prophet Haggai, when the second temple was a building, foretold in Jehovah's name, ch. ii. 7, I will shake all nations, and the Desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory. All nations were shaken; the Persians gave place to the Greeks, and the Greeks to the Romans. You have, therefore, here manifold proofs that Jesus is the Christ.

We wish we could persuade you to read and examine the New Testament for yourselves.—You might then, by the teaching of God's Spirit, discover that it is not the evil thing you have hitherto imagined, but is in truth the Work of God. You might find that it is no new revelation, but rests on your own beloved Scriptures, and is full of references to them. You might see that the doctrine of the apostles is the same as that of the prophets, and its system of morality nothing else than the Ten Commandments enlarged. You might find, with admiration and joy, that the long-promised Saviour has already come; the Rod from the stem of Jesse, Isa. xi. 1; and yet David's Lord, Ps. cx. 1; the Child born, the Son given, whose name is Wonderful, Counsellor, the mighty God, the everlasting Father, and the Prince of Peace, Isa. ix. 6; whose birth-place should be Bethlehem Ephratah, yet whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting, Micah v. 2.

Surely you will allow, that everything in your circumstances as a people, calls for consideration. Is it not the case, that ever since the time when your father crucified Him who declared himself to be the Messiah, sent of God, and rejected the salvation preached by his apostles, your nation has been under the perpetual rebuke of a frowning Providence? Your civil and sacred institutions have been entirely broken up. The holy and beautiful house where Jehovah was praised, has been burnt up with fire, and all your pleasant things laid waste.—Isa. lxiv. 11. Your cities have been wasted without inhabitants, and your houses without man, and the land made utterly desolate. And the Lord has removed you far away, and there has been a great forsaking in the midst of the land.—Isaiah vi. 11, 12. The Lord has scattered you among the heathen, and dispersed you through the countries.—Ezek. xxxvi. 19. And among those nations you have found no ease, neither has the sole of your foot had rest; but the Lord has given you there a trembling heart, and failing of eyes, and sorrow of mind; and your life has hanged in doubt before you, and you have had fear day and night, and have had none assurance of your life.—Deut. xxviii. 65, 66.

We write not these things to add to your affliction, but from love of your souls. Surely you, as well as we, may put the question.—What meaneth the heat of this great anger?—Deut. xxix. 24. Why is it that the Lord has covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud, and cast down from heaven to earth, the beauty of Israel?—Lam. ii. 1. It is not enough to say that you have sinned. Your fathers oftentimes sinned, and were led into captivity by their enemies. But where, in all their history, will you find a captivity like this? Even when carried to Babylon, the desolations of Jerusalem lasted only seventy years.—Dan. ix. 1. But now, for eighteen hundred years, the holy city has been trodden under foot, and you banished from the land of your fathers.—If it be alleged that the ten tribes have been longer in captivity than the Jews, and that they had no hand in putting Jesus to death, we answer, that seeing the Messiah was to spring from Judah, Gen. xlix. 10—seeing that Jerusalem was the place which the lord had chosen to put his name there, 2 Chron. vi. 6—and seeing the temple which was there, with its priesthood and sacrifices, prefigured him who was to come, Ps. cx. 4; xl. 6—10; ii. 7; 2—Chron. vi. 18; vii. 12—16—it follows, that the separation of the ten tribes from Judah, and the erection of another altar at Bethel, 1 Kings xii. 23 33,—was nothing else than the rejection of the promised Messiah himself. When Israel said, we have neither portion of David, nor inheritance in the son of Jesse, 1 Kings xii. 16, their words were at once expressive of their sin, and prophetic of their doom.—And hence the awful solemnity with which the sin of Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, whereby he made Israel to sin, is again and again pointed to, as the cause of the apostacy and overthrow of the kingdom of the ten tribes.—1 Kings xiv. 16; xv. 26, 30; xvi. 19, &c. &c.

If men be sinners as the Word of God and our own consciences testify, and if Jesus Christ be the seed of the woman, who was to bruise the head of the serpent, Gen. iii. 15, then no sin can be so great or so provoking to God as the rejection of this great Deliverer. Ought you not, then ye sons of Jacob, to inquire whether this be not the very sin lying upon you. Certain it is that ever since you refused to own Jesus as your Savior, the Lord has refused to own you as his people. You have often, it may be said in your hearts; wherefore have we fasted, and thou seest not; wherefore have we afflicted our soul, and thou takest no knowledge?—Isa. lviii. 3; wherefore have we made many prayers, and still thou wilt not hear?—Isa. l. 15. What if you should find that your hands are full of blood—Isa. i. 15; and that blood, the blood not of fellow creature, but of the man who is the fellow of the Almighty?—Zech. xiii. 7. What if you should discover that your King has already come, just, and having salvation—Zech. ix. 8; but that you would have none of him—that the Messenger of the Covenant, the Lord whom ye seek has come to his temple—Mal. iii. 1; but that you despised him, and counted him a liar?

It is the testimony of Scripture, that righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people.—Prov. xiv. 34. Is it not remarkable, then, that while the fall of Israel had been contemporaneous with their rejection of Jesus, the rise of the Gentiles has run parallel with their faith in his name. It was a wonderful sight in the early age of the Church, to behold the Gospel of Christ, wherever its power was felt, overturning the temples of the gods, and raising men to the character of holy and devout worshippers of Jehovah. The like effects have ever followed it, wherever it has been received, and just in proportion as it has been received, in truth. We speak it to the praise of Jehovah's grace, that through the knowledge of the Messiah our own country has risen to the rank which she occupies among the nations. It is simply we believe, because He has been dedicated a lamp for his Anointed.—Ps. cxxxii. 17, that the King of nations, Jer. x. 7, has rendered the name of Britain illustrious, her arms powerful, her arts flourishing, her people intelligent and free. These advantages, however, are as nothing compared with those which the soul receives. There are many indeed, among us, who, like those spoken of, Isa. lxiii. 1, make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth of righteousness; and for them if they repent not, Tophet is ordained of old.—Isa. xxx. 33. But there are not a few of whom it can be said, Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound; they shall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance.—Ps. lxxxix. 15. In Scotland, the land of our birth, Messiah has had a seed to serve him for generations past.—Ps. xxii. 30; Isa. liii. 10. This wild and barren land has heard
