55th Wedding Anniversary

On January 28th, 1875, Miss Lydia M. Postill became the wife of Jas. H. Sewell. The ceremony took place at the bride's home on the ninth line of Euphrasia. The officiating minister was Rev. Robinson of Ebenezer Methodist church of the circuit which was the Euphrasia circuit but is now in the Markdale circuit. Miss Isabella Blain (Mrs. Wm. Hodgson) was bridesmaid while Wm. Sewell assisted the groom.

There were seven children born of this union, five daughters and two sons. The daughters are: Mrs. J. R. Gauley of Toronto; Mrs. Geo. Wm. Cooper of Fairbanks; Mrs. Oliver Hill of Meaford, Ont; Mrs. David Anderson and Mrs. Leslie Harper, both of Mount Dennis. The sons are: Mr. R. H. Sewell of Toronto, and Mr. J. P. Sewell of Rock Mills, Ont. The children were all home and took dinner with their parents at a family re-union on the 55th anniversary of the wedding at the couple's home at 56 Beechwood Ave., Mount Dennis. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The table was beautiful with daffodils, gold candles and green and gold favor cups, the table for the grandchildren being done in the same colors

Mr. and Mrs. Sewell have thirty-five grandchildren and ten great grandchildren. Ten grandchildren and one great grandchild were present at the celebration.

Telegrams of congratulations were received from different parts of the United States and Canada, showing the high esteem in which the couple are held.—Markdale Standard.

APPENDICITIS IN CHILDREN

It is generally known that appendicitis is a comparitively common disease. It is not so generally known, however, that appendicitis is responsible for between 1,300 and 1,400 deaths each year in Canada. Particularly it is not known that it is a condition occurring among children. During one year, of the 1,321 deaths due to this cause, 470 were those of children under fifteen years of age.

We have secured recently from the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, some information regarding appendicitis, containing statements which are of great public importance. The experience of this institution shows that appendicitis is a common ailment of children at all ages. When the condition is recognized early and is properly treated, the results are most satisfactory. If, however, there is delay in securing proper treatment, and the condition is allowed to progress until the appendix ruptures, the not infrequent result is the death of the child despite all efforts to save him.

The condition calls for a repetition of what we have so often stated—early proper treatment is necessary if the patient is to be given a fair chance for recovery through the benefit of medical science. The cause of delay in securing treatment generally rests with the parents who are unaware of the dangers that may accompany severe abdominal pain. The "pain in the stomach" is thought but little of, and the child is frequently given a dose of castor oil or some other purgative which sets the digestive tract in motion just at the time when nature wishes to be at rest.

When appendicitis occurs there is pain. Older children say it is cramp like and usually point it out as being in the region of the umbilious. Younger children just point to the abdomen when asked where the pain is. Usually there is nausea and vomiting. There is only one sensible thing to be done for the child with abdominal pain, and that is to call the doctor and refrain from giving any household remedies Ths may seem a needless amount of fuss and bother, and we are not suggesting that every stomach ache is appendictis, but we do say that unless abdominal pain is always regarded seriously, cases of appendicitis will be neglected and children will continue to be sacrificed to procrastination.

J. J. Morrison claims that a great many villages will go bankrupt if their population continues to decrease. Many villages have certainly decreased in population in the past twenty years, but the question is, how can it be prevented?

THE ONE WHO MAKES THE RECORDS

A young fellow who had experienced rather more than his share of difficulties, as he thought, visited an uncle who was an enthusiastic gardner. As the boy watched the older man cutting back some of his plants ruthlessly, he was moved to remonstrate. His uncle's answer set him thinking. If plants were sturdier and bloomed more profusely because of their setbacks, was it not possible that he might be the better for what had happened to him?

There can be little doubt on that score. The plant that is pruned, and the boy who has to fight his way through difficulties, are the ones who make the records.

The shake-up among the brokers which has occurred during the last week has undoubtedly been a good thing for both the brokers and the investors. It has let the brokers know that it will pay to play the game on the level after this, while the investors will be a little more careful where they place their money. Just whether any of the money lost in some of the illegal transactions will be recovered is of course another matter.
