AFTER THE ITALIAN BRIGANDS.

There are two or three brigand chiefs, who, perhaps, style themselves Generals in the service of King Francis II., who have kept their ground for the last eight years in spite of all the efforts of police, gendarmes, and military. One of these leaders, the famous Guerra, was killed, with several of his band, on the night of the 2nd of August. It was a night of storm and heavy rain when Major Lombardi, warned of the vicinity of the brigands, went out to seek them at the foot of Mount Torone, near Mignano. The search was vain until it occurred to one of the guides to examine some large hollow oak tree, in which they knew that men might easily be hidden. In the very first they found two persons concealed. One of them wrestled with the captain who seized him, but before he could use arms a soldier shot him dead. It was Guerra. The other was shot as he ran away. On examining the body it proved to be that of the brigand's mistress. Another much dreaded brigand, the ferocious Cicconi, a ruffian of herculean strength, was killed on the same occasion. Domenico Fuoco is the most formidable of those who still remain at large. The Italian papers have just announced that the remnant of Guerra's band has yielded itself up to the authorities.

The army of the United States, according to the Register for 1868, consists of five artillery, ten cavalry, and forty-five infantry regiments, which, with the staff, comprise 46 983 enlisted men and 2 943 commissioned officers, the latter including one General, one Lieutenant-General, five Major-Generals and 19 Brigadiers.

One of the young sports of Paris recently lost every sou at cards, borrowed a small sum of his sister, and won it all back again, with a wife into the bargain. To prove do against accidents he paid all his hotel, tailor, and shoemaker bills, and made arrangements to be clothed, fed, and shod for ten years. Now he can pay without fear of detitution.

An inquest was held on Thursday night on a man named Joseph Lancashire, who hung himself on Sunday morning in Bermondsey workhouse. He had previously written on a board, with a piece of chalk, "I can bear my trouble no longer; may God protect my wife and children. Oh God bless them." He had been suspected of selling food out of the workhouse, and £3 17s 6d having been found in his possession, was taken from him. This preyed on his mind. Verdict, suicide under temporary derangement.—Pall Mall Gazette.

THE TWELVE AT ROME.—According to a telegram from Rome:—"A subscription has been commenced by the Roman Legitimists to present the Pope with twelve four-pounder rifled cannon. The next Consistory will be held on the 27th inst." Taken in the foregoing connection, His Holiness's Consistory might really be supposed to be a court for the administration of cannon-law and no mistake, and no pun. Perhaps a mystical significance was intended by the Roman Legitimists in the number of the guns which they presented to the occupant of the Apostolic See. The Pops will possibly evince his recognition of it by calling his twelve new rifled cannon the Twelve Apostles.—Punch.

The Paris shops are beginning to display the dresses which the directors of fashion have decreed that ladies shall wear in the winter. It seems that Scotch plaids will maintain much of the favour they enjoyed last winter and the winter before. It appears, too, from what is said, that the fair creatures are to figure in bonnets as high as chimney-pots. This will be in accordance with the law of reaction, which regulates women's dress as it does other and greater things, if greater there be. It is by this law that after wearing petticoats as expanded as the dome of St. Paul's, they began wearing garments as tight as sacks; and so it is, that after having reduced bonnets to literally nothing at all, they are now about to make them gigantic. Under the same law we may expect to see the huge chignons of false hair give way to heads shaven like those of monks.

Another railway across the Alps, besides that of Mount Cenis, will soon be in operation. The third section of the road by way of the Simplon was opened on September 6th. This route, it is asserted, will form the high road to India, since it will terminate in the heel of the bootshaped peninsula of Italy at Brindisi, the most convenient port for travellers bound for the Isthmus of Suez.

Two young men in Danbury, Ct., recently invested in a New York lottery scheme, and received notice that they had drawn a $200 watch, with a request to forward their ticket and receive the handsome prize. They did so, and early last week received a box on which they paid $12 50. On opening it, instead of a watch, they found half a dozen pieces of broken brick.

The Government has sent a special agent to look after the tobacco manufacturers of Cincinnati, who are believed to be actively defrauding the Government, partly on account of the fact that one plug manufacturer pays more than all the plug factories of Cincinnati, though there are nineteen in number. The Government is believed to be defrauded to the extent of $100,000 per month. The agent now sent to Cincinnati has already secured the conviction and imprisonment of several wealthy manufacturers at St. Louis, whose wealth made them think themselves strong enough for anything. He had speedily arrested one Cincinnati manufacturer, who was believed to be putting false brands on his tobacco packages.

