RELIGIOUS TEMPERANCE MEETING at the Sons of Temperance Hall, Princess Street, every Sunday afternoon, from 4½ to 5 o'clock.

THE QUEEN'S TOUR TO SWITZERLAND.

Her Majesty the Queen (travelling incognito as the Countess of Kent) embarked on Wednesday from Osborne Pier, shortly after noon, in the Royal yacht Victoria and Albert, Captain his Serene Highness the Prince of Leiningen, which almost immediately afterwards sailed for Cherbourg, en route for Lucerne, in Switzerland. Her Majesty was accompanied by the Princess Beatrice, and the Prince Leopold. The suite in attendance on the Queen and the Royal family included the Marchioness of Ely, Sir Thomas and Lady Biddulph, Colonel Ponsonby, Miss Bauer, Sir William Jenner, M.D., and the Rev. Mr Duckworth, attached to the service of Prince Leopold. Lord Stanley, her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, will be the Minister in attendance upon the Queen during her sojourn in Switzerland. The Royal yacht was attended across the channel by the Enchantress, government steam yacht, and by the Black Eagle, steam yacht. Owing to the desired privacy of her Majesty's journey, the Victoria and Albert was not attended by any of the iron-clads belonging to the Channel squadron, now lying at Spithead. The Victoria and Albert steamed direct into Cherbourg harbour at 6:40 p.m., under salutes from the Mole, the Arsenal, and the French ships of war. The Royal yacht was brought up alongside the quay within the Government arsenal, where her Majesty was felicitated upon her arrival by the French Admiral Commandant of the Port. Her Majesty disembarked on the Government jetty. Extensive preparations had been made by the imperial authorities for the convenience of the august travellers, and a flying bridge leading direct from the arsenal to the departure platform of the station of the Chemin de Fer de l'Ouest had been especially constructed to obviate the necessity of using carriages for the conveyance of the Royal party from the dockyard to the railway station. The Emperor placed at the disposal of the Queen an Imperial train, consisting of ten vehicles, several of which were fitted up with luxurious magnificence. The Royal bed chamber (hung round with exquisite tapes ry of Gobelins manufacture), the Terrasse, and the salons communicating with each other, are remarkable samples of well-directed taste and skill. The Queen and the Royal party disembarked shortly before eleven o'clock, the train being timed to leave Cherbourg at eleven p.m. precisely. The distance from Cherbourg to Paris is 230 miles, the route traversing Normandy and passing in succession the important towns of Bayeux, Caen (where refreshment was provided), Lisieux, Evreux, and Nantes. Her Majesty arrived in Paris a little after seven on Thursday. At the station of the Chemin de Fer de l'Ouest in Paris her Majesty was received by his Excellency Lord Lyons, British Ambassador at Paris, with his staff, and by several French officers of distinction. The Queen and the Royal party proceeded in the Ambassador's carriage from the station to the hotel of the embassy, where her Majesty remained during the day. At half-past twelve the Prince and Princesses drove through the city. Her Majesty received a visit during her stay from the Empress of the French. Her Majesty continued her journey in the evening, leaving Paris at nine p.m. by the Chemin de Fer de l'Est, using the same Imperial train which conveyed the Royal party from Cherbourg to Paris. The distance from Paris to Basle, on the Swiss frontier, is 323 English miles, the route, except in the hilly wine districts, having little of a picturesque character to recommend it. The Queen and the Royal family will occupy during their stay at Lucerne a very beautifully-situated residence, called the Villa (Pension) Wallace. It is built on a hill overlooking the town, with the Righi on the left, and Mont Pilatus, distinguished by its serrated ridge, upon the right, and the lake and snowy St. Gothard range of Alps immediately in front. The Queen and the Royal family, with the Ladies in Waiting, will occupy the villa, and the other members of the Royal suite will be accommodated at a very pretty chalet situated in the grounds of the Villa Wallace, and closely adjoining the lake. It is expected that her Majesty will remain at Lucerne until the first week in September. The weather will probably have an influence on the Royal movements.

