THE IRISH CHURCH.

As far as we can make out, the Irish Catholic prelates, though determined to insist on total disestablishment, and tolerably complete disendowment, are not lending themselves to the insane policy of demanding more from Mr Gladstone than he has promised. Cardinal Cullen, in a letter to the National Association, expressed his confidence that the measure of the Goverament will settle the question of the Irish Church "in a manner conformable to the wishes of the Irish people," and added the expression of a general confidence in Mr Gladstone's Ministry as regards the land question. Archbishop Leahy, of Cashel, insisted, in a letter to the same meeting, that "the Church question be settled on a basis of perfect equality, and settled for good, so that no after-question may remain concerning even a shread of the ascendancy of any one religion over another," and he added that he did not believe any unworthy compromise would be proposed by the great statesman at the head of affairs. Dr. Keane, Bishop of Cloyne, insisted on equality, and said Mr Gladstone would not win Ireland by promises, but by passing what he had promised, but with that he too would be content. Dr. O'Hea, Bishop of Ross, insisted on "total" disendowment, but he added, "Mr Gladstone has promised that vested rights shall be respected,—by all means let them be respected." On the whole, we infer that the Catholic prelates and the National Association do not intend to put stumbling blocks in Mr Gladstone's way, but to do all they can to help him to win the great battle. It would be but wise. Mr Gladstone has made a real impression on the Irish imagination.—London Spectator.

ENGLISH FINANCIERS IN TROUBLE.

The new year commences in England with a trial which promises to be the most remarkable of the age, and which cannot fail to be attended by the most important results to the business world. Six of the most eminent business men of London are indicted on charges connected with the failure of the joint stock firm of Overend, Gurney & Co. It is alleged that the indicted parties, either actively or passively, connived at the publication of accounts respecting the condition of the old and new firm of Overend & Gurney, and that these statements were put forth with a view of misleading the public, or, at least, were attended with that result. It may be remembered that the great London financial firm of Overend, Gurney & Co., failed May, 1866, entailing ruin and embarrassment, the effects of which are still apparent in England. The company was organized as a joint stock concern only about a year before. The old and well known house of Overend, Gurney & Co., transferred their name and business to the new firm, under circumstances that inspired public confidence. The very magnitude of their operations, in place of exciting distrust, produced the opposite result. Half a million sterling ($2,500,000) was paid for the mere good will of the old firm, and its liabilities as well as its assets were assumed. At first everything went on favourably. The shares of the new joint stock firm of Overend, Gurney & Co., sold at a premium. But this prosperity received a terrible shock. The firm failed in May, 1866, and the crash was felt almost throughout the world. Dr. Thom, one of the shareholders of the new company, now brings suit against six of the Directors, in the Police Court, London. It is in the form of an application for criminal warrants against the Directors, who are thus threatened with the odious braud of felons. The trial produces the greatest interest in London, and one of the Rothschilds offered himself as bail for the prisoners. The charge of Dr. Thom against the Directors is that they concealed the actual condition of the firm from the public. At the time $2,500,000 were paid to the old firm for its good will, it was actually insolvent to the amount of $15,000,000. Debts to the amount of $21,000,000 were transferred to the new company without any available or corresponding assets. The damaging charge is made that a private and rather discreditable bargain was made between the Directors of the new and old company in relation to these debts. The astounding statement is also made that the new company started with liabilities to the amount of $120,000,000, and that its actual assets were less than $1,000,000. In other words, the new company started with a debt that was nearly two hundred times larger than its capital, and yet the most glowing accounts were published of the resources and condition of the concern. Dr. Thom, one of the victimised shareholders, brings the action at his own risk and expense, and charges the six Directors with downright fraud and theft. The investigation will probably occupy some time. The result will be looked for with great interest on both sides of the Atlantic. It involves the moral and legal responsibility of the Directors and executive officers of financial and other companies for the honest and efficient discharge of their duties. It is a subject on which there is too much laxity of opinion and practice on both sides of the Atlantic, and any movement for a correction of existing abuses is of the highest interest to the mercantile and financial world.

