THE INDIAN WARFARE.

There is news from General Sheridan, from Fort Cobb, dated Dec 19, and received at St Louis, by General Sherman, notice of his arrival there with Gen. Custer's Seventh Cavalry and ten companies of the Nineteenth Kansas Cavalry, in all about 1,200 men. Gen. Sheridan spent one day on Custer's battlefield, and found the bodies of Major Elliott and sixteen soldiers; also the bodies of Mrs Blinn and child, white captives in the Indian camp. Mrs Blinn was shot through the forehead, and the child's brains dashed out.

General Sheridan followed on the trail from the Washita seventy miles, when he came upon a camp of Kiowas, who met him with a letter from General Hazen, which declared them to be friendly. Sheridan required the leaders to accompany him to Fort Cobb, but discovered while travelling towards that point that they were sending their families to the Washita Mountains. Suspecting they were attempting to deceive him, he took Santana and Lone Wolf, and notified them he would hold them as hostages, and that if all the Kiowas did not come to Fort Cobb, he would hang them. General Sheridan says:

"The Indians now realize for the first time that winter will not compell us to make a truce with them," and adds that "the Kiowas have been engaged in the war all the time, and have been playing fast and loose; that they have attempted to browbeat Gen Hazen since he came to Fort Cobb, and I will take the stretch out of them before I leave them."

The Cheyennes, Arapahoes, and one band of Comanches, with fifty lodges of Kiowas, are now at Washita Mountains. Gen. Sheridan, after consultation with Gen. Hazen, proposes, when the Kiowas come in, to punish those who are known to have been concerned in personal acts of murder. He will send Black Kettle's sister out to the Cheyennes and Arapahoes, and command them to come in and submit to like treatment. If they refuse to come in, he will carry out war against them in the Washita mountains. He will leave with Gen. Hazen a sufficient force to enable him to control the Indians now at Cobb, and such others as may come in there. During the march from Camp Supply the weather and roads were very severe, but the health of the command was good, two men of the Seventh Cavalry and six of the Nineteenth Kansas Regiment only being sick. In a private letter to Gen. Sherman, dated one day later, Gen Sheridan says the Kiowas are coming in; that the Cheyennes have been humble since their punishment by Gen. Custer, and he has no doubt that the Arapahoes will also come in, surrender, and abide by his terms, after which he has no fear of a renewal of hostilities.

Mr PUNSHON ON NIAGARA.

The Rev. W. M. Punshon, now in Canada, who is contributing a series of letters to the Methodist Recorder, thus speaks of this great phenomenon of nature:—"On my way from Buffalo to Toronto I caught the first sight of that wondrous vision which it is worth a pilgrimage from England to see. I have since had an opportunity of making it a study, and my conviction is, that if there is anything in the world which defies minute description and analysis, and which comes in the beholder by turns ideas of grandeur, beauty, terror, power, sublimity, it is expressed in that one word 'Niagara.' I have seen it in most of its summer aspects. I have gazed upon the marvellous panorama from the Rapids above, to the 'whirlpool,' three miles below. I have looked up to it from the river, and down upon it from the Terrapin Tower. I have bathed in its light, and been drenched with its spray. I have dreamed over it through the hot afternoon, and have heard it thunder in the watches of the night. On all the headlands, and on the islands, I have stood entranced and wondering while the mist has shrouded it, and while the sun has broken it into rainbows. I have seen it fleecy as the snow-flake; deepening into the brightest emerald; dark and leaden as the angriest November sky—but in all its moods there is instruction, solemnity, delight. Stable in its perpetual instability; changeless in its everlasting change; a thing to be 'pondered in the heart,' like the Revelation by the meek Virgin of old; with no pride in the brilliant hues which are woven in its eternal loom: with no haste in the majestic roll of its waters; with no weariness in its endless psalm; it remains through the eventful years an embodiment of unconscious power, a lively inspiration of thought, and poetry, and worship—a magnificent apocalypse of God. One wonderful thing about Niagara is, that it surpasses all attempts to make it common. Like all show places, it has its Arab hordes—the curbstone of the road, of the caravansary, of the river. All along the line, from the landing spring to the negro touters, who fasten upon you that 'there is no charge for the charming view,' and down the spot where, with sublime contempt of nature and indifference to truth, a notice-board announces that 'The whirlpool is closed on Sundays,' Niagara is a grand institution for making people pay. Of course, also, it is the excursion terminus for all the country round, and during the season attracts crowds that would make Wordsworth as angry as when he denounced the railway which was to profane his own sylph-haunted Rydal—but these cannot vulgarise it—rather it ennobles them, kindling in the most insensate breast an awe and a rapture of which they had hardly thought themselves capable before. I have yet to see it by moonlight, and in winter. Under the combined influence of these two conditions it must be grand indeed. I cannot even confess to the disappointment which so many affirm to be the first feeling of the mind on the sight of it. I was deeply impressed with it at the first, and all after experience has but deepened my delight and wonder."

Dr. Payne Smith, the Regius Professor of Divinity at Oxford, has lately stated explicitly that the clergy of the Church of England are not priests in the sacerdotal sense of the term, and that no mystical virtue is communicated by ordination. This has led to a movement with the object of inducing the bishops not to require of Oxford candidates for orders any certificate of attendance on Dr Payne Smith's lectures. A similar course was adopted towards the late Dr. Hampden.

Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman: We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains quiet sleep, and its parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any consideration whatever.

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

Be sure and call for

"Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup," having the fac-simile of "Curtis & Perkins" on the outside wrapper. All others are base imitations.

TO PHYSICIANS.

New York August 15th, 1867.

ALLOW me to call your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.

Buchu in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of a dark colour. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the colour of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favour it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 16 years' experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr H T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favourably impressed with his character and enterprise.

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

For weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which invariably does. If no treament is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

In affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odour, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by all Druggists everywhere. Price $1,25 per bottle, or six bottles for $6,50. Delivered to any address. Describe the symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N.Y.

None are genuine unless done up in steel-engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed
