ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION OF CHRISTOPHER PULLMAN.

On Thursday night the Hon. Christopher Pullman organized a company of reliable men for duty at the several places of registry. The men were at their appointed posts yesterday facilitating the registration of legal voters, and preventing, as much as possible, the placing on the poll book of the names of men who are in many cases the unconscious agents of designing scoundrels for the preparation of deliberate fraud on the day of election. To this duty, obligatory upon every citizen who desires to preserve the purity of the ballot-box, and hopes to obtain the free expression of the popular voice, Mr Pullman gave his personal attention yesterday. His labours were most effective, not alone in preventing indiscriminating registration, but in deterring men conscious of their wrong from seeking to have their names recorded. The "Ring" felt his power, and saw even in the registration of Friday their defeat on Tuesday next. The removal of Mr Pullman was determined on—by murder, if necessary—and Tammany found willing agents Mr Pullman had left one station to go to another, and had reached the corner of Eighteenth and Second-av. when the assassins—four in number—hired by cowardily but not less criminal creatures, stealthily approached him from behind, and without warning, dealt him a murderous blow with a bludgeon, which felled him to the sidewalk. He was powerless for resistance, and while prostrate the murderers beat him with their clubs and kicked him in every part with their heavy boots. Some citizens witnessed the assault, but were appalled by the bloody spectacle, and fearing a like fate fled. The assassins continued their stamping, and kicking, and clubbing, until they thought their victim was past recovery, and they quietly walked off to one of their many haunts to receive the reward of their work, and escape arrest. Mr Pullman was lifted from the sidewalk and carried, in an insensible condition, to the residence of Mr Charles Irving, where he now lies, not dead, but believed to be dying. There is just a possibility that he may survive.—N. Y. Times.

GRIM RELICS OF THE PAST.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times says:

"In digging out the foundation for some new buildings in the Place de la Bastille, situated at the entrance of the Rue Saint Antoine, some interesting discoveries have been made. Massive blocks of solid masonry have been come upon, which no doubt belonged to the ancient fortress that stood on this site, the first stone of which was laid by Hugues Ambriot, prevot of Paris, on the 22d of April, 1370. Originally the Bastille Saint Antoine had but two towers, but two others were soon afterwards added; and the edifice was still further enlarged in the reigns of Charles VI. and Henry II. The Bastille, which was raised for the purpose of protecting the capital from the attacks of the Bourguignons and the English, afterward served the purposes of a state prison. Henry IV. deposited there for safety the royal treasury; and Sully tells us, in his 'Memoirs,' "that about the year 1610 the King had stowed away in the vaults of the building £15,878,000 in coin, besides £10,000,000 put aside as a saving fund. Some passages, steps and cells almost perfect, have been met with; and among other remains of past ages a Turkish cannon has turned up, which shows that the boasted invention of modern times is not new, but dated some five hundred years back. The progress of the excavations, which are constantly bringing some interesting object to light, is watched with great curiosity by the Parisians, who daily surrounded the place in large numbers."

Considerable reductions are about to be made in the French army. Ten six months' furloughs per company have just been issued; and are to be followed, we hear, by other measures of a similar character. Those who persist in their belief that the Emperor has been meditating an Austro-French campaign against Prussia and Russia, with Spanish troops holding Rome, will of course consider that the collapse of the last Bourbon monarchy has necessitated the postponement of warlike projects.

Much sensation has been caused at St. Johns by the forcible abduction by United States officials of a man named Mills. The man had been indicted for some offence and set at liberty on bail. Not appearing when wanted, detectives were set to work, who traced him to St. John. The Chief of Police was applied to, who said he could not lawfully interfere. Money was then freely used, and the help of one of the city marshals obtained, when Mills was handcuffed and taken on board an American schooner just about to start. It is stated that the man was frightfully ill-used by the officers.

The American Consul at Larnica, Cyprus, has made, by the aid of a peasant, an immensely valuable discovery of Phœnician and Greek antiquities, in an ancient Greek burial place at the village of Dali, the site of Idalium, once the capital of the kingdom. The surface of the burial place is described as from seven to eight acres, the Greek graves being some three feet deep, but having six or seven feet below them a stratum of Phœnician tombs of stone, and oven-shaped. In these were found vases, statuary, jewelry of gold and silver, precious stones, coins, weapons and armour, household and table utensils, ornaments of various kinds, &c., &c., the whole constituting one of the most instructive recoveries for many a day.

A Paris paper says: "Every year, on the same day, at the same hour, a beautiful woman of about 35 comes to the Palais Royal on foot, and enters the famous 'Freres Provencanx.' She is always alone, always dressed in black, and deeply veiled; she wears no ornaments to attract attention, no jewels save two beautiful black pearls in her ears. Without saying a word to any one, she walks quickly up the stairs and enters the private room No. 4. The proprietor of the establishment, who knows her ways, orders her dinner, consisting always of the same dishes. These are all placed upon the table at the same time, and the mysterious lady is left to herself for about two hours. No bill is made out; the unknown visitor leaves one of her pearl earrings in payment. For twelve years, we are told, she has come thus, always melancholy-looking, always dressed in black. Who can she be? The waiters have surnamed her 'La Princesse aux Perles.'"

Coughs and Colds.

