A FRENCH DUEL.

The journalistic duel attracted a great deal of interest in Paris. A complete account is published in the Figaro, which says that during the first two rounds it was evidently the game of M. Paul de Cassagnac to tire out his opponent and then strike his blow. When the third round commenced it was easy to see that M. Lissagaray was very much weakened; his thumb was swollen, and it was with difficulty he grasped his foil. Feeling his strength diminishing he cried out to his opponent, "But why don't you attack me, sir? It is evident that you want to tire me out." M. de Cassagnac replied by a gesture which seemed to say, "That's my affair." After a few seconds M. de Cassagnac changed his tactics, and went in for a vigorous attack. M. de Lissagaray, however, had no longer the strength to parry his adversary's coups, and in a short time received a deep wound in the right breast. The seconds held him in their arms until the arrival of a doctor. At this moment M. de Cassagnac advanced towards him, and said:—"Will you allow me to shake your hand?" "No, sir," replied M. Lissagaray. "And yet," urged the other, "it is only a question of bravery." M. Lissagaray again replied, "With me, sir, it is a question of principle and political dignity." "I regret it very much," added M. de Cassagnac, as he turned away, "for I should have been glad to shake you by the hand." At this instant M. Lissagaray fainted away, and, as the wound did not bleed, the doctor, who had by this time arrived, applied leeches. When returned to himself, M. Lissagaray wished to recommence the combat, and it was only on the urgent advice of his seconds that he consented to be taken to his hotel. The wounded man, according to latest accounts, is going on favorably, but he insists on fighting again as soon as he is sufficiently recovered.

A RICH YOUNG MAN.

On the 12th of September the Marquis of Bute came of age, and the event was duly celebrated at Cardiff. The family estates are large; the old Marquis was thrifty and energetic, and the young nobleman finds himself in possession of £300,000 a year from perfectly safe and rapidly improving sources. Several Scotch counties, several Welsh counties, a large number of Englishmen, and a still larger population of Irishmen, employed in the Marquis' coal pits, iron mines, ports, docks, and shipping, shared the transports of the occasion. There were illuminations, fire-works, banquets, triumphal arches, processions, &c., &c., and forty steamers crossed the British channel to Cardiff to take part in the celebration. The late Marquis found Cardiff a small fishing port; it is now the fourth port in the United Kingdom. The English public went wild over this grand celebration. As the Times says, "the young Marquis is found to represent in his blood almost everything we wish to see represented. His ancestors have been hereditary sheriffs and coroners of Bute for five centuries; and England has the honour of contributing a Prime Minister to the illustrious pedigree. Never had Bute so wealthy a Lord; never had Cardiff so noble a proprietor." But to return to the principal figure that appears in these descriptions, there can be no mistake as to the significance of £300,000 a year. It is $1,500,000 in gold. It is 7,500,000 francs a year, $5,000 a day in gold. A princely income, yet less than that of some New York merchants. Only a few days ago a lad in Hoboken fell heir to an estate of $47,000,000, which, if well managed in the eight years that separate him from his majority, will possibly be $60,000,000 or $75,000,000, a property that dwarfs that of the young Marquis. As compared with royal incomes in England, it may be said that the Prince of Wales started on his career of semi-royalty with a third of the Cardiff income. Her Majesty cannot really call her own, to spend as she pleases, more than a fifth of the amount.

On the last passage of the French steamer St Laurent, the Berlioz electric light was used at the masthead at night and found to work admirably. It is thought that the general adoption of it would be a means of preventing many collisions, while it is as easy to work a ship thus provided at night as in the day. The ship is now lighted every night in the harbour of New York to show the advantages of the system.

The Grecian Government, by concertly aiding the Cretan insurrection, and publicly denying that any such assistance was given, has lost all control over its officials, and the committee for the distribution of food to the Cretans has been accused of great abuses, and of allowing a system of peculation to grow up. It is rumoured that a distinguished American Phil-Hellene made arrangements for sending supplies of food to the destitute families in the Spakian mountains. Flour was packed in sacks suitable for transport by mules. When the sacks were opened it was discovered that one-third of their contents consisted of bran instead of flour.

