THE INQUISITION OF SPAIN.

The Spanish people appear to avail themselves of their newly-acquired freedom to express their detestation of what was done in the country in former times, when priestly and despotic influences ruled the nation. A play, called The Inquisitor; or, The Tribunal of the Inquisition, was produced on the 19th, in the Lyceum Theatre of Barcelona, one of the most spacious in [illegible] When the first inquisitor appeared on the stage, the audience expressed their feelings by hisses and imprecations. The apostolic [illegible] proceeded simultaneously from all points. "Que le lleven al pontion!" ("Duck him in the water"), and other manifestations of dislike, were expressed, and so energetically that one of the representative inquisitors actually ran off without finishing his part. There is a point in the play where the friends of four or five victims of the Inquisition, who had been condemned to death, appear to rescue the prisoners. They overpower the inquisitors, and terrify them by holding their daggers to their breasts. This scene produced tremendous cheering, and their wishes were gratified. In another theatre a piece of a very different kind was being performed. In the latter case Christ was represented as the victim of oppression and injustice, and when Judas hanged himself from remorse there was a cry in strong Catalan "es ben fat" ("well done").

Reverdy Johnson is now called the "great champion American diner-out."

A royal commission on marriages has ascertained some curious facts regarding youthful marriages, especially in Lancashire, England, which are interesting. In Scotland, marriages of this kind are unusually rare, although in that happy kingdom minors are not required to obtain the consent of their guardians before slipping on the matrimonial noose. The census returns of 1861 show that in Bolton 45 husbands and 175 wives were married at the age of 15 and under. Bromley had 51 husbands and 147 wives of the same precocious age. Stockport, as a local journal wrote, "asserted its proud preeminence" by contributing to the censur returns 59 husbands and 179 wives who were united before their fifteenth birthday had passed.

"A Clerk in Holy Orders" has recently published a pamphlet entitled "Have Women Immortal Souls?" We quote the following from this absurd production: "No woman, working for years with the old-fashioned distaff, would ever think that a better plan for doing her work could be invented. The idea of suggesting the least improvement upon it would never enter her thoughts. There is not in her mind the least spark of originality. The senses of sight, hearing &c., suggest ideas to her mind, but they are always associated with something she has before heard or seen. She has many thoughts, and but little or no reason. Her mind is as deficient of inventive genius or creative power as a clock. Had man not taught woman the art of making a fire and cooking, she would ever have eaten her food raw, without having the faintest idea that any improvement could be made upon it. They cannot form correct opinions of right or wrong. Instinct does not teach them how to do that; and the only way they have of knowing is by what they are told. What is wrong with them one day is right the next—according to circumstances affecting instinct or variety." We forbear to quote any further from such a publication. Of all the assaults which have lately been made upon woman and woman's little eccentricities, this appears to be the most disgraceful. It is very evident that "A Clerk in Holy Orders" has been jilted, or he is a Mahomedan in disguise. He and his book should be suppressed.

The October number of the Quarterly Review opens with an exhaustive article on English railways. The working of a London railway at night is thus described: The working of a London railway station is one of the busiest night sights in London, for all the outward merchandize traffic is loaded and despatched to the country at night, and nearly all the inwards traffic arrives from the country in the early morning for delivery to the consignees before the usual hours of business begin. Fancy fifteen hundred men nightly occupied in loading and unloading gods' sheds of a single company—vans arriving from all parts of the metropolis, beginning at 6:30, p.m., and ending 9:30—a little army of men struggling with the bulky packages which they deposit on their respective platforms, from whence they are loaded into the railway waggons placed alongside and despatched at once, train by train, to the remotest part of the kingdom. The scene appears at first one of inextricable confusion—men battling with bales, barrels, crates, and hampers amidst the noise of voices and clangour of machinery. Yet the whole is proceeding with regularity and despatch, and in the course the last train outwards has left, and the station is wrapped in quiet until the time of the early morning arrivals."