Paris, Thursday Evening.—The Empress Eugenie proceeded to the British Embassy at a quarter-past three this afternoon on a visit to Queen Victoria, and remained with her Majesty until four o'clock. The Duke of Edinburgh arrived here this morning by way of Calais, and immediately on his arrival paid a visit to the Queen.

A Minnesota paper says: "A number of persons from the Big Woods are in the city, making contracts for the sale of ginseng this season. They anticipate digging a large quantity of it this year."

Notwithstanding the recent summary proceedings against the express robbers of Seymour, Ind., matters are said to be in a very unsatisfactory state there. The Vigilance committee are threatened, but are well prepared. They say that if the friends of the organized gang, among whom were the men recently lynched, attempt any vengeance for the death of the six vagabonds, 15 or 20 more of the gang shall go to death by the same road.

The select committee has reported for a new House of Commons, the present one being defective in the necessary extent of accommodation. The new house will contain 569 members, 419 of whom would be on the floor, and there would be room also for 320 strangers. The present house holds 428 members and 263 strangers. The seats for peers in the proposed plan will accommodate 56 persons, instead of 44 as at present. The ladies' gallery affords space for 42 ladies. The expense will be only £120,000.

THE ORIGINAL CHLORODYNE, invented by R. Freeman, Pharmaceutist, is allowed to be one of the greatest discoveries of the present century. It is largely employed by the most eminent Physicians and Surgeons in hospital and private practice in all parts of the world. It has effects peculiar to itself, and which are essentially different to those produced by the various compounds bearing the name of Chlorodyne, but have no pretence to possessing its virtues. It rapidly relieves pain, from whatever cause, allays the irritation of fever, soothes the system under exhausting diseases, and gives sleep without producing any one of the unpleasant feelings so commonly arising from the use of opiates. It continues to hold its unshaken position in the estimation of the Profession as the best, most reliable, and cheapest preparation. Eminent and scientific Physicians made affidavits that they have tested its effects in careful comparison with those of "DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE," and deposed to the facts that they found it a more certain and reliable preparation, and greatly preferred "FREEMANS."

Earl Russell communicated to the Royal College of Physicians and to Mr Freeman, that in Manilla the only remedy of any use in Cholera was Chlorodine.

The Medical Times and Gazette, January 18th, 1866, states, "It has an immense sale amongst the public, and is prescribed by scores of Orthodox Medical Practitioners, and, of course, it would not be thus singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place."

Manufactured by the Inventor, Richard Freeman, 70, Kennington Park Road, London, S.

The genuine has engraved on the Government Stamp (outside each Bottle), "FREEMAN'S ORIGINAL CHLORODYNE."

CONDY'S PATENT FLUID or natural disinfectant purifies, deodorises, and disinfects, by the agency of nascent or ozonic oxygen,—its active principle. Being entirely innoxious, this truly scientific preparation is peculiarly adapted for the following useful purposes, for which all other disinfectants, on account of their poisonous or other objectionable qualities, are unavailable and useless:—

Detecting organic impurities in air and water.
Purifying drinking and other water from organic matter, lead, &c.
Freshening the air of close places, and removing bad smells.
Freeing meat, fish, butter, or other provisions from taint.
Counteracting the effects of organic poisons taken into the stomach.
Curing Musty provender. Freeing wheat and other seed from smut.
Maintaining the health of plants in pots and conservatories.
Preserving and restoring the freshness of cut flowers kept in water.
Destroying the blight of the potatoe, vine, hop, mulberry tree, &c.
Washing dogs and other domestic animals.
Cleansing bottles, beer barrels, pickling tubs, dairy utensils.
Washing the hair and darkening its colour when turning grey.
Enhancing the purifying and invigorating effects of baths and tubs.
Dressing poisoned wounds and destroying animal virus.
Treating the infectious diseases of cattle horses, dogs, &c.
One gallon makes 200 to 800 gallons adapted for use.

N.B.—Condy's Fluid is the Standard Scientific Test for Organic Matter in Water, and affordsfreeing Drinking Water from Organic Taint, which is so common a cause of serious disease.

To rapidly purify the air, use the diluted fluid with "Condy's Ozoniser" or other Spray-producer.

