EDITORIAL NOTES.

The proposed name for the provincial highway, "The King's Highway," has not met with much favor so far.

• • •

Daylight saving started in Toronto on Sunday. If a way could be found to take the dew off the ground an hour earlier the farmers would also be pleased to alter their clocks one hour.

• • •

For the first time in history the Toronto dailies are in perfect accord—in denouncing the grab. But it seems hard for them to decide which paper's favorite is the Peck's bad boy in suggesting raising of the salaries.

• • •

Train reductions are to be made on the Beeton-Collingwood branch of the C. N. R. and the residents of the municipalities through which the line passes are strenuously fighting the proposed change. We wonder how many people have their merchandise shipped in by truck to these points in place of express? The advent of good roads has brought long distance trucking to the detriment of the railways in all lines, freight, express and passenger traffic, and it is up to the railway companies to cut down in expenses if the required revenue is not forthcoming.

Recently in the village of Creemore and Dundalk business men's associations have been formed to bring the merchants of the villages together to discuss ways and means of improving conditions in their respective spheres of influence. Every vllage and town should have some kind of an organization at which the merchants can attend and air their views on certain matters that need adjustment, and Flesherton is no exception to the rule. During the past few years the local merchants have shown a very fine spirit of co-operation at various times, but there is need of a constant fight to keep outside firms from coming in to sell their goods, which is a detriment to local industry. For the business men to meet once a month and secure a sympathetic hearing from their fellow merchants would, we believe, alleviate considerable of the misunderstanding which is prevalent in this and many other small towns in Ontario. If this idea could be brought to a realization we are sure that the community would prosper and that a different spirit would be manifested in ordinary business enterprises.

Osprey Pioneer Dies

Another Osprey pioneer passed to the great beyond in the person of Mrs. Harvey McQuarrie, on Monday, April 14th, 1930, after an illness of about two weeks.

Born nearly 86 years ago in the Isle of Giree, Scotland, little Mary McInnis, 4 years later came to Canada in company with her parents, brother and sisters. They spent six weeks in crossing the Atlantic in a sailing vessel. The family first settled in the township of Brock, Ont., but after about three years moved to Osprey, where she had lived ever since.

About the year 1863 she was married to the late Harvey McQuarrie, who predeceased her about 32 years ago. Surviving her are four daughters, Sarah (Mrs. MacRae) of Toronto, Emma at home, Kathleen in the West and Addie (Mrs. McLean of Singhampton.

The funeral took place on Wed. April 16, and interment was made in the family plot in Maxwell Union cemetery.

So passes another of our hardy British pioneers, who saw this country an almost unbroken forest, met adversity and hard work as daily companions, grappled with, and made the best of them.

Miss Kathleen McDonald of Toronto spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. McDonald.

Make your appointments now to see Dr. J. G. Russell, the celebrated eye sight Specialist at Armstrong's store May 5th and 6th. Open both evenings.

Old Resident Passes

Edward Ward, an old resident of this district, passed away at his home in Collingwood on Friday in his 84th year. He was born in Lincolnshire, England, and taught school at Portlaw many years ago. His parents lived in Flesherton at one time, across from the cemetery and also resided on Stone's Line.

He went to Collingwood as writing and drawing master in the collegiate institute in 1879 and three years later appointed principal of the public schools, a position he retained until 1907, when upon retiring he was appointed registrar of the Board of Education in which he continued until 1925. His wife, Susanah Elizabeth Treadgold predeceased him in 1921 and one son, George, principal of the public school of Niagara Falls, Ont. In 1922. Two sons and three daughters, all teachers, survive.

Faithful Horse Dies At Age 34 Years

Mr. Sam Phillips of the Collingwood gravel is mourning the loss of a faithful old friend, at the great age, for a horse, of 34 years. The old mare was raised gy the late Dr. McDonald of near Owen Sound and was purchased from him by Mr. John Findley of Meaford. She was a standard bred trotter and was raced by Mr. Findlay under the name of Nettie F. Mr. Phillips purchased her from Findlay in 1910 and she has been in his possession ever since. She was given many prizes at fall fairs throughout the country. She had in her later years a comfortable home and a kind master, doing light work up to the time of her death. It goes without saying that this fine old mare did not go the way of most horses after her death, that is to the foxes. Mr. Phillips mourns the old servant as he would a friend.

TWO DAYS ONLY, Dr. J. G. Russell will be at Armstrong's store May 5th and 6th. Come in and have your eyes looked over.

147 Re-Union

The 147th Battalion held a reunion dinner at the King Edward hotel on Saturday night, at which a large number of the members gathered. A wreath was laid on the cenotaph in front of the city hall in memory of the 133 members who were killed in the war or died of the battalion and those from outside points attended the morning of disabilities. Toronto members of the battalion and those from outside points attended the morning service at St. Paul's church, when Canon Cody reviewed the history of the battalion.

YOUR DUTY—BUY AT HOME

This is the first of a series of twenty-six editorials which will appear in The Advance on "Buy-at-Home." These articles are designed to impress upon the residents of Flesherton the obligation which they owe to the community to purchase their needs from local merchants, a duty which they owe, not only to themselves but also to every organization in town.

The Advance is an advocate of community buying because it believes that in the theory of buying at home and supporting home industries depends the success and advancement of this town. The merchant is responsible for the position which we hold in the province today. Through his efforts our schools, churches and public institutions have been established as well as all civic rights which we enjoy. He has shown his confidence in town and in you by establishing himself in busness here, assumng the greater burden of taxation and community responsibilities.

The Advance seeks to point the way to a greater and better interest. This series of editorials is designed to benefit the merchant by securing for him your confidence and support and by so doing enable him to render you a more efficient service. If this task is accomplished, much will have been done to place Flesherton well up in the list of prosperous Ontario towns.