"KISSED FOR FAVOUR."—On Wednesday Mr Graves and Lord Sandon visited St. John's Market. They were accompanied by Councillors Rigby, Minton, Holden, and Steble. At first the uninitiated scarcely perceived any political significance in the visit. But these were short-sighted politicians. The candidates and their guide first visited St. John's fruit market, where they were received with mingled hisses and applause. But the triumph awaited them in the market where the fish is sold. When the honourable candidates entered the market they were received by a deputation of the most buxom and comely of ladies who retail soles, salmon, and shrimps.—Both of the Tory candidates are what the fair sex call "handsome men." This had, no doubt, great influence with the fishwomen, for they gave the Tory gentlemen a most enthusiastic reception. A buxom vendor of fish linked her arm in that of Viscount Sandon, and insisted upon promenading a part of the market with him. The honourable candidate acceded, and a most imposing procession was formed, led by the fishwife and Lord Sandon, followed by Mr Graves and their Tory supporters. When the party reached the end of the fish market the climax of the demonstration was reached. A female fishseller, who has not long been married, rushed from behind her stall, embraced first Lord Sandon and kissed him, and then did ditto to Mr Graves. It has not transpired whether the candidates returned the salutation, but the patroitic kissing of the fishwife was applauded to the echo. Kissing in times past formed no unimportant part in political canvassing. A candidate for political honours was as much expected to kiss the butcher's wife and fondle her children as he was expected to issue his address. It was said some years ago that a certain duchess carried a Scotch county for the Whigs by kissing the doubtful voters.—Liverpool Mercury.

CHOLERA, DIARRHŒA, &c.
EARL RUSSELL sent to the College of Physicians a communication received by him from Manilla (where cholera had been graing fearfully) to the effect that, of all remedies tried, Chlorodyne was the most effective.
"The day seems as yet, unhappily, far distant when public opinion or State interference will prevent the advertisement or sale of any secret medicine whatsoever. It is to be hoped that the profession will continue to brand as unworthy the conduct of those of its members who by testimonial or otherwise aid the disposal of such things."—Lancet.
TOWLE'S CHLORODYNE.
The Original Preparation of known Composition.
From Dr C. Kidd, Author of Standard Works on Chloroform.
Sackville-street, Piccadilly, London.
Sir,—I think if you would advertise your Chlorodyne more than you do, you would help to beat the others, which are secret compounds, out of the market. Many medical men think with me, and recommend your compound, but will never prescribe a secret remedy.
CHARLES KIDD, M.D.
To Mr Towle, Chemist, Manchester.
A Surgeon from New York writes:—"It only requires to be known to be appreciated. I have no hesitatien in characterising it (viz., Towle's Chlorodyne) as the most useful medicine that has appeared during the present century. In diarrhœa, colic, ague, spasms, I have found it to relieve more pain and cause more joy than any other article that can be named."
NOTE.—The Profession is warned against inferior, secret, and cheap compounds now in the market. Each genuine bottle bears a facsimile of Proprietor's signature on the stamp outside.

ADVERTISEMENTS for the DAILY NEWS, intended to appear the same evening, should be sent in at as early an hour in the day as possible.

THE ORIGINAL CHLORODYNE, invented by R. Freeman, Pharmaceutist, is allowed to be one of the greatest discoveries of the present century. It is largely employed by the most eminent Physicians and Surgeons in hospital and private practice in all parts of the world. It has effects peculiar to itself, and which are essentially different to those produced by the various compounds bearing the name of Chlorodyne, but have no pretence to possessing its virtues. It rapidly relieves pain, from whatever cause, allays the irritation of fever, soothes the system under exhausting diseases, and gives sleep without producing any one of the unpleasant feelings so commonly arising from the use of opiates. It continues to hold its unshaken position in the estimation of the Profession as the best, most reliable, and cheapest preparation. Eminent and scientific Physicians made affidavits that they have tested its effects in careful comparison with those of "DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE," and deposed to the facts that they found it a more certain and reliable preparation, and greatly preferred "FREEMANS."
Earl Russell communicated to the Royal College of Physicians and to Mr Freeman, that in Manilla the only remedy of any use in Cholera was Chlorodine.
The Medical Times and Gazette, January 18th, 1866, states, "It has an immense sale amongst the public, and is prescribed by scores of Orthodox Medical Practitioners, and, of course, it would not be thus singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place."
Manufactured by the Inventor, Richard Freeman, 70, Kennington Park Road, London, S.
The genuine has engraved on the Government Stamp (outside each Bottle), "FREEMAN'S ORIGINAL CHLORODYNE."