The girls have taken to cricket—a game which, but for the petticoats, which are not favourable to good running and fielding, is a thousand times superior to croquet, though, of course, it excludes flirting. At a girls' school at Chantry, the pupils play at cricket in a "special dress,"—and the best cricketers are "almost invariably the best scholars," it can only be accident. The experience of boys' schools shows that there is no law of connection but between excellence in scholarship. Energy is the only quality necessarily favourable to both, and energy is too often limited to departments, and not abundant enough to overflow from the physical to the intellectual, and vice versa.

Beneath Verdi, a Pontifical town built, like an eagle's nest, on the summit of a sterile mountain, extends the estate admirably cultivated of a Roman noble. The proprietor having been summoned by the brigands to send £800 to a certain spot, applied for the protection of the gendarmery. An arrangement was made that a vice-brigadier, dressed as a peasant, should proceed to the place indicated, provided with a revolver and 400 scudi, and followed at a distance by a patrol of his men. On his arrival he found the chief and lieutenant of the band. "My master can only send you," he said, "this sum at present. Money is not easy to find. In a few days I shall have the rest. In the meantime, take the charge, count what there is." Two robbers were stooping down with the request, the other drew pistol and shot them both dead. Opinions, who were posted in a thicket, seeing them fall, revenge, but the gendarmes, and after a short the malefactors, who had two dead on the commissioned officer of the day, decorated by the

DR. VICTOR BAUD'S ORGANIC MEDICINE.

DR. V. BAUD, Graduate and Member of the Medical College of Paris, Chief Physician Extraordinary for Epidemics in Paris, late M.D. of the Civil Hospitals of Algiers, has just introduced in England his ORGANIC MEDICINES.
They consist of three preparations—
THE BAUDEINE,
An efficient and prompt Remedy for Cholera, Yellow Fever, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and the excessive action of the Bowels. A gold medal was awarded by the French Government to Dr V. Baud for this valuable preparation.
Price: Small, 1s 1½d; Medium, 4s 5d; Large Size, 11s per Bottle.
THE DIASTATIZED IRON,
For strengthening the System.—Price 2s 9d per Bottle.
THE DIASTATIZED IODINE,
For purifying the Blood.—Price 2s 9d per Bottle.
 The above Preparations are in the form of Sweetmeats, pleasant to the taste, and particularly adapted for Infants and Mothers nursing.
By the combination of the Iron or Iodine with Cress Seeds in a state of germination, they are united with organic life, which thus renders them digestible. The irritative and stubborn mineral has thus become the nucleus of an organic substance capable of being absorbed by the blood without injury to the stomach.

COUNTY COURT SUMMONSES.—Adapted for use in the County of Frontenac, for sale at the Daily News Office. All kinds of Law Forms printed to order with accuracy and expedition.

ADVERTISEMENTS for the DAILY NEWS, intended to appear the same evening, should be sent in at as early an hour in the day as possible.

THE ORIGINAL CHLORODYNE, invented by R. Freeman, Pharmaceutist, is allowed to be one of the greatest discoveries of the present century. It is largely employed by the most eminent Physicians and Surgeons in hospital and private practice in all parts of the world. It has effects peculiar to itself, and which are essentially different to those produced by the various compounds bearing the name of Chlorodyne, but have no pretence to possessing its virtues. It rapidly relieves pain, from whatever cause, allays the irritation of fever, soothes the system under exhausting diseases, and gives sleep without producing any one of the unpleasant feelings so commonly arising from the use of opiates. It continues to hold its unshaken position in the estimation of the Profession as the best, most reliable, and cheapest preparation. Eminent and scientific Physicians made affidavits that they have tested its effects in careful comparison with those of "DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE," and deposed to the facts that they found it a more certain and reliable preparation, and greatly preferred "FREEMANS."
Earl Russell communicated to the Royal College of Physicians and to Mr Freeman, that in Manilla the only remedy of any use in Cholera was Chlorodine.
The Medical Times and Gazette, January 13th, 1866, states, "It has an immense sale amongst the public, and is prescribed by scores of Orthodox Medical Practitioners, and, of course, it would not be thus singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place."
Manufactured by the Inventor, Richard Freeman, 70, Kennington Park Road, London, S.
The genuine has engraved on the Government Stamp (outside each Bottle), "FREEMAN'S ORIGINAL CHLORODYNE."

