Toronto Boy Killed In Car Accident on Road Near Maxwell

Wm. A. Glockling, aged 18 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Glockling, 1678 Kingston Road, Toronto, was instantly killed when he was thrown through the top of a car, owned and driven by W. H. Thurston, editor of The Advance. The accident occurred on the Collingwood to Flesherton road, three and a half miles east of Maxwell. Mrs. W. H. Thurston received a broken collar bone, scalp and arm wounds and was very badly shaken up. Others in the car were Mrs. F. J. Thurston, who received head and shoulder injuries, F. J. Thurston, Jim and

WILLIAM A. GLOCKLING
Who Was Killed in The Accident

Earle Thurston and Miss Winneta Shaw of Lions Head, who received minor injuries and a shaking up. Mr. W. H. Thurston received bruises to his chest, when the steering wheel was smashed by the impact, and also a bad shaking up.

The above accident was a sequal of another incident which occurred a short time before when a car owned by Mr. Ernest Morrison of Osprey township broke down as it was travelling along the road, the rear housing being broken allowing it to rest on the road and the car could not be moved. There were in it at the time Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morrison, Mrs. Sam Shortt, Lois, Nellie and Dora Shortt.

The car did not have any tail light and was standing about midway on the travelled part of the highway. The Thurston car was travelling west and the driver was unable to see the Morrison car until he was almost upon it, and swerved the car to the left in order to avoid striking the other car, but too late, as the hub cap of the car was torn off and the car swerved into the right hand ditch and upset.

Mrs. F. J. Thurston and little son, Earle, were thrown clear of the descending top of the car, but the victim of the accident, Wm. Glockling, did not clear, and was pinned down, the car resting on his head and fracturing his skull terribly.

A hurried call was sent to Dr. R. L. Gauld of Maxwell and he was on the scene of the accident in a very few moments, but life was extinct when he arrived.

The deceased had been on his vacation from the Toronto Daily Star, where he was employed in the library department and was visiting his friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thurston.

The party had been on a picnic to Wasaga Beach and were on their way home when the accident occurred, about 9.45 at night.

All the injured were taken to the home of Messrs John Radley and Ed. Pedlar, close by, where medical attention was given, and were then removed to their homes in Flesherton.

Billy was a very likeable chap, manly, and, in the opinion of F. L. Tate, business manager, a "thoroughly loyal, earnest, hard working chap." He joined the Star in December 1926 and in his work was very capable and efficient, and he was highly regarded by all with whom he came in contact.

He was born in Toronto and attended Fern Avenue public school until the family removed to Windsor, where he studied at Windsor and Walkerville technical school. Upon his return to Tornto he entered Central technical school, where he made a brilliant record before leaving to join the staff of The Star. He won several scholarships, among them $25 prize for general proficiency.

He was very much interested in chemistry and had a well equipped laboratory at his home, where he spent much of his time. He also made a hobby of stamp collecting.

He was a member of the Bible class of St. Anne's Anglican church and of Fern Avenue Old Boys' Association. He formerly attended St. Nicholas' church.

For the past two years Billy spent his holidays in Flesherton, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thurston.

The remains were taken to Toronto on Friday morning train. A short service was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Thurston, conducted by Rev. Scott, pastor of St. John's United Church, and attended by quite a number of sympathizing friends.

Last respects were paid to the deceased at the funeral which took place from his late home on Saturday afternoon. The simple service was conducted by Rev. A. Fordyce Barr, chief librarian of The Star, in whose department deceased had been employed.

The casket was covered by a bower of beautiful floral offerings, among which was a pillow from the parents and wreaths from the President and staff, and three departments of The Daily Star, the Fern Ave. School Old Boys' Assoc., and many other friends, testifying to the high regard in which the young man was held.

Interment took place in the family plot in Prospect cemetery. The deceased leaves his parents, four brothers, Walter, Harvey, Robert and John and two sisters, Marguerite and Betty. Those from Flesherton who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Thurston and Mr. R. G. Holland.

Dr. F. T. Bibby, coroner, was called, but upon examination of the accident, decided an inquest was not necessary but on Monday word was received from the Crown Attorney at Owen Sound that an inquest was ordered. This will be held at Maxwell on Wednesday afternoon of next week, July 24th, at 2 o'clock.

Priceville Garage Entered By Thieves

In the early hours of Tuesday morning thieves entered the Priceville Garage, owned by Bert Assem, and got away with about $70.00 worth of automobile accessories.

The thieves entered a window and secured all tires, bulbs, tubes and spark plugs they could lay their hands on.

Provincial Constables Denton of Owen Sound and McClevis of Hanover were notified and up to the time of going to press, have not been captured.

Sleigh Dog Killed

During the past two Santa Claus days before Christmas, Master Stanley Magee of Eugenia, raced a team of dogs, which he trained himself and was successful in winning prizes with them. But one day last week one of the dogs was run over on the road by a car and instantly killed. Stanley will certainly miss his pet, as he spent many happy hours with his team of dogs.

MAIN STREETS IMPROVED

Tarvia is being spread to-day on the connecting link on the provincial highway through town, and in a few days there should be a first class road. Calcium chloride was spread on the county connecting link Tuesday afternoon to keep the dust down.
