

the audience by his antics, and claimed the hearts of the children by distributing the presents, each being generously remembered. After distribution of the presents the company sang "God be with you till we meet again" and "God save the King". Votes of thanks were tendered to the Chairman for his service, to Mrs Clark for the hospitality of his home and to Mr Jack McCosh for the active part he had taken, making the drive and entertainment a success. Lunch was again served by Mrs Clark and Mrs R. A. Kelso in their respective homes and at the McCosh House, when all departed to their respective homes having spent a very pleasant and profitable day.