Sudden changes of climate are sources of Pulmonary, Bronchial, and Asthmatic affections Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges. Few are aware of the importance of checking a cough, or "common cold," in its first stage. That which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected soon attacks the Lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Cough Lozenges, allay irritation which induces coughing, having a direct influence on the affected parts. As there are imitations, be sure to obtain the genuine. Sold by all dealers in Medicines at 25 cents a box.

It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price 25 cents. EFFECT OF ADVERTISING.—It is amusing at times to observe the stores of the merchants who don't advertise; to see the anxious proprietors looking into the streets and see the people go by, wondering why they don't come in, while the stores of their neighbours who do advertise are thronged with customers. Some people will learn by observation, others will not.—Daily Palladium.

THE CIRCULATION of the DAILY NEWS is fully one-half larger than that of any other daily journal published in Kingston. The circulation of the old established weekly CHRONICLE AND NEWS is also greater than any other weekly published in the county. Advertisers will perceive that these journals are the best media for attracting public attention in this locality.

ADVERTISEMENTS for the DAILY NEWS, intended to appear the same evening, should be sent in at as early an hour in the day as possible.

WOMAN.

FEMALES, owing to the peculiar and important relations which they sustain, their peculiar organisation, and the offices they perform, are subject to many sufferings. Freedom from these contributes in no small degree to their happiness and welfare, for none can be happy who are ill. Not only so, but no one of these various female complaints can long be suffered to run on without involving the general health of the individual, and ere long producing permanent sickness and premature decline. Nor is it pleasant to consult a physician for the relief of these various delicate affections, and only upon the most urgent necessity will a true woman so far sacrifice her greatest charm as to do this. The sex will then thank us for placing in their hands simple specifics which will be found efficacious in relieving and curing almost every one of those troublesome complaints peculiar to the sex.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU.

Hundreds suffer on in silence, and hundreds of others apply vainly to druggists and doctors, who either merely tantalize them with the hope of a cure or apply remedies which make them worse. I would not wish to assert anything that would do injustice to the afflicted, but I am obliged to say that although it may be produced from excessive exhaustion of the powers of life, by laborious employment, unwholesome air and food, profuse menstruation, the use of tea and coffee, and frequent childbirth, it is far oftener caused by direct irritation, applied to the mucous membrane of the vagina itself.

When reviewing the causes of these distressing complaints, it is most painful to contemplate the attendant evils consequent upon them. It is but simple justice to the subject to enumerate a few of the many additional causes which so largely affect the life, health, and happiness of woman in all classes of society, and which, consequently, affect more or less directly, the welfare of the entire human family. The mania that exists for precocious education and marriage, causes the years that nature designed for corporeal development to be wasted and perverted in the restraints of dress, the early confinement of school, and especially in the unhealthy excitement of the ball-room. Thus, with the body half-clothed, and the mind unduly excited by pleasure, perverting in midnight revels the hours designed by nature for sleep and rest, the work of destruction is half accomplished.

In consequence of this early strain upon her system, unnecessary effort is required by the delicate votary to retain her situation in school at a later day, thus aggravating the evil. When one excitement is over, another in prospective keeps the mind morbidly sensitive to impression, while the now constant restraint of fashionable dress, absolutely forbidding the exercise indispensable to the attainment and retention of organic health and strength; the exposure to night air; the sudden change of temperature; the complete prostration produced by excessive dancing, must, of necessity, produce their legitimate effect. At last, an early marriage caps the climax of misery, and the unfortunate one, hitherto so utterly regardless of the plain dictates and remonstrances of her delicate nature, becomes an unwilling subject of medical treatment. This is but a truthful picture of the experience of thousands of our young women.

Long before the ability to exercise the functions of the generative organs, they require an education of their peculiar nervous system, composed of what is called the tissue, which is, in common with the female breast and lips, evidently under the control of mental emotions and associations at an early period of life; and, as we shall subsequently see, these emotions, when excessive, lead, long before puberty, to habits which sap the very life of their victims ere nature has self-completed their development.

For Female Weakness and Debility, Whites or Leucorrhœa, Too Profuse Menstruation, Exhaustion, Too Long Continued Periods, for Prolapsus and Bearing Down, or Prolapsus Uteri, we offer the most perfect specific known:

HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF BUCHU.

Directions for use, diet, and advice, accompany Females in every period of life, from infancy to extreme old age, will find it a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. Strength is the glory of manhood and womanhood.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BACHU.

is more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron, infinitely safer, and more pleasant.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, having received the indorsement of the most prominent physicians in the United States, is now offered to afflicted humanity as a certain cure for the following diseases and symptoms, from whatever cause originating: General Debility, Mental and Physical Depression, Imbecility, Determination of Blood to the Head, Confused Ideas, Hysteria, General Irritability, Restlessness and Sleeplessness at Night, Absence of Muscular Efficiency, Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, Low Spirits, Disorganization or Paralysis of the Organs of Generation, Palpitation of the Heart, and, in fact, all the concomitants of a Nervous and Debilitated state of the system. To insure the genuine, cut this out. Ask for HELMBOLD'S. Take no other. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Price $1,25 per bottle, or six bottles for $6,50. Delivered to any address. Describe the symptoms in all communications. Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N.Y.
