THE DAILY NEWS.

VOLUME XVIII. KINGSTON, (CANADA), THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 25, 1869. NUMBER 144.

Special Notices.

CONCENTRATION the great principle. The system of infinitesimal medicine diffused in gallons of injurious matter rejected. All useless material discarded. The active principle only of the most valuable and efficient remedies known concentrated in a small convenient form. HABITUAL CONSTIPATION CURED. All diseases of the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels permanently relieved by DR. CLARKE'S ANTI-COSTIVE AND TONIC PILLS, the Great Medical Discovery. Recommended by the Medical Profession.

SUCCESS begets envy. Hence the efforts of certain vendors of Liniment to imitate the RHEUMATIC LIQUID. Wherever introduced it drives all others from the market, which it is entirely annihilated by its use. We have not room to enumerate the virtues accorded to it by thousands who have used it. No medicine ever invented is capable of more extended usefulness. It has hundreds of imitators, but no rival. Beware of Counterfeits.

GOOD TIDINGS FOR ALL.—Those who have no hair may have it, those who have plenty may preserve and beautify it. Those who are losing it may have its growth restored. The hair strengthened, beautified, and preserved by using HUNT'S EMPIRE HAIR GLOSS, sold everywhere. Price 50 cents. Don't rest till you have tried it. Sold by all Druggists.

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, DIPTHERIA.

A never failing remedy has been discovered!

Every Farmer should have it.
Every Lumberman should have it.
Every Sailor should have it.
Every Fisherman should have it.
Every Traveller should have it.
Every Soldier should have it.
Every Physician (does have or) should have it.
Every Family in the world should have it.
Don't have it by calling at the nearest Druggists and buying a bottle of

DR. SARGENT'S PAIN-KILLER.

Price 12, 25, and 50 cents per bottle.
Take none but the genuine made by
PERRY DAVIS & SON,
CANADA BRANCH DEPOT:
ST. PAUL STREET, MONTREAL.

The Great English Remedy!

MRS. JAMES CLARKE'S CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS,

Prepared from prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M.D. Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known remedy is no impostition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Complaints and Obstructions, from any cause whatever, and though a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the constitution.

To Married Ladies it is peculiarly suited; it will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

To Females of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, Hysterics, Sick Headache, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail when the directions on the 2nd page of pamphlet are duly observed.

For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the agent.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Mrs. Clarke's Female Pills are extensively counterfeited. The genuine have the signature of "PROFESSOR MOSES" on each package. All others are worthless.

Price one dollar and 12½ cents for postage, inclosed to NORTHROP & LYMAN, Newburgh, General Agents for Canada, will send a bottle of the genuine, containing Fifty Pills, by return mail. Sold by all Druggists throughout Canada, and medicine dealers everywhere.

For Throat Disorders and Coughs,

Brown's Bronchial Troches are offered with the most confidence in their efficacy. They have been thoroughly tested, and maintain the good name they have justly acquired.

These Lozenges are prepared from a highly esteemed recipe for alleviating Bronchial Affections, Hoarseness, Coughs, Colds, and Other Diseases of the Throat.

PUBLIC SPEAKERS AND VOCALISTS

Will find them beneficial in clearing the voice before public speaking or singing, and relieving the throat from the effects of any unusual exertion of the vocal organs in speaking or singing, and relieving the throat from the effects of any unusual exertion of the vocal organs in speaking or singing, and a peculiar adaption to affections which interrupt the free exercise of the organs of speech. Sold at 25 cents per Box by all dealers in Medicine.

A Down Town Merchant,

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home, and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favour of homœopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practised upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering, crying babies, and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. 25 cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Be sure and call for

"Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup,"

having the fac-simile of "Curtis & Perkins" on the outside wrapper. All others are base imitations.

VERY NATURAL.—When a person has proved an article and found it good, and answering the purpose for which it is intended, he will not readily abandon it for one of doubtful reputation, or concerning which he knows nothing. We are led to make these remarks owing to the course always pursued by those who have used that celebrated and truly valuable horse medicine known as "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." All are so well pleased with it that they will not use any other; many have waited several weeks until the agent could obtain a new supply. There is nothing equal to it as a condition medicine, or for any complaint affecting the wind of horses. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

TWO QUESTIONS EASILY ANSWERED.—Why should men wear beards? Because they are a great protection to the throat and lungs, and add much to their personal appearance. Why should we use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers?" Because when used for coughs, colds, tickling in the throat, hoarseness, &c, they act like a charm. Ministers and lawyers use them, physicians recommend them, and singers and public speakers say they are the very best medicine in existence for the cure of such complaints. Sold by all medicine dealers at 25 cts per box.

Philosophy of Marriage.

A new Course of Lectures, as delivered at the New York Museum of Anatomy embracing the subjects:—How to live and what to live for; Youth, Maturity, and old Age; Manhood generally reviewed; The cause of indigestion; Flatulence and Nervous Diseases accounted for; Marriage philosophically considered, &c., &c. Pocket volumes containing these Lectures, will be forwarded post-paid, on receipt of 25 cents, by addressing "SECRETARY, New York Museum of Anatomy and Science, 618 Broadway, New York."

NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned will apply to the Judge of the Surrogate Court of the County of Frontenac to be appointed Guardian of John B. McIver, Kenneth McIver, and Mary A. McIver, minors, children of the late William McIver.

BUCHU.

[From the Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.

Their odour is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.

Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostate Gland, and Retention and Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 56, or in the decline or change of stock; after Confinement, or Labour Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.

