MOTHER'S ALLOWANCE HELPS 16,000 CHILDREN

More than five thousand families in the province are beneficiaries under the Mother' Allowance Board which concluded its four day's session last Friday after dealing with about 200 new cases. Hon. Dr. Jamieson chairman; Miss Belle Thompson, Vice-Chairman; A. J. Reynolds, Hampton; T. J. Murphy of London, members of the board were present. The Board is changing its quraters from the east wing of the parliament buildings to 43 Queen's Park the firs ot September.

Causes of dependency include wives deserted by their husbands, the allowance being granted after five years' desertion, widows with more than one child, foster mothers and women whose husbands are incapacitated in which case the allowance is granted when there is only one child. Only children under 16 years of age are eligible.

Statistics denote that there are two families in the province with 12 children each receiving the allowance. There are three families with ten children and seven with nine. There are 1.399 families with three children and 2.459 with two children. When a child reaches the age of 16, the $5 a month received by the mother is withdrawn.

In some cases the grant to the mother is increased as for instance in the case of a son who was contributing to the family exchequers before marirage. There are more than 100 mothers with one child and incapacitated husbands who are receiving aid. Nearly 16,000 children are cared for by the Ontario Mother's Allowance.

A PLEASING APPOINTMENT

Agnes Macphail's qualifications as one of Canada's representatives at the forthcoming Assembly of the League of Nations which takes place at Geneva next month, are unassailable. Her appointment reflects credit on the Government at Ottawa and meets with general approval. Lacking nothing of the fire and feeling that marked the earlier days of her political career, Miss Macphail brings to the discussion of public questions today, a mind made much more mature by close contact with men and women of affairs since first she went to Ottawa to represent Southeast Grey in the House of Commons. Something of a militant pacifist, if such there can be, she is nothing of the fantastic feminist some pretend to believe. She has a penchant for saying startling things in a startling fashion but is rarely found in error in her utterances. It is more than likely she will find the punctilious atmosphere of European council chambers and committee rooms somewhat irksome after the slap-bang methods in vogue here. But, of her deep sincerity and devotion to the cause of world peace, as well as her competency to represent Canada at Geneva, there can be no doubt. Her colorful personality will stand her in good stead in any company and she may be counted upon to give a good account of herself under any circumstances.—Farmers' Sun.

Suffered A Stroke

Mr. R. W. Shaw of Lions Head, son-in-law of the editor of this paper, suffered a stroke at his home in Lions Head on Monday and his condition was very serious, but he took a turn for the better on Tuesday afternoon and as we go to press this Wednesday evening advice received was to the effect that he was gaining rapidly, and was consicous. Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Thurston and Mrs. R. Bentham motored up on Tuesday and Mrs. Thurston remained to assist.

WAS THIS A CO-INCIDENCE?

Before beginning our story of a well-nigh impossible happening, we wish to state that it is absolutely true and that we have the statements of several reliable witnesses, whose word is infallible, to prove the veracity of this yarn.

Some time ago a young man who was a resident at Wasaga Beach, lost a set of keys. He had no idea where they had parted company with him so was not in a position to search for them. A year later he and three friends were attending a dance at the pavilion. Before going home he had occasion to change a spark plug in his engine. His hands becoming soiled during the operation, he stooped down for a handful of sand and picked up with it—the lost keys.—Stayner Sun.

ROD AND GUN

With the approach of fall, the thoughts of sportsmen are turning towards hunting both deer and feathered game. The September issue of Rod and Gun and Canadian Silver Fox News, just issued, contains an exceptionally fine article on deer hunting by C. N. A. Ireson, which will prove of great interest to devotees of that sport.

However, this is only one of a collection of equally good articles and features which deal authoritatively with other departments and adventures in outdoor life and which provide thoroughly good reading for all interested in outdoor life. Open seasons for game throughout Canada and a full report of the annual meeting of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association are included in this issue. Order through this office.

Now that the National Railway has completed the biggest and best oil electric locomotive in the world some of tis officials might devise a plan of taking some of the pitch holes out of the road bed between Meaford and Collingwood.—Meaford Mirror.

The cigarette smoker of the future may find a "beware of forest fires" warning on each cigarette. He also may smoke his fag down to a fireproof tip. These possibilitiies are forecast by A. E. Sherman, of the United States Forestry Service, in an appeal to manufacturers, as well as smokers, to co-operate in a nationwide fire prevention program.