M. Zadoc Kohn, recently invested with the dignity of Grand Rabbi, at the Synagogue Rue Notre Dame de Nazareth, Paris, is but thirty years old, and is said to be the youngest Grand Rabbi elected since the days of Jeremiah the Prophet.

The coroner's inquiry touching the deaths of twenty-six unhappy colliers who died by reason of injuries received in an explosion of fire-damp at Haydock Colliery, near Wigan, on December 30, has been brought to an end. The jury tagged to a verdict of "accidental death" an expression of opinion that there was no evidence to show whether the "damp" that fired was an old accumulation or a sudden outburst.

A Society to supply the blind with cheap literature has been established at Worcester, England. The Bishop of Worcester is the President. It is proposed to print books in Roman type. The society has encountered serious opposition from the opponents of the "Roman" system, but the Bishop is convinced that it is the best yet introduced. This opinion is confirmed by the statements of the managers of blind asylums in several countries. The Society has begun to print, and a room is rented in which to teach poor blind adults to read.

A celebrated cliff in Denmark, "Queen's Seat," has just fallen bodily into the Baltic from a shock of earthquake. The rock, about 400 feet high, was an object of great interest to tourists, from the magnificent view to be had from it. On a clear day Rugen and the coast of Pomerania could be plainly seen. Everything had disappeared except some masses of chalk, which form a sort of island near the shore. No life has been lost, but the inhabitants and neighbouring villages were terrified at the noise produced, which lasted several seconds.

CHOLERA, DIARRHŒA, &c.
EARL RUSSELL sent to the College of Physicians a communication received by him from Manilla (where cholera had been raging fearfully) to the effect that, of all remedies tried, Chlorodyne was the most effective.
"The day seems as yet, unhappily, far distant when public opinion or State interference will prevent the advertisement or sale of any secret medicine whatsoever. It is to be hoped that the profession will continue to brand as unworthy the conduct of those of its members who by testimonial or otherwise aid the disposal of such things."—Lancet.
TOWLE'S CHLORODYNE.
The Original Preparation of known Composition.
From Dr C. Kidd, Author of Standard Works on Chloroform.
Sackville-street, Piccadilly, London.
Sir,—I think if you would advertise your Chlorodyne more than you do, you would help to beat the others, which are secret compounds, out of the market. Many medical men think with me, and recommend your compound, but will never prescribe a secret remedy. CHARLES KIDD, M.D.
To Mr Towle, Chemist, Manchester.
A Surgeon from New York writes:—"I only requires to be known to be appreciated. I have no hesitatien in characterising it (viz., Towle's Chlorodyne) as the most useful medicine that has appeared during the present century. In diarrhœa, colic, ague, spasms, I have found it to relieve more pain and cause more joy than any other article that can be named."
NOTE.—The Profession is warned against inferior, secret, and cheap compounds now in the market. Each genuine bottle bears a facsimile of Proprietor's signature on the stamp outside.

THE ORIGINAL CHLORODYNE, invented by R. Freeman, Pharmaceutist, is allowed to be one of the greatest discoveries of the present century. It is largely employed by the most eminent Physicians and Surgeons in hospital and private practice in all parts of the world. It has effects peculiar to itself, and which are essentially different to those produced by the various compounds bearing the name of Chlorodyne, but have no pretence to possessing its virtues. It rapidly relieves pain, from whatever cause, allays the irritation of fever, soothes the system under exhausting diseases, and gives sleep without producing any one of the unpleasant feelings so commonly arising from the use of opiates. It continues to hold its unshaken position in the estimation of the Profession as the best, most reliable, and cheapest preparation. Eminent and scientific Physicians made affidavits that they have tested its effects in careful comparison with those of "DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE," and deposed to the facts that they found it a more certain and reliable preparation, and greatly preferred "FREEMANS."
Earl Russell communicated to the Royal College of Physicians and to Mr Freeman, that in Manilla the only remedy of any use in Cholera was Chlorodine.
The Medical Times and Gazette, January 13th, 1866, states, "It has an immense sale amongst the public, and is prescribed by scores of Orthodox Medical Practitioners, and, of course, it would not be thus singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place."
Manufactured by the Inventor, Richard Freeman, 70, Kennington Park Road, London, S.
The genuine has engraved on the Government Stamp (outside each Bottle), "FREEMAN'S ORIGINAL CHLORODYNE."