CONDY'S PATENT FLUID or natural disinfectant purifies, deodorises, and disinfects, by the agency of nascent or ozonic oxygen,—its active principle. Being entirely innoxious, this truly scientific preparation is peculiarly adapted for the following useful purposes, for which all other disinfectants, on account of their poisonous or other objectionable qualities, are unavailable and useless:—
Detecting organic impurities in air and water.
Purifying drinking and other water from organic matter, lead, &c.
Freshening the air of close places, and removing bad smells.
Freeing meat, fish, butter, or other provisions from taint.
Counteracting the effects of organic poisons taken into the stomach.
Curing Musty provender. Freeing wheat and other seed from smut.
Maintaining the health of plants in pots and conservatories.
Preserving and restoring the freshness of cut flowers kept in water.
Destroying the blight of the potatoe, vine, hop, mulberry tree, &c.
Washing dogs and other domestic animals.
Cleansing bottles, beer barrels, pickling tubs, dairy utensils.
Washing the hair and darkening its colour when turning grey.
Enhancing the purifying and invigorating effects of baths and tubs.
Dressing poisoned wounds and destroying animal virus.
Treating the infectious diseases of cattle, horses, dogs, &c.
One gallon makes 200 to 300 gallons adapted for use.
N.B.—Condy's Fluid is the Standard Scientific Test for Organic Matter in Water, and affords the only known means of rapidly and completely freeing Drinking Water from Organic Taint, which is so common a cause of serious disease.
To rapidly purify the air, use the diluted fluid with "Condy's Ozoniser" or other Spray-producer.
CONDY'S PATENT OZONISED WATER,
(FOR TOILET PURPOSES.)
Removes from the mouth impure and foreign tastes and odours, whether arising from tobacco or other causes, and counteracts the irritation and morbid secretions of carious teeth. It purifies and softens the skin, and, used in the bath, tends to promote a healthy state of the whole body.
H. BOLLMAN CONDY,
Patentee, Battersea, London.

JUDSON'S SIMPLE DYES FOR THE PEOPLE. Any one can use them; anything can be dyed with them. It is impossible in this small space to enumerate the many uses to which these wonderful and beautiful chemical preparations can be applied; while their chief use is for dyeing textile fabrics, they are also invaluable as a colouring agent for almost every known material, the ease with which they can be used and the brilliancy of the result being, indeed, almost magical. By their use almost any article of clothing can be dyed in a few minutes for a few pence without soiling the hands.
MEMORANDA.
MAGENTA: The strength and beauty of this dye is almost incredible. A Sixpenny bottle will dye 20 yards of Bonnet Ribbon in 10 minutes; it will also produce a clear Rose Pink by using less dye. Suitable also for Woollen Goods, Feathers, Silks, &c.
WOOLLENS: Magenta, Mauve, Violet, Purple, Orange, Pink, and Crimson produce the most satisfactory results. Use a large quantity of boiling water in an earthen pan. RIBBONS and SILKS: Brush them with soap and water to avoid creases, and to render them clean. Dye in boiling water.
FEATHERS: Dye in hot water (a few drops of the dye is sufficient for one feather).
COTTON: Mauve, Violet and Purple are recommended.
LEATHER: Blue, Magenta, Violet and Orange. Dye in warm water.
WHITEWASH: To color: Magenta, for Pink or Rose; add half a bottle to a pail of water, then stir in the Whitening as usual. Mauve, Violet, Purple, Blue and crimson produce pretty tints by using one bottle or more, as directed above.
STARCH: Stir in a few drops of Colour—Magenta, Mauve, Violet, Blue or Pink; these impart delicate tints to Lace, Linen, &c.
WILLOW SHAVINGS, Wicker, Ivory, Bone, Hair, Fibres, Seaweed, &c., attract the dye quickly, if applied in boiling water.
BLUE: For laundry purposes is A 1.
BOOK EDGES: A Sixpenny bottle of Magentа, Violet, Crimson or Blue will make from a pint to a quart of beautiful colouring, according to shade required. Apply with a brush.
PAPER and WOOD STAIN: Ditto.
OAK STAIN: A bottle of No. 2 Black to half a pint of hot water.
SATINWOOD STAIN: A Sixpenny bottle Canary dissolved in a pint of boiling water
PHOTOGRAPHS may be tinted; dilute the dye with water; a bottle of Magenta to a pint of water, &c.
ILLUMINATING: Magenta, Violet, Blue, Orange; put a few drops into an egg cup add warm water; use with a brush or pen Borders of books, similar to Ward and Lock's Arabian Nights, &c., may be prettily illuminated in this manner.
BLANCMANGE, JELLY, CORN FLOUR, ICE CREAMS, &c: While in a liquid state add one or two drops of Magenta. A more simple or elegant tinting cannot be had.
CONFECTIONERS will find Magenta, Violet, Orange and Pink useful colours.
GELATINES and GLUES are successfully coloured with these dyes.
INK: A Sixpenny bottle of Magenta to a pint or more of cold water.
WATER: One drop of dye will tint a quart.
PRINTING on Cotton, Silk or Wool in the ordinary way.
BLENDING some of the dyes in the bath will produce an infinity of shade, according to taste.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL.

