A RAT FIGHT

The base passion for the lower kinds of "sport" has recently found a fresh outlet in the city. Some three weeks since, a return Californian, calling himself Bill North-man, brought with him an immense Norwegian rat, weighing nearly four pounds three ounces, which he had trained to fight, and garnished with small silver spurs, of the same shape as those used for game-cocks. He visited all the sporting houses of the city, anxious to make a match for a considerable sum of money, but until yesterday he found no takers. A few days ago, a man employed upon the shipping, near Peck Slip, obtained possession of a very large black rat, and immediately upon this, a purse was made up to be fought for—the Californian betting $225, the other staking $150 against it.

The fight took place at half-past two yesterday afternoon, in a well-known cock-pit in the Fourth Ward, kept by one of those gentlemen of easy virtue who divide their time between pitch-and-toss and manslaughter. A large crowd of villainous roughs were present, and only one reporter—he being obliged, as a precautionary measure, to take his notes on his thumb nails.

The black rat, although looking larger than the red one, did not weigh so much, and moreover its nature and habits were evidently not so fierce as those of its opponent. Behind each rat stood a man, or "handler," who held the contestants by a string attached to a stick. At a signal from the ring-keeper, the vicious little animals were let loose, when the black rat showed an unmistakable white feather, by running round and round on the tan, uttering the most hideous squeals, while the red one sat calmly in the middle of the ring, watching it with angry motions of the tail. For some minutes they could not be induced to come together, but, at last, the Californian reached over the ring-side and struck his rat with a little leather thong, immediately on this, it darted upon its opponent, which at once turned to face the fight.

Rising upon its hind legs, the red rat struck out nine or ten times, with incredible speed, at its opponent's head, but the black one, watching its opportunity, darted in, and both rolled over together, uttering the most piercing squeals. The scene in the ring at this moment was absolutely sickening. The partizans of each rat swore horribly, and, upon one of them attempting to get over the side of the ring, he was struck by the ringkeeper with a thick stake—the blow cutting his face to the cheek bone. For several minutes the fight continued, and it was impossible to tell which was getting the best of the encounter. At length, however, the screams grew more loud, and then gradually died away, and, on reaching the ring side, it was seen that the Norway rat had bitten the black one at the back of the neck, and had held it until death ensued. So fierce was the anger of the victor, that its owner had to bite its tail viciously before it would unclasp its teeth. The Californian subsequently put his rat in a bag, and took it away, himself $150 "in" by the fight.—New York Star.

The first general meeting of the proprietors of the Societe du Cable Transatlantique Francais (limited) was held in London, on the 6th inst. The chairman congratulated the shareholders on the satisfactory progress of the work, and as an evidence of the magnitude of the enterprise stated that 35,000 miles of wire and 170,000 miles of hemp have already been used. The "Great Eastern" has been fitted up with tanks and will take the cable on board in February next.

Though the matter has been kept very quiet, it is quite true, says the Pall Mall Gazette, that there have been lately disturbances among the students at St. Cyr, to which some persons attribute a good deal of importance. The Emperor had invited a certain number of the young men to the Tuileries at Compiegne; this attention was not well received; and a few days ago, as the Governor of St. Cyr, General Goudrecourt, was returning to his residence, a very cowardly assault was committed on him by some of the students, who left him, it is said, much injured and almost unconscious. It is not stated whether the General has been able to identify his assailants; but whatever the motive of the demonstration no one can justify the manner of carrying it out.

Austria has derived a revenue of three million dollars a year from the famous salt mine of Wieticzka, ten miles from Cracow. It was discovered in the year 1250, and has been in the possession of Austria since 1772. It has a subterranean village of about a thousand inhabitants. The roofs are supported by columns of salt. But a stream of water has lately made its appearance, and threatens the entire mine with destruction. It dissolves the salt with which it comes in contact, and is making its way towards the pillars. All efforts to lead the water out of the mine have been ineffectual. An engineer has been summoned in haste from Vienna, and a channel is being built under his direction.

An underground railway is projected from the Marble Arch, along Oxford street and Holborn, to the General Post Office, London. According to Mr Hawkshaw, there would be nine stations on the line, about a third of a mile apart. The railway would be worked by stationary engines, and thus the vibration would be reduced to a minimum. It is supposed this railway can be made without interfering with the traffic of Oxford street.

A military regulation recently adopted in France is supposed to indicate that the available strength of the empire has been already called out nearly to its full extent. The Imperial Guard, it is well known, is a picked corps of 35,000 men, formed by the promotion of the best soldiers of the line. But the line no longer furnishes material enough to keep it full. The conscription has already drawn off the strength of the population, and the new levies, so poor is the material, and so numerous are the deaths and exemptions, barely suffice to maintain the regiments at official standard. In this dilemma it is proposed to divide the Imperial Guard into two classes—veterans and conscripts; which would be equivalent, of course, to a reduction in its number, and would, no doubt, seriously impair its efficiency and esprit de corps. Is the end so near in France that the Guard must perish without even a battle?

Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thas writes in the Boston Christian Freeman: We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains quiet sleep, and its parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless, for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any consideration whatever.

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

TO PHYSICIANS.

New York, August 15th, 1867.

ALLOW me to call your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.

Buchu in vacuo Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of a dark colour. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the colour of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favour it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 16 years' experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr H T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favourably impressed with his character and enterprise.

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

For weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

In affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odour, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by all Druggists everywhere. Price $1,25 per bottle, or six bottles for $6,50. Delivered to any address. Describe the symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N.Y.

None are genuine unless done up in steel-engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed
