The youngsters around town are taking quite an interest in their lacrosse sticks donated last summer after the Old Home Week celebration and have been busy learning the rudiments of the handling of these implements of Canada's national game. Lacrosse has not been prominent in this part for a good many years and this handicaps the boys from receiving expert instructions on the fine points of the game.

One year ago a dream of the Women's Institute came true when a doctor was placed at Tobermory at the top of the Bruce Peninsula to minister to the needs of the people in that distrist. Dr. Eva Fisher has been in charge of the medical work there and has been of very great service to those needing medical attention. But the work commenced will be short-lived unless more support is given to the experiment by the Woman's Institutes of the province and others interested. This community which is being assisted is about 35 miles distant from the nearest doctor and at times it has been a race for life or death for him to arrive in time. It is to be hoped that the W. I. organizations can see fit to continue this good work and assist those who are such a great distance from medical assistance. The placing of a permanent doctor at Tobenmory would be a splendid memorial to the officials of the Institutes, hwo did such valiant pioneer service in years gone by.

A noted occurrence in navigation circles was that of the opening of the new Welland canal, which has been under construction for quite a number of years and which has consumed a large amount of money to compete the work. The locks at Thorold are not yet complete, but it is expected they will be when the official opening of the canal is held on July 1st. The largest lake freighters will now be enabled to travel through to lake Ontario and St. Lawrence River points to discharge their cargoes. When the St. Lawrence River Canal project is undertaken and completed by the Canadian and United States governments, ocean going boats will then be enapled to reach the head of the Lakes and will usher in a new era of Dominion prosperity. Until that time comes the new Welland Canal will not be enabled to fulfil the purpose for which it was constructed.

W.M.S. Easter Meeting

The Easter Thankoffering of the Woman's Missionery Society of the United church of Flesherton was held on April, 17. Mrs. Scott opened with order of service provided for the occasion. The speakers were, Mrs. (Rev.) Smith and Mrs. Alder of Durham. Mrs. Alder gave a report of the Conference held in Toronto on the finances of the W. M. S. ending with the statement that our money and all came from God and should be used for Him, also our givings represent ourselves and no one should be ashamed to ask for help for God's cause. Mrs. Smith gave the report of the missions of the church, their benefit to those they labored among, chiefly touching on the brotherhood of man, the soul in the man and not the color. There were representatives from Ceylon, Inistioge and Baptist church. Mrs. W. D. Bryce sang a solo very acceptably. We were pleased to have with us Mrs. Thom, a former minister's wife, who together with Mrs. Blackburn sang a duet which was much appreciated. Wild geese have been quite plentiful in this district this year, while on their way to their summer feeding grounds in the north country. Last week large flocks landed on the farm of Mr. Angus McLachlan, north of Priceville, and made themselves quite at home. It is stated that the geese are hard on the fall wheat, when they alight in such numbers, devouring the green growth which would be a delicacy to them. The Canada goose is being protected more and more each year and no doubt the leadership came from Jack Miner of Kingsville, that noted naturalist.