On the 20th ult., there occurred another "potato riot" in Sligo, occasioned by a number of workpeople and others intending to prevent some cartloads of hay and potatoes from being brought to the quay, from whence they were to be shipped to England per Liverpool steamer, which was then about to sail. The police were compelled to disperse the mob, and guard the carts with drawn bayonets.

The Montreal Herald reports that dry goods have been in steady demand during the week, staples having met a good inquiry, with sales fully up to the expectations of the trade. Canadian manufactures are more active, and have participated throughout the season in the general trade to an extent which is fairly satisfactory. The class of goods made this year have been of great excellence, largely taking the place of some of our choicest English and Scotch Woolens.

A pleasant little story is having the run of the press abroad, which illustrates the simplicity of the manners of the Court of Prussia, and which is not without a moral for juvenile readers. It appears that cleanliness is believed in as a duty by the family of the heir apparent of the throne. Each morning the little princes and princesses take a cold bath. Prince Henry, who is six years old, recently took it into his naughty little head that he would not indulge in the plunge. He applied to his father, who stated that if he refused to take a bath he could go without one. His brother and sister, however, continued to be washed with great regularity, and the first morning the little rebel objected, he descended to the court yard for a run before breakfast. Much to his surprise the servants and soldiers took no notice of him. The other juveniles of the royal family were saluted, but Prince Henry was unbonneted. He went to his father and complained of this want of respect. "I am just as much a prince as they are." "So you are, my boy," replied his father, "but you know they cannot pay honours to a dirty little prince, can they?" Prince Henry has resumed his plunge bath.

COUNT BISMARCK'S POLICY AND HEALTH.—The following is an extract from a letter dated Berlin, 21st inst. The writer of it is a Prussian gentleman who holds a high official post, and is on terms of intimacy with Chancellor Von Bismarck:—"I have read with keen interest your report upon public opinion in England on the German question. We are glad to possess the sympathy of a country whose great statesmen and political institutions are admired by every enlightened German. Your sympathy is especially valuable and welcome at the present moment. My country desires peace before everything, and all the efforts of Count Von Bismarck are directed to the preservation of peace. We abstain, and we shall continue to abstain, scrupulously from taking any step which might give umbrage (qui pourrait choquer) to France, especially in our policy towards Southern Germany. But should she, notwithstanding, allow herself to be carried away by warlike passion and attack us, we are prepared for the struggle, and will fight her without fear, and with all our forces. God grant that the Emperor Napoleon may spare the nineteenth century the horrid spectacle of such a war. We are in hopes that his sound sense will carry the day, and that he will resist the excitations of the Chauvinists, who unfortunately, have his ear. At all events, I can tell you that a day or two ago Count Von Bismarck wrote to a friend here, that in his opinion war between Prussia and France was highly improbable (etait hors de tout probabilite). If necessary we can bring into the field 1,200,000 disciplined soldiers—the landwehr included—but exclusive of the southern forces. This is, perhaps, the best guarantee for the maintenance of peace. Owing to the state of Count Von Bismarck's health, which keeps him away from Berlin, it was only a few days ago that I had it in my power to lay your interesting communications before him. I can now assure you, upon the best possible authority, that a wonderful improvement has taken place in the Chancellor's health during the last eight days, and we make sure of his being well enough by the middle of October to resume his duties here."

The Prince and Princess of Wales and suite have left Abergeldie for Dunrobin, the seat of the Duke of Sutherland. It is understood that their royal highnesses will remain the guests of the Duke of Sutherland for two or three weeks, and a distinguished party has been invited to meet them. It has, however, been intimated that the visit will be entirely of a private nature.

