Fire Destroyed Barn

Fire destroyed the large bank barn on the farm of Mr. Lawrence McCracken early Thursday morning last in which was the entire season's crop of the tenant, Mr. Levi Duckett. It is surmised that the cause of the fire was incendiary, committed by prowlers who had also visited the premises on a former occasion. The fire was discovered in time to release the stock confined in the stable, but about forty hens were lost in the conflagration. The barn was a large one of L constructioin and the loss will be heavy to Mr. McCracken as only $1200 of insurance was held, and we understand that Mr. Duckett has $1000 insurance on the contents.