CONDY'S PATENT OZONISED WATER,
(FOR TOILET PURPOSES,)

Removes from the mouth impure and foreign tastes and odours, whether arising from tobacco or other causes, and counteracts the irritation and morbid secretions of carious teeth. It purifies and softens the skin, and, used in the bath, tends to promote a healthy state of the whole body.

H. BOLLMAN CONDY,
Patentee, Battersea, London.

JUDSON'S SIMPLE DYES FOR THE PEOPLE. Any one can use them; anything can be dyed with them. It is impossible in this small space to enumerate the many uses to which these wonderful and beautiful chemical preparations can be applied; while their chief use is for dyeing textile fabrics, they are also invaluable as a colouring agent for almost every known material, the ease with which they can be used and the brilliancy of the result being, indeed, almost magical. By their use almost any article of clothing can be dyed in a few minutes for a few pence without soiling the hands.

MEMORANDA.

MAGENTA: The strength and beauty of this dye is almost incredible. A Sixpenny bottle will dye 20 yards of Bonnet Ribbon in 10 minutes; it will also produce a clear Rose Pink by using less dye. Suitable also for Woollen Goods, Feathers, Silks, &c.

WOOLLENS: Magenta, Mauve, Violet, Purple, Orange, Pink, and Crimson produce the most satisfactory results. Use a large quantity of boiling water in an earthen pan. RIBBONS and SILKS: Brush them with soap and water to avoid creases, and to render them clean. Dye in boiling water.

FEATHERS: Dye in hot water (a few drops of the dye is sufficient for one feather).

COTTON: Mauve, Violet and Purple are recommended.

LEATHER: Blue, Magenta, Violet and Orange. Dye in warm water.

WHITEWASH: To color: Magenta, for Pink or Rose; add half a bottle to a pail of water, then stir in the Whitening as usual. Mauve, Violet, Purple, Blue and crimson produce pretty tints by using one bottle or more, as directed above.

STARCH: Stir in a few drops of Colour—Magenta, Mauve, Violet, Blue or Pink; these impart delicate tints to Lace, Linen, &c.

WILLOW SHAVINGS, Wicker, Ivory, Bone, Hair, Fibres, Seaweed, &c., attract the dye quickly, if applied in boiling water.

BLUE: For laundry purposes is A 1.

BOOK EDGES: A Sixpenny bottle of Magenta, Violet, Crimson or Blue will make from a pint to a quart of beautiful colouring, according to shade required. Apply with a brush.

PAPER and WOOD STAIN: Ditto.

OAK STAIN: A bottle of No. 2 Black to half a-pint of hot water.

SATINWOOD STAIN: A Sixpenny bottle Canary dissolved in a pint of boiling water

PHOTOGRAPHS may be tinted; dilute the dye with water; a bottle of Magenta to a pint of water. &c.

ILLUMINATING: Magenta, Violet, Blue, Orange; pour a few drops into an egg cup add warm water; use with a brush or pen. Borders of books, similar to Ward and Lock's Arabian Nights, &c., may be prettily illuminated in this manner.

BLANCMANGE, JELLY, CORN FLOUR, ICE CREAMS, &c: While in a liquid state add one or two drops of Magenta. A more simple or elegant tinting cannot be had.

CONFECTIONERS will find Magenta, Violet Orange and Pink useful colours.

GELATINES and GLUES are successfully coloured with these dyes.

INK: A Sixpenny bottle of Magenta to a pint or more of cold water.

WATER: One drop of dye will tint a quart.

PRINTING on Cotton, Silk or Wool in the ordinary way.

BLENDING some of the dyes in the bath will produce an infinity of shade, according to taste.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL.

DR. DE JONGH'S Oil is convincingly proved by an overwhelming weight of medical testimony, and by the practical test of successful experience for twenty years in all parts of the world, to be, beyond all question, the purest, the most efficacious, the most palatable, and, from its rapid curative effects, the most economical of all kinds.

Hence the universal celebrity of Dr. de Jongh's Oil, and the unparalleled demand for this unrivalled preparation.

SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.

SIR HENRY MARSH, BART., M.D.,
Physician in Ordinary to the Queen in Ireland.

"I have frequently prescribed Dr. de Jonghs Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil. I consider it to be a very pure oil, not likely to create disgust, and a therapeutic agent of great value."