THE ORIGINAL CHLORODYNE, invented by R. Freeman, Pharmaceutist, is allowed to be one of the greatest discoveries of the present century. It is largely employed by the most eminent Physicians and Surgeons in hospital and private practice in all parts of the world. It has effects peculiar to itself, and which are essentially different to those produced by the various compounds bearing the name of Chlorodyne, but have no pretence to possessing its virtues. It rapidly relieves pain, from whatever cause, allays the irritation of fever, soothes the system under exhausting diseases, and gives sleep without producing any one of the unpleasant feelings so commonly arising from the use of opiates. It continues to hold its unshaken position in the estimation of the Profession as the best, most reliable, and cheapest preparation. Eminent and scientific Physicians made affidavits that they have tested its effects in careful comparison with those of "DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE," and deposed to the facts that they found it a more certain and reliable preparation, and greatly preferred "FREEMANS."
Earl Russell communicated to the Royal College of Physicians and to Mr Freeman, that in Manilla the only remedy of any use in Cholera was Chlorodine.
The Medical Times and Gazette, January 18th, 1866, states, "It has an immense sale amongst the public, and is prescribed by scores of Orthodox Medical Practitioners, and, of course, it would not be thus singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place."
Manufactured by the Inventor, Richard Freeman, 70, Kennington Park Road, London, S.
The genuine has engraved on the Government Stamp (outside each Bottle), "FREEMAN'S ORIGINAL CHLORODYNE."

CONDY'S PATENT FLUID or natural disinfectant purifies, deodorises, and disinfects, by the agency of nascent or ozonic oxygen,—its active principle. Being entirely innoxious, this truly scientific preparation is peculiarly adapted for the following useful purposes, for which all other disinfectants, on account of their poisonous or other objectionable qualities, are unavailable and useless:—
Detecting organic impurities in air and water.
Purifying drinking and other water from organic matter, lead, &c.
Freshening the air of close places, and removing bad smells.
Freeing meat, fish, butter, or other provisions from taint.
Counteracting the effects of organic poisons taken into the stomach.
Curing Musty provender. Freeing wheat and other seed from smut.
Maintaining the health of plants in pots and conservatories.
Preserving and restoring the freshness of cut flowers kept in water.
Destroying the blight of the potatoe, vine, hop, mulberry tree, &c.
Washing dogs and other domestic animals.
Cleansing bottles, beer barrels, pickling tubs, dairy utensils.
Washing the hair and darkening its colour when turning grey.
Enhancing the purifying and invigorating effects of baths and tubs.
Dressing poisoned wounds and destroying animal virus.
Treating the infectious diseases of cattle, horses, dogs, &c.
One gallon makes 200 to 300 gallons adapted for use.
N.B.—Condy's Fluid is the Standard Scientific Test for Organic Matter in Water, and affords the only known means of rapidly and completely freeing Drinking Water from Organic Taint, which is so common a cause of serious disease.
To rapidly purify the air, use the diluted fluid with "Condy's Ozoniser" or other Spray-producer.
CONDY'S PATENT OZONISED WATER,
(FOR TOILET PURPOSES.)
Removes from the mouth impure and foreign tastes and odours, whether arising from tobacco or other causes, and counteracts the irritation and morbid secretions of carious teeth. It purifies and softens the skin, and, used in the bath, tends to promote a healthy state of the whole body.
H. BOLLMAN CONDY,
Patentee, Battersea, London.