CONDY'S PATENT FLUID or natural disinfectant purifies, deodorises, and disinfects, by the agency of nascent or ozonic oxygen,—its active principle. Being entirely innoxious, this truly scientific preparation is peculiarly adapted for the following useful purposes, for which all other disinfectants, on account of their poisonous or other objectionable qualities, are unavailable and useless:—
Detecting organic impurities in air and water.
Purifying drinking and other water from organic matter, lead, &c.
Freshening the air of close places, and removing bad smells.
Freeing meat, fish, butter, or other provisions from taint.
Counteracting the effects of organic poisons taken into the stomach.
Curing Musty provender. Freeing wheat and other seed from smut.
Maintaining the health of plants in pots and conservatories.
Preserving and restoring the freshness of cut flowers kept in water.
Destroying the blight of the potatoe, vine, hop, mulberry tree, &c.
Washing dogs and other domestic animals.
Cleansing bottles, beer barrels, pickling tubs, dairy utensils.
Washing the hair and darkening its colour when turning grey.
Enhancing the purifying and invigorating effects of baths and tubs.
Dressing poisoned wounds and destroying animal virus.
Treating the infectious diseases of cattle, horses, dogs, &c.
One gallon makes 200 to 300 gallons adapted for use.
N.B.—Condy's Fluid is the Standard Scientific Test for Organic Matter in Water, and affords the only known means of rapidly and completely freeing Drinking Water from Organic Taint, which is so common a cause of serious disease.
To rapidly purify the air, use the diluted fluid with "Condy's Ozoniser" or other Spray-producer.
CONDY'S PATENT OZONISED WATER,
(FOR TOILET PURPOSES,)
Removes from the mouth impure and foreign tastes and odours, whether arising from tobacco or other causes, and counteracts the irritation and morbid secretions of carious teeth. It purifies and softens the skin, and, used in the bath, tends to promote a healthy state of the whole body.
H. BOLLMAN CONDY,
Patentee, Battersea, London.

