Fine weather conditions marked Thursday and Friday for Priceville fair. It was cold, but bright and sunny and the crowd turned out well. Entries in almost every class were in excess of former years.

Shortly after 1.30 P M. the school children paraded to the grounds. Entering the hall one was struck with the fine showing of fruit, the quality and variety far exceeding former years. There also was a splendid showing of roots, vegetables pickles, dairy products, and all kinds of lovely baking. Owing to the early frosts garden flowers were much below the average.