CONDY'S PATENT FLUID or natural disinfectant purifies, deodorises, and disinfects, by the agency of nascent or ozonic oxygen,—its active principle. Being entirely innoxious, this truly scientific preparation is peculiarly adapted for the following useful purposes, for which all other disinfectants, on account of their poisonous or other objectionable qualities, are unavailable and useless:—
Detecting organic impurities in air and water.
Purifying drinking and other water from organic matter, lead, &c.
Freshening the air of close places, and removing bad smells.
Freeing meat, fish, butter, or other provisions from taint.
Counteracting the effects of organic poisons taken into the stomach.
Curing Musty provender. Freeing wheat and other seed from smut.
Maintaining the health of plants in pots and conservatories.
Preserving and restoring the freshness of cut flowers kept in water.
Destroying the blight of the potatoe, vine, hop, mulberry tree, &c.
Washing dogs and other domestic animals.
Cleansing bottles, beer barrels, pickling tubs, dairy utensils.
Washing the hair and darkening its colour when turning grey.
Enhancing the purifying and invigorating effects of baths and tubs.
Dressing poisoned wounds and destroying animal virus.
Treating the infectious diseases of cattle, horses, dogs, &c.
One gallon makes 200 to 300 gallons adapted for use.
N.B.—Condy's Fluid is the Standard Scientific Test for Organic Matter in Water, and affords the only known means of rapidly and completely freeing Drinking Water from Organic Taint, which is so common a cause of serious disease.
To rapidly purify the air, use the diluted fluid with "Condy's Ozoniser" or other Spray-producer.
CONDY'S PATENT OZONISED WATER,
(FOR TOILET PURPOSES,)
Removes from the mouth impure and foreign tastes and odours, whether arising from tobacco or other causes, and counteracts the irritation and morbid secretions of carious teeth. It purifies and softens the skin, and, used in the bath, tends to promote a healthy state of the whole body.
H. BOLLMAN CONDY,
Patentee, Battersea, London.

