AMIDST the many valuable Establishments of this Country, there are none more extensively conducive to the interest of the Public, and the benefit of individuals, than well conducted Life Assurance Offices.
THE VERY IMPORTANT TRUTH cannot be too widely disseminated,—it ought to be distinctly known in every family, and to every member of society, that, by the yearly payment of a moderate sum, a person may secure to his wife, his children, his helpless relatives, or his friends an adequate provision against the pecuniary distress which might be produced by his death.
An Assurance being effected, all risk is removed, and he has the consoling reflection, that whether he live a month, a year, or many years, he has placed his family beyond the peril of depending for daily support upon the uncertain continuance of his health and life. To the Clergy, to the Medical Men, to Lawyers, to Merchants—
And others whose incomes depend, in a great measure upon their powers of healthy exertion. Also, persons of limited stated income, the practice of Life Assurance recommends itself, not merely as a measure of expediency, but as a Bounden Duty.