DR. DE JONGH'S Oil is convincingly proved by an overwhelming weight of medical testimony, and by the practical test of successful experience for twenty years in all parts of the world, to be, beyond all question, the purest, the most efficacious, the most palatable, and, from its rapid curative effects, the most economical of all kinds.
Hence the universal celebrity of Dr. de Jongh's Oil, and the unparalleled demand for this unrivalled preparation.

SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.

SIR HENRY MARSH, BART., M.D.,
Physician in Ordinary to the Queen in Ireland.
"I have frequently prescribed Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil. I consider it to be a very pure oil, not likely to create disgust, and a therapeutic agent of great value."

DR. EDWARD SMITH, F.R.S.,
Medical Officer to the Poor Law Board of Great Britain.
"We think it a great advantage that there is one kind of Cod Liver Oil which is universally admitted to be genuine—the Light-Brown Oil supplied by Dr. de Jongh. It has long been our practice, when prescribing the oil, to recommend this kind, since, amidst a much variety and uncertainty, we have confidence in its genuineness."—(Extract from "Consumption: its Early and Remediable Stages.")

DR. LANKESTER, F.R.S.,
Coroner for Central Middlesex.
"I consider that the purity of this oil is secured in its preparation, by the personal attention of so good a chemist and intelligent a physician as Dr. de Jongh, who has also written the best medical treatise on the oil with which I am acquainted. Hence, I deem the Cod Liver Oil sold under his guarantee to be preferable to any other kind as regards genuineness and medical efficacy."

DR. LETHEBY,
Medical Officer of Health, and Chief Analyst to the City of London.
"In all cases I have found Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil possessing the same set of properties, among which the presence of cholaic compounds, and of iodine in a state of organic combination, are the most remarkable. It is, I believe, universally acknowledged that this oil has great therapeutic power; and from my investigations, I have no doubt of its being a pure and unadulterated article."

DR. BARLOW, F.R.S.,
Senior Physician to Guy's Hospital.
"I have frequently recommended persons consulting me to make use of Dr. de Jongh's Cod Liver Oil. I have been well satisfied with its effects, and believe it to be a very pure oil, well fitted for those cases in which the use of that substance is indicated."

DR. GRANVILLE, F.R.S.,
Author of the "Spas of Germany."
"Dr. Granville has found that Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil produces the desired effect in a shorter time than other kinds, and that it does not cause the nausea and indigestion too often consequent on the administration of the pale oil."

EDWIN CANTON, ESQ., F.R.C.S.,
Surgeon to Charing-cross Hospital.
"For several years past I have been in the habit of prescribing Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil, and find it to be much more efficacious than other varieties of the same medicine which I have also employed with a view to test their relative superiority."