JUDSON'S SIMPLE DYES FOR THE PEOPLE. Any one can use them; anything can be dyed with them. It is impossible in this small space to enumerate the many uses to which these wonderful and beautiful chemical preparations can be applied; while their chief use is for dyeing textile fabrics, they are also invaluable as a colouring agent for almost every known material, the ease with which they can be used and the brilliancy of the result being, indeed, almost magical. By their use almost any article of clothing can be dyed in a few minutes for a few pence without soiling the hands.
MEMORANDA.
MAGENTA: The strength and beauty of this dye is almost incredible. A Sixpenny bottle will dye 20 yards of Bonnet Ribbon in 10 minutes; it will also produce a clear Rose Pink by using less dye. Suitable also for Woollen Goods, Feathers, Silks, &c.
WOOLLENS: Magenta, Mauve, Violet, Purple, Orange, Pink, and Crimson produce the most satisfactory results. Use a large quantity of boiling water in an earthen pan. RIBBONS and SILKS: Brush them with soap and water to avoid creases, and to render them clean. Dye in boiling water.
FEATHERS: Dye in hot water (a few drops of the dye is sufficient for one feather).
COTTON: Mauve, Violet and Purple are recommended.
LEATHER: Blue, Magenta, Violet and Orange. Dye in warm water.
WHITEWASH: To color: Magenta, for Pink or Rose; add half a bottle to a pail of water, then stir in the Whitening as usual. Mauve, Violet, Purple, Blue and crimson produce pretty tints by using one bottle or more, as directed above.
STARCH: Stir in a few drops of Colour—Magenta, Mauve, Violet, Blue or Pink; these impart delicate tints to Lace, Linen, &c.
WILLOW SHAVINGS, Wicker, Ivory, Bone, Hair, Fibres, Seaweed, &c., attract the dye quickly, if applied in boiling water.
BLUE: For laundry purposes is A 1.
BOOK EDGES: A Sixpenny bottle of Magenta, Violet, Crimson or Blue will make from a pint to a quart of beautiful colouring, according to shade required. Apply with a brush.
PAPER and WOOD STAIN: Ditto.
OAK STAIN: A bottle of No. 2 Black to half a-pint of hot water.
SATINWOOD STAIN: A Sixpenny bottle Canary dissolved in a pint of boiling water
PHOTOGRAPHS may be tinted; dilute the dye with water; a bottle of Magenta to a pint of water. &c.
ILLUMINATING: Magenta, Violet, Blue, Orange; pour a few drops into an egg cup add warm water; use with a brush or pen Borders of books, similar to Ward and Lock's Arabian Nights, &c., may be prettily illuminated in this manner.
BLANCMANGE, JELLY, CORN FLOUR, ICE CREAMS, &c: While in a liquid state add one or two drops of Magenta. A more simple or elegant tinting cannot be had.
CONFECTIONERS will find Magenta, Violet Orange and Pink useful colours.
GELATINES and GLUES are successfully coloured with these dyes.
INK: A Sixpenny bottle of Magenta to a pint or more of cold water.
WATER: One drop of dye will tint a quart.
PRINTING on Cotton, Silk or Wool in the ordinary way.
BLENDING some of the dyes in the bath will produce an infinity of shade, according to taste.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL.
DR. DE JONGH'S Oil is convincingly proved by an overwhelming weight of medical testimony, and by the practical test of successful experience for twenty years in all parts of the world, to be, beyond all question, the purest, the most efficacious, the most palatable, and, from its rapid curative effects, the most economical of all kinds.
Hence the universal celebrity of Dr. de Jongh's Oil, and the unparalleled demand for this unrivalled preparation.
SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.
SIR HENRY MARSH, BART., M.D.,
Physician in Ordinary to the Queen in Ireland.
"I have frequently prescribed Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil. I consider it to be a very pure oil, not likely to create disgust, and a therapeutic agent of great value."
DR. EDWARD SMITH, F.R.S.,
Medical Officer to the Poor Law Board of Great Britain.
"We think it a great advantage that there is one kind of Cod Liver Oil which is universally admitted to be genuine—the Light-Brown Oil supplied by Dr. de Jongh. It has long been our practice, when prescribing the oil, to recommend this kind, since, amidst a much variety and uncertainty, we have confidence in its genuineness."—(Extract from "Consumption: its Early and Remediable Stages.")
DR. LANKESTER, F.R.S.,
Coroner for Central Middlesex.
"I consider that the purity of this oil is secured in its preparation, by the personal attention of so good a chemist and intelligent a physician as Dr. de Jongh, who has also written the best medical treatise on the oil with which I am acquainted. Hence, I deem the Cod Liver Oil sold under his guarantee to be preferable to any other kind as regards genuineness and medical efficacy."
DR. LETHEBY,
Medical Officer of Health, and Chief Analyst to the City of London.
"In all cases I have found Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil possessing the same set of properties, among which the presence of cholaic compounds, and of iodine in a state of organic combination, are the most remarkable. It is, I believe, universally acknowledged that this oil has great therapeutic power; and from my investigations, I have no doubt of its being a pure and unadulterated article."
DR. BARLOW, F.R.S.,
Senior Physician to Guy's Hospital.
"I have frequently recommended persons consulting me to make use of Dr. de Jongh's Cod Liver Oil. I have been well satisfied with its effects, and believe it to be a very pure oil, well fitted for those cases in which the use of that substance is indicated."
DR. GRANVILLE, F.R.S.,
Author of the "Spas of Germany."
"Dr. Granville has found that Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil produces the desired effect in a shorter time than other kinds, and that it does not cause the nausea and indigestion too often consequent on the administration of the pale oil."
EDWIN CANTON, ESQ., F.R.C.S.,
Surgeon to Charing-cross Hospital.
"For several years past I have been in the habit of prescribing Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil, and find it to be much more efficacious than other varieties of the same medicine which I have also employed with a view to test their relative superiority."
