WODEHOUSE

The trees are fast shedding their robes which have been beautiful for so long. With a gentle breeze they are slowly coming down to Mother Earth, soon to be carried to the nooks and hollows by the winds, which will gaily dance them along.

Noticed in the Meaford news where "ye senior editor" had landed some salmon trout from the Georgian Bay waters. Did he ever go fishing during such summer-like weather in the fall.

(Last Week's Items)

Lovely autumn weather,, which continues very dry. Quite a number here have taken up their potatoes and find them only a fair crop, odd ones having an exceptionally good crop. The dry weather this fall has affected the root crop considertbly. those who have murphies enough for home consumptioon are indeed well off.

We extend sincere sympathy to the wife and family of the late Mr. W. E. Morgan of Eugenia, whose recent death we learned of with deep regret.

At the township school fair the pupils from our school took a fair amount of prizes, some of them were indeed well earned, the smaller tots doing their utmost to be among the prize winners. The older ones secured their share as well, the school bringing home something over $7.00. Elsie Wiley won first for bran muffins, and competing again at the champion fair at Markdale on Saturday last she won second prize. Needless to say, Elsie was well pleased with the result of her efforts. There was a tremendous crowd on Saturday and an excellent show. The hall was well filled and the fair was a real success. Much credit is due to Mr. Cooper and his staff of workers.

Mr. Will Ward had rather an unpleasant experience on Wednesday forenoon, when his fine team went through the barn floor, allowing the team to drop, but were held up tangled on the sleepers. With the aid of his neighbors and some ropes and pulleys, the animals were raised up and taken from their desperate position. No limbs were broken, but from the straining and knocking around the animals were badly bruised, but in due time it is expected they will be back to normal again.

The church sheds are well on the way to completion. The building is now ready for the roofing. Much credit is due the community in general for turning out and giving of their time freely.

Mr. and Mrs. David Ellis of British Columbia are visiting in old Ontario with his sister, Mrs. W. H. Erskine of Riverdale, and old friends here. It is a number of years since Dave left here as a young man and he notes many changes. He and Mrs. Erskine are the only surviving members of a large family. A brother, Will, passed away in British Columbia only a few weeks ago. Their parents were Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Ellis, worthy pioneers of this section. Both passed away several years ago. Dave's old friends were glad to see him and meet his estimable wife. They have one son who is looking after home interests in their absence.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dowding of Ladner, B.C. are visiting the former's old home here, now owned by Mr. Ed. Wilcox. Many old friends and schoolmates are glad to meet him again.
