Jack is Twenty-one To-day

JACK is twenty-one to-day. But he has more than a man's years to his credit. He has one thousand dollars in the bank.

It has grown with a practical mother's love, from the initial deposit of one dollar on the first birthday twenty years ago. Youth and age alike bear witness to the value of steadily building a Savings Bank Account. Your child as a depositor, will attain a higher standing in the community, family, or, most important, in his own estimation. Open a savings account for the child.

Quite a number of radio users of town were privileged to secure the telephone conversation between Lieut. Byrd, leader of the Ontario exploration party, and New York, the reception being quite clear. On Monday night the boys went to Durham for the return game and received the short end of a 5-1 tally. Durham had several outside players on the roster. The girls also played in both places, the score here being 2-1 in favor of the local team and in Durham the score was 0-0.

Meeting Postponed

The meeting announced in last issue to be held on Friday night last was postpond owing to several circumstances, one being that several wished to attend the chautauqua at Markdale. It has been suggested that a bowling green be one aim with the surplus funds and it is also proposed to have the Toron to committee suggest ways and means, since they had so much to do with the success of the big event.

In last week's issue we stated that the ladies had as much interest in any proposition as the men, since they contributed very materially to the success of the days. Chairman Findlay seems to think otherwise and has taken us to task for not printing his notice exectly as he sent it in. Following is t he exact wording of the note sent to us announcing the event: "There will be a meeting in the town hall Friday evening of this week of the business men and others who contributed toward the starting of the Old Home Week End to try and decide what use the balance on hand will be used for. T. W. Findlay, chairman."

Since practically all the older citizens were on the various committees for the re-union we can hardly see where they can be left out of any meeting that has to do with the appropriation of the funds for other purposes. In the above notice of the meeting we fail to see who the "others" would mean if not the ladies and other residents of the village.

However, the meeting is indefinitely postponed until further notice.

An Interesting Trip

Through the courtesy of the Canadian Pacific Railway we were enabled to make a visit to Montreal last week to attend a meeting of the Ontario-Quebec division of the Ontario Weekly Newspapers Association, held in the Windsor hotel on Friday. A large number of the publishers from this part were represented, among them being the Hanover Post, Walkerton Herald & Times, Markdale Standard and Thornbury Review Herald. David Williams of the Collingwood Bulletin presided at the meeting, which was very interesting and instructive.

In the evening the Association members were the guests of Lord Atholstan and the Family Herald & Weekly Star at a banquet at the Windsor hotel. Mr. C. Gordonsmith, editor of the Family Herald, presided. Rev. Dr. A. P. Shatford, Rector of the church of St. James the Apostle, was the chief speaker of the evening and delighted the gathering with his comparisons between the press and the clergy, claiming they had much in common. His address was an exceptional one that will not soon be forgotten. He stated that the weekly press received more attention from the subscriber away from home than the daily, because it was an event. The arrival of each paper was anticipated a week ahead, was thoroughly read and then was talked over until the next issue arrived.

Montreal is a great city and there are many places of historic interest. We paid a visit to the Chateau de Ramezay which was built in 1705 by de Ramezay who was governor of Montreal at that time. In it are housed many pictures of historical characters and hundreds of relics of various kinds from the earliest days to those of the present era and it is full of interest to a lover of archaeology.

Mount Royal Park is one of indescribable beauty and is situated at the summit of Mount Royal. An excellent view can be secured from the look-out and one can view the great St. Lawrence river for miles both up and down, while away to the south can be seen the green mountains and from the north side of the mountain the Laurentians are visible from 50 to 70 miles away. On the summit of Mount Royal a cross has been erected which is illuminated at night and is visible from a great distance, and appears from down the river as though a huge cross were suspended in the sky. It is stated that it is an inspiring sight for a traveller on a liner to view this at night while coming up the river.

St. James and Notre Dame cathedrals are well worth visiting as is also the Catholic shrine on the north side of the mountain. This is a beautiful building and is still under construction.

With the short time at our disposal were unable to visit as many places of interest as were available, but we were delighted with our visit and we look forward to the time when we will be able to visit this great ocean port in the summer season when business is in full swing.

The Final Debate

The final debate of the debating series in group no. 1 of the Young Peoples' Union of Grey Presbytery was held in Inistioge church on Tuesday evening of last week, March 4, between teams representing the Young Peoples Societies of Dundalk and Flesherton, the former being declared the winner. The subject was "Resolved that complete disarmament on both land and sea is long overdue and should be proceeded with immediately. The affirmative was supported by Miss Irene Martin and Jim Haw of Flesherton, while Misses Frances Carson and Evelyn Shouldice of Dundalk upheld the negative. All the speakers did exceptionally well and brought out many strong arguments and the debate was exceedingly interesting and beneficial to an audience which filled the church to capacity. The affirmative took the ground that modern armaments are enormously costly and preparedness was sure to lead to war with all its horrors and blood shed, while the negative maintained that envy and jealousy, bitter rivalrys and mistrust were the cause of war, and until the cause was removed there would be strife even though they had to fight with rolling pins or bows and arrows. The judges were Mr. T. R. McKenzie of Port Law, Mrs. Patterson of Inistioge and Mrs. Johnston of Praton, who decided that the negative had slightly the better of the argument. Dundalk is now champion of this group and will enter the semifinals. Miss M. Acheson sang a solo and short addresses were given by Rev. Scott of Flesherton and Mr. McKenzie. Mr. Howard Graham convenor of the Literary and Social Department of Grey Presbytery presided.

World's Day of Prayer

The World's Day of Prayer has become, as its name signifies, a world affair, and last year was observed in twenty nine countries. On Friday of last week the meeting was held in the United church with a large gathering from the churches in the village and country. Mrs. (Rev.) Wolstencroft presided over the meeting with Mrs. Blackburn at the piano. The collection amounted to $2.45 and will be forwarded to the Treasurer of the Interboard Committee of the Women's Missionary Societies of Canada.
