Charge Follows Crash

While Mr. Bruce Rogers of town, accompanied by two lady friends and a gentleman from Toronto, was motoring to the Old Boys' Re-union at Teeswater about 11 o'clock on Tuesday night, his fine new Pontiac sedan was crashed into by a Ford reputed to be of extremely ancient vintage, and which was being driven by Russell D. Irwin, rural mail courier, of Proton Station, and in th mix-up the Walkerton bus suffered severe damages, the front axle being bent, the lamp dented and the front fenders crumpled up. The Ford, which took to the ditch, following the collision, was a complete wreck. None of the occupants of either car were hurt.

Following the accident, which occurred on the Provincial highway a half mile west of Enniskillen the Walkertonian, who claims to have got away over on his own side of the road, when he alleges to have seen the other car come zig-zagging toward him, summoned the police from Walkerton, High Constable Arch. Ferguson getting there shortly after the accident. After an investigation into the affair, a complaint was laid against the Proton man of being intoxicated while in charge of a car. He was released on bail to appear before Magistrtae Walker in the police court here for trial—Walkerton Herald-Times.

MAY BE DISAPPOINTED

Some of those who are expecting relief from their financial worries by the Old Age Pensions Act are likely to be disappointed. Any father or mother having a son or daughter of sufficient means to support him or her is not eligible for a pension. If children who are able will not keep their parents, it will be the duty of the Board to compel them to do so.—Chesley Enterprise.

A CORRECTION

In our report last week we failed to mention the church service on Sunday in the Baptist church. Rev. J. P. Wolstencroft the pastor, preached an excellent sermon to a large congregation. Mrs. John Latimer (Josie Richardson) rendered a beautiful solo which was much appreciated. Rev. Wolstencroft also took part in the afternoon service in Memorial Park.

Mr. Alex. Currie captured a big old-fashioned bull frog on Queen street one day last week. It probably wandered up from the river. It was about the biggest anyone who viewed it had seen. It measured about 7 inches from tip to where the tail was when it was a tadpole and its hind legs seemed nearly a foot long when stretched out.—Mt. Forest Confed.
