THE ANNOUNCER WAS RIGHT

The good people of Guelph are quite hot under the collar because on Sunday night a radio announcer in New York claimed Edward Johnson to be "the great American tenor." Johnson was born in Guelph and his prents reside there. But what's the use of getting excited? That announcer was quite correct. The United States has no monopoly of the name America. We in Canada are domiciled in America as much as are the people of Uncle Sam's dominions. As a matter of fact the title "America" should have been dropped long ago and the United States and Canada substituted. The United States and Canada are approximately territorial equals on the North American continent, and should share alike the sub-title "America."

Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion boxer, is contemplating a come-back. We would rather remember Jack as he was in past years than that of a defeated candidate for the heavyweight crown, defeated by a boxer who would have been "easy" when Jack was at the height of his career.

Mahatma Gandhi, the reformer of India, has betn conducting a campaign of "Civil disobedience" against the British government.. His crusade is failing as support of his dreams is not forthcoming. The British Government has allowed him plenty of "rope," quite different to the actions of the Toronto police with respect to the Red gatherings here. The Ontario government has brought in legislation that will require a deposit of $200 by each candidate in a provincial election. If a candidate secures one quarter of the total vote the deposit will be returned. This will have the effect, no doubt, to keep out many irresponsible candidates of small groups.

THE VALUE OF STRAW

The talk among farmers that there is no straw this year and that as a result feed is scarce, calls for a statement that it has to be proven that straw has any value as a feed. It is good for bedding and this is all; the sooner farmers realize that they must depend upon alfalfa and corn, the better. Straw has no food value whatever.

MENTAL HOSPITALS

There exists a general misunderstanding regarding the activities of mental hospitals. The idea persists that such institutions are maintained to provide for the shutting up therein of those who are suffering from mental disease. The mental hospital is thought of as a place where restraint is commonly practised and where freedom is almost unknown.

That such was the case in the past merely means that, in those days, mental diseases were not understood. They were viewed as the result of heredity, were considered as inevitable and incurable, and in addition, were looked upon in the light of a disgrace, as they supposedly indicated some defect, of an undesirable nature, in the family.

We know now that mental disease is chiefly the result of faulty environmnt. The child's surroundings, his early training, the development of his emotional life, are the determining factors as to whether or not he secures mental health and avoids mental disease. Mental hygiene is now considered a part of preventive medicine and is based upon the understanding that mental health can be attained just as can physical health by proper care during the early development years.

If mental disease does develop, and the patient comes under the care of mental hospital, he receives treatment. There are curative methods for mental disease just as there are for physical disease. Modern medicine does not neglect the mental health at the expense of the physical. Modern medicine treats mental disease, and the mental hospital is an institution where curative methods are applied, with the result that a return to normal mental health is secured in a large number of cases.

As in other fields of medicine, it is preferable to prevent mental disease than to await its appearance and then attempt to cure it. The future of mental hygiene is full of promise, and its development will go far towards making life happier. There is no reason for misconceptions concerning mental disease and the work of mental hospitals. A better public understanding will help to secure even better facilities for those suffering from mental disease.

Bacon Litter Competiti'n

The Bacon Litter Competition conducted by the co-operative efforts of the Dominion and Ontario Live Stock Branches is to be again carried on this year. Last year Mr. D. J. MacDonald, of R. R. 3, Elmwood, won 3rd. prize in district No. 3 receiving a prize of $23.00. Of a total of $1000 of prize money distributed in Ontario in 1929, $23.00 is only a small amount for a Live Stock County like Grey, therefore, let's have more entries and more winners in 1930.

This competition has as its objective the establishment of a standard of excellence for grade brood sows kept by farmers. It is recognized that those brood sows which are prolific and rear large litters of select bacon hogs that are good feeders making good gains at a low cost are valuable and improvers of commercial hogs. This competition aims to give such sows prominence as breeders in their respective communities in the hope that their fedale progency will be selected as foundation brood sows for the district.

The province is divided up into zone for the purposes of this competition. Prizes in each zone are as follows: 1st, $25; 2nd. $24; 3rd, $23; 4th, $22; 5th, $21; 6th. $20; 7th $20; 8th, $15; 9th, $15; 10th, $15.

An appropriate record of the quantities, kinds and prices of feeds used will be required from each farmer making an entry and this will be supplied at the time the litter is ready for marketing. There are no restrictions on the use of any feeds or any feeding methods.

Any farmer wishing to enter the Bacon litter Competition shall make entry on forms supplied by the Ontario Department. When the form is filled out he shall forward same to the office of the local Agricultural Representative, within seven days of the date of farrowing of the litter. Date of farrowing must be between March 1st and May 15th. Write Department of Agriculture, Markdale, for application forms or further information.

An old landmark in Tara, the Tara Woollen Mills, is being demolished, the work having commenced this week. The building erected in 1887 by the late T. R. Foster, was for a number of years the home of a thriving industry, employing twelve men the year round. In 1919 it was closed down and has never been re-opened.—Tara Leader.