JUDSON'S SIMPLE DYES FOR THE PEOPLE. Any one can use them; anything can be dyed with them. It is impossible in this small space to enumerate the many uses to which these wonderful and beautiful chemical preparations can be applied; while their chief use is for dyeing textile fabrics, they are also invaluable as a colouring agent for almost every known material, the ease with which they can be used and the brilliancy of the result being, indeed, almost magical. By their use almost any article of clothing can be dyed in a few minutes for a few pence without soiling the hands.
MEMORANDA.
MAGENTA: The strength and beauty of this dye is almost incredible. A Sixpenny bottle will dye 20 yards of Bonnet Ribbon in 10 minutes; it will also produce a clear Rose Pink by using less dye. Suitable also for Woollen Goods, Feathers, Silks, &c.
WOOLLENS: Magenta, Mauve, Violet, Purple, Orange, Pink, and Crimson produce the most satisfactory results. Use a large quantity of boiling water in an earthen pan. RIBBONS and SILKS: Brush them with soap and water to avoid creases, and to render them clean. Dye in boiling water.
FEATHERS: Dye in hot water (a few drops of the dye is sufficient for one feather).
COTTON: Mauve, Violet and Purple are recommended.
LEATHER: Blue, Magenta, Violet and Orange. Dye in warm water.
WHITEWASH: To color: Magenta, for Pink or Rose; add half a bottle to a pail of water, then stir in the Whitening as usual. Mauve, Violet, Purple, Blue and crimson produce pretty tints by using one bottle or more, as directed above.
STARCH: Stir in a few drops of Colour—Magenta, Mauve, Violet, Blue or Pink; these impart delicate tints to Lace, Linen, &c.
WILLOW SHAVINGS, Wicker, Ivory, Bone, Hair, Fibres, Seaweed, &c., attract the dye quickly, if applied in boiling water.
BLUE: For laundry purposes is A 1.
BOOK EDGES: A Sixpenny bottle of Magenta, Violet, Crimson or Blue will make from a pint to a quart of beautiful colouring, according to shade required. Apply with a brush.
PAPER and WOOD STAIN: Ditto.
OAK STAIN: A bottle of No. 2 Black to half a-pint of hot water.
SATINWOOD STAIN: A Sixpenny bottle Canary dissolved in a pint of boiling water
PHOTOGRAPHS may be tinted; dilute the dye with water; a bottle of Magenta to a pint of water. &c.
ILLUMINATING: Magenta, Violet, Blue, Orange; pour a few drops into an egg cup add warm water; use with a brush or pen
Borders of books, similar to Ward and Lock's Arabian Nights, &c., may be prettily illuminated in this manner.
BLANCMANGE, JELLY, CORN FLOUR, ICE CREAMS, &c: While in a liquid state add one or two drops of Magenta. A more simple or elegant tinting cannot be had.
CONFECTIONERS will find Magenta, Violet Orange and Pink useful colours.
GELATINES and GLUES are successfully coloured with these dyes.
INK: A Sixpenny bottle of Magenta to a pint or more of cold water.
WATER: One drop of dye will tint a quart.
PRINTING on Cotton, Silk or Wool in the ordinary way.
BLENDING some of the dyes in the bath will produce an infinity of shade, according to taste.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL.
DR. DE JONGH'S Oil is convincingly proved by an overwhelming weight of medical testimony, and by the practical test of successful experience for twenty years in all parts of the world, to be, beyond all question, the purest, the most efficacious, the most palatable, and, from its rapid curative effects, the most economical of all kinds.
Hence the universal celebrity of Dr. de Jongh's Oil, and the unparalleled demand for this unrivalled preparation.
SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.
SIR HENRY MARSH, BART., M.D.,
Physician in Ordinary to the Queen in Ireland.
"I have frequently prescribed Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil. I consider it to be a very pure oil, not likely to create disgust, and a therapeutic agent of great value."
DR. EDWARD SMITH, F.R.S.,
Medical Officer to the Poor Law Board of Great Britain.
"We think it a great advantage that there is one kind of Cod Liver Oil which is universally admitted to be genuine—the Light-Brown Oil supplied by Dr. de Jongh. It has long been our practice, when prescribing the oil, to recommend this kind, since, amidst a much variety and uncertainty, we have confidence in its genuineness."—(Extract from "Consumption: its Early and Remediable Stages.")
DR. LANKESTER, F.R.S.,
Coroner for Central Middlesex.
"I consider that the purity of this oil is secured in its preparation, by the personal attention of so good a chemist and intelligent a physician as Dr. de Jongh, who has also written the best medical treatise on the oil with which I am acquainted. Hence, I deem the Cod Liver Oil sold under his guarantee to be preferable to any other kind as regards genuineness and medical efficacy."
DR. LETHEBY,
Medical Officer of Health, and Chief Analyst to the City of London.
"In all cases I have found Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil possessing the same set of properties, among which the presence of cholaic compounds, and of iodine in a state of organic combination, are the most remarkable. It is, I believe, universally acknowledged that this oil has great therapeutic power; and from my investigations, I have no doubt of its being a pure and unadulterated article."
DR. BARLOW, F.R.S.,
Senior Physician to Guy's Hospital.
"I have frequently recommended persons consulting me to make use of Dr. de Jongh's Cod Liver Oil. I have been well satisfied with its effects, and believe it to be a very pure oil, well fitted for those cases in which the use of that substance is indicated."
DR. GRANVILLE, F.R.S.,
Author of the "Spas of Germany."
"Dr. Granville has found that Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil produces the desired effect in a shorter time than other kinds, and that it does not cause the nausea and indigestion too often consequent on the administration of the pale oil."
EDWIN CANTON, ESQ., F.R.C.S.,
Surgeon to Charing-cross Hospital.
"For several years past I have been in the habit of prescribing Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil, and find it to be much more efficacious than other varieties of the same medicine which I have also employed with a view to test their relative superiority."