JUDSON'S SIMPLE DYES FOR THE PEOPLE. Any one can use them; anything can be dyed with them. It is impossible in this small space to enumerate the many uses to which these wonderful and beautiful chemical preparations can be applied; while their chief use is for dyeing textile fabrics, they are also invaluable as a colouring agent for almost every known material, the ease with which they can be used and the brilliancy of the result being, indeed, almost magical. By their use almost any article of clothing can be dyed in a few minutes for a few pence without soiling the hands.
MEMORANDA.
MAGENTA: The strength and beauty of this dye is almost incredible. A Sixpenny bottle will dye 20 yards of Bonnet Ribbon in 10 minutes; it will also produce a clear Rose Pink by using less dye. Suitable also for Woollen Goods, Feathers, Silks, &c.
WOOLLENS: Magenta, Mauve, Violet, Purple, Orange, Pink, and Crimson produce the most satisfactory results. Use a large quantity of boiling water in an earthen pan. RIBBONS and SILKS: Brush them with soap and water to avoid creases, and to render them clean. Dye in boiling water.
FEATHERS: Dye in hot water (a few drops of the dye is sufficient for one feather).
COTTON: Mauve, Violet and Purple are recommended.
LEATHER: Blue, Magenta, Violet and Orange. Dye in warm water.
WHITEWASH: To color: Magenta, for Pink or Rose; add half a bottle to a pail of water, then stir in the Whitening as usual. Mauve, Violet, Purple, Blue and crimson produce pretty tints by using one bottle or more, as directed above.
STARCH: Stir in a few drops of Colour—Magenta, Mauve, Violet, Blue or Pink; these impart delicate tints to Lace, Linen, &c.
WILLOW SHAVINGS, Wicker, Ivory, Bone, Hair, Fibres, Seaweed, &c., attract the dye quickly, if applied in boiling water.
BLUE: For laundry purposes is A 1.
BOOK EDGES: A Sixpenny bottle of Magenta, Violet, Crimson or Blue will make from a pint to a quart of beautiful colouring, according to shade required. Apply with a brush.
PAPER and WOOD STAIN: Ditto.
OAK STAIN: A bottle of No. 2 Black to half a-pint of hot water.
SATINWOOD STAIN: A Sixpenny bottle Canary dissolved in a pint of boiling water
PHOTOGRAPHS may be tinted; dilute the dye with water; a bottle of Magenta to a pint of water. &c.
ILLUMINATING: Magenta, Violet, Blue, Orange; pour a few drops into an egg cup add warm water; use with a brush or pen Borders of books, similar to Ward and Lock's Arabian Nights, &c., may be prettily illuminated in this manner.
BLANCHMANGE, JELLY, CORN FLOUR, ICE CREAMS, &c: While in a liquid state add one or two drops of Magenta. A more simple or elegant tinting cannot be had.
CONFECTIONERS will find Magenta, Violet Orange and Pink useful colours.
GELATINES and GLUES are successfully coloured with these dyes.
INK: A Sixpenny bottle of Magenta to a pint or more of cold water.
WATER: One drop of dye will tint a quart.
PRINTING on Cotton, Silk or Wool in the ordinary way.
BLENDING some of the dyes in the bath will produce an infinity of shade, according to taste.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL.

DR. DE JONGH'S Oil is convincingly proved by an overwhelming weight of medical testimony, and by the practical test of successful experience for twenty years in all parts of the world, to be, beyond all question, the purest, the most efficacious, the most palatable, and, from its rapid curative effects, the most economical of all kinds.
Hence the universal celebrity of Dr. de Jongh's Oil, and the unparalleled demand for this unrivalled preparation.

SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.

SIR HENRY MARSH, BART., M.D.,
Physician in Ordinary to the Queen in Ireland.
"I have frequently prescribed Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil. I consider it to be a very pure oil, not likely to create disgust, and a therapeutic agent of great value."

DR. EDWARD SMITH, F.R.S.,
Medical Officer to the Poor Law Board of Great Britain.
"We think it a great advantage that there is one kind of Cod Liver Oil which is universally admitted to be genuine—the Light-Brown Oil supplied by Dr. de Jongh. It has long been our practice, when prescribing the oil, to recommend this kind, since, amidst a much variety and uncertainty, we have confidence in its genuineness."—(Extract from "Consumption: its Early and Remediable Stages.")

DR. LANKESTER, F.R.S.,
Coroner for Central Middlesex.
"I consider that the purity of this oil is secured in its preparation, by the personal attention of so good a chemist and intelligent a physician as Dr. de Jongh, who has also written the best medical treatise on the oil with which I am acquainted. Hence, I deem the Cod Liver Oil sold under His guarantee to be preferable to any other kind as regards genuineness and medical efficacy."

DR. LETHEBY,
Medical Officer of Health, and Chief Analyst to the City of London.
"In all cases I have found Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil possessing the same set of properties, among which the presence of cholaic compounds, and of iodine in a state of organic combination, are the most remarkable. It is, I believe, universally acknowledged that this oil has great therapeutic power; and from my investigations, I have no doubt of its being a pure and unadulterated article."

DR. BARLOW, F.R.S.,
Senior Physician to Guy's Hospital.
"I have frequently recommended persons consulting me to make use of Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil. I have been well satisfied with its effects, and believe it to be a very pure oil, well fitted for those cases in which the use of that substance is indicated."

DR. GRANVILLE, F.R.S.,
Author of the "Spas of Germany."
"Dr. Granville has found that Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil produces the desired effect in a shorter time than other kinds, and that it does not cause the nausea and indigestion too often consequent on the administration of the pale oil."

EDWIN CANTON, ESQ., F.R.C.S.,
Surgeon to Charing-cross Hospital.
"For several years past I have been in the habit of prescribing Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil, and find it to be much more efficacious than other varieties of the same medicine which I have also employed with a view to test their relative superiority."
