STEALING MELONS

The Globe's report of two boys being arrested for stealing water melons is a reminder of Mark Twain's experience: He said, "A farmer came to town with a wagon load of melons, and stopped the team to go into a store. I quickly ran to the wagon carried a melon under the shed and tapped it. Then my conscience troubled me. I carried the melon back, put it where I found it, and said "it is wicked to steal melons —when they're green."

W. T. McConnell Dies

On July 13th, in his 70th year, there passed away at his home in Kelliher, Sask., William Thomas McConnell, one of the first residents to settle in Kelliher.

Wm. McConnell was a native of Grey County (Kimberley) Ontario, and came to Saskatchewan in 1906, homesteading, with his wife and family, about sixteen miles from where Kelliher now stands. Later he moved into town and was town constable and undertaker for many years.

He is survived by his wife and eight children, six of whom were present at the funeral. Two of his sons, Amos of Eastend, Sask., and Gordon of Detroit were unable to be present. His fourth son, Maurice, was killed in the Great War.

The funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon in the United Church, Kelliher, and in charge of the Masonic Order, of which he was the first member in Kelliher. The casket was covered with beautiful floral tributes.

That the deceased had made an honored place for himself in the community of which he was so long a useful member, was evidenced by the large gathering which followed his remains to their last resting place, where he lies beside his daughter, Olive, who predeceased him by fifteen years.

The relatives who were present at the funeral were George McConnell the eldest son of Melfort, Sask.; Sylvester and wife of Kelliher, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hurlburt of Briercrest, Sask., Mr. and Mrs. H. Tripp of Kelliher, Mr. and Mrs. A. Burson of Saskatoon, and Angus of Detroit, also Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stewart and family of Fairy Hill, Sask.