DR. EDWARD SMITH, F.R.S.,
Medical Officer to the Poor Law Board of Great Britain.

"We think it a great advantage that there is one kind of Cod Liver Oil which is universally admitted to be genuine—the Light-Brown Oil supplied by Dr. de Jongh. It has long been our practice, when prescribing the oil, to recommend this kind, since, amidst a much variety and uncertainty, we have confidence in its genuineness."—(Extract from "Consumption: its Early and Remediable Stages.")

DR. LANKESTER, F.R.S.,
Coroner for Central Middlesex.

"I consider that the purity of this oil is secured in its preparation, by the personal attention of so good a chemist and intelligent a physician as Dr. de Jongh, who has also written the best medical treatise on the oil with which I am acquainted. Hence, I deem the Cod Liver Oil sold under his guarantee to be preferable to any other kind as regards genuineness and medical efficacy."

DR. LETHEBY,
Medical Officer of Health, and Chief Analyst to the City of London.

"In all cases I have found Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil possessing the same set of properties, among which the presence of cholaic compounds, and of iodine in a state of organic combination, are the most remarkable. It is, I believe, universally acknowledged that this oil has great therapeutic power; and from my investigations, I have no doubt of its being a pure and unadulterated article."

DR. BARLOW, F.R.S.,
Senior Physician to Guy's Hospital.

"I have frequently recommended persons consulting me to make use of Dr. de Jongh's Cod Liver Oil. I have been well satisfied with its effects, and believe it to be a very pure oil, well fitted for those cases in which the use of that substance is indicated."

DR. GRANVILLE, F.R.S.,
Author of the "Spas of Germany."

"Dr. Granville has found that Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil produces the desired effect in a shorter time than other kinds, and that it does not cause the nausea and indigestion too often consequent on the administration of the pale oil."

EDWIN CANTON, ESQ., F.R.C.S.,
Surgeon to Charing-cross Hospital.

"For several years past I have been in the habit of prescribing Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil, and find it to be much more efficacious than other varieties of the same medicine which I have also employed with a view to test their relative superiority."

THE QUEEN OF MOHELY.

Her Majesty Fatouma-Djombe, Queen of Mohely, has been a guest of France, at the Hotel du Louvre, Paris. She is a little creature, coppery, and with bulging eyes which are black and good-natured. She has a fine mouth and teeth, and long and silky hair, covered by a golden diadem, and many veils. Her costume is Turkish throughout with coloured boots, and a scarlet spencer. She walks clumsily, and speaks French with facility and correctness. Accompanying her are her son-in-law, who wears a turban and carries a naked sword, and a lady-in-waiting on the Queen, who resembles one of those Nubian figures which support a vase Etrusque, with a head enveloped by a shawl and enormous earrings and grinning teeth. The cook of Her Majesty is also with the party. He is a huge African, who bears, like the son-in-law of his mistress, a sword without its sheath, though his most formidable occupation is to massacre spring chickens, about half-a-dozen of which Fatouma devours daily. The cook is a personage, and, unused to European shoes, appears awkward to them, yet as much delighted at his own erratic movements caused thereby as is the watching crowd in the court-yard of the Hotel du Louvre. Strapped to his back is a sort of game-bag, in which are always a couple of live fowls, in the event of Her Majesty feeling peckish when out upon a promenade. At such an emergency, the gentleman in question clips off the head of the native bird, and presents the quivering corpse to the august lips, which suck blood with great apparent gusto, and the flesh afterwards broiled, the Queen of Mohely devours rapidly with a pinch of mustard for powder. Ordinarily for napkin, Her Majesty uses the curly head of a dusky boy, several of whom travel in her suite in this capacity; but the honour of licking her mistress' fingers belongs to the lady-in-waiting aforesaid, who sleeps at the foot of Fatouma's bed, washes twice a year the royal knees and elbows, and every three months digs out her sovereign's ears. The Queen is come to France on diplomatic business. Several years ago, there was a revolution in Madagascar. The yellow king was dethroned and spirited away. Some said he had been slain, but it has recently been ascertained that he is alive and in captivity, and the little Queen Mohely has asked aid of the emperor to de