This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine Diseases of the Prostate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption of the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

is Diuretic and Blood Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences of life, impurities of the Blood, &c., superseding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

A CASE OF TWENTY YEARS' STANDING.

Philadelphia, Penn., June 25, 1867.

H. T. Helmbold, Druggist:

Dear Sir—I have been a sufferer for upward of twenty years with gravel, bladder and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu. I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubebs, and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination; and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced to use it about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room.

From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was able to walk out. I felt much like writing to you a full statement of my case at the time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary; and therefore concluded to defer, and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing that it would be of greater value to you and more satisfactory to me.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months.

I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste or odour, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.

M. McCORMICK.

GUNN'S

DERBY CONDITION POWDERS FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

THIS Preparation, long and favourably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low-spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as lung fever, glanders, yellow water, heaves, coughs, distemper, founder, loss of appetite and vital energy. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite, gives a smooth and glossy skin, and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of cows this Preparation is invaluable. It increases the quantity and improves the quality of the milk, gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

MY FELLOW-TRAVELLER AND I.

To say merely that "it rained," does not usually describe the state of the weather. There may have been wind at the same time, and the rain may have been a compliment splashed against your face or window; or it may have been bitterly cold, and the rain may have counted only as an additional discomfort. But on the day I have before my memory, it rained and did nothing else. There was neither cold nor warmth enough to divert your feelings; there was no breath of air to disturb the perpendicularity of the drops; and no prospect of country you could see through them. Down came the heavy globules in mathematical lines; splash went the water against the level road; round went the wheels of the vehicle with a monotonous rumble; and away bowled we over the wet, steaming, endless plains of the Netherlands.

There was only one passenger with me in the coupee, and he was worse than nobody by several chalks. Solitude would have been endurable; but to be shut up in compulsory companionship with a man whose language you cannot speak, and who cannot speak yours, is dreadful. I saw the fellow was a Frenchman the moment I set eyes on him, and the cool easy impudence with which he said "pardon!" when he knocked my hat from the seat on coming in, confirmed the fact. My knowledge of French had been acquired at school, and went only as far as reading; and I could not yet refrain from an insular blush when I was obliged to try to work my thought upon expression. This individual, however, roused me. I looked upon him somehow as an unauthorised intruder; and it was with a reckless air I made a remark to him in his own language about the weather—just to show him that I could speak French if I chose, and didn't care a snap of my finger whether it was good or bad. I think I said "Quelle pluie! I encountered his eyes, however, at the moment, and a quite smile, as he muttered "Mavvais temps!" demolished me. I had fallen, doubtless, into some unhappy cacology; and we both looked out of the window at the rain—I to conceal my confusion, and he, of course, to conceal a sneer, with all the distressing politeness of his countrymen.

A situation of this kind is the more embarrassing that one feels obliged to say something. Here was a man, a well-dressed, respectable, nay rather a gentlemanly person, with intelligent eyes that seemed to understand me; and to sit alone with him, hour after hour, all day and all night, without opening my lips; was impossible. He felt this himself—I was sure he did; for whenever I made an attempt, he listened earnestly, as if anxious to make out what I would be at, without troubling me to repeat, and then replied in few words, as if unwilling to exhibit any colloquial superiority. I at last began to like the fellow and to be more and more sorry and ashamed that I was unable to converse with him. Sometimes he took the initiative himself; and when I could not exactly catch his meaning, always kindly and laboriously repeated what he had said, occasionally varying the expression to make it more clear.

Down came the rain in the meantime, with its steady, determined, mathematical motion—"quick as lightning, but never in a hurry," as the drill-sergeant says—down, down—splash, splash, splash—rumble, rumble: it was enough to make one mad. The Frenchman gave a heavy sigh, and I echoed it; he got up a half-melancholy, half comical smile, when I reflected; he shook his head, so did I. "Slow work this!" I would have said, only it would have been absurd in French; and he looked as if he would fain have given me the idiom, if I could have understood it. At length the vehicle stopped to take in a passenger. Here was a chance. The new-comer was a plump, portly, handsome dame, who insinuated herself between my friend and me, and then expanded till, what with her and the cushions, we felt uncommonly comfortable. But she was a German; and when she had recovered breath, she looked first in the face of one, then of the other, and with an alarming sound of ugh—agh—ogh, delivered in the interrogative key, appeared to be endeavouring to fish out of us whether we could do anything in that line. The Frenchman said, "Je suis fache," and "N'entends pas," and I shook my head in despair; negatives that only excited the risible faculties of madame, who went on clearing her throat of its German in the midst of explosions of laughter, that made our contiguous sides and the cushions undulate in harmony. I verily think she considered herself fortunately placed in having two listeners with no speaker but herself, for she rattled away without intermission, interlarding her speech, in compliment to the Frenchman, with scraps of his own language, so horribly bad that even I was amused. We stood it for some time as decently as possible; but at last I could not help giving my male companion the wink, and saying in an under-tone: "Quelle Francaise!" Both of us proved too many for his politeness: off he set with a roar, in which I joined from sympathy; and so we went on all three, talking French and German, without listening to either, and laughing ready to die.

A more interesting episode, however, speedily occurred, for the coach stopped to a late dinner. Meals were a grand invention for that kind of travelling, although they have now gone the way of all horseflesh. To snatch at a morsel as we do now, and devour it like an ogre, is not to dine; any more than to scald the mucous membrane all the way down is to get cheered with the cup that not inebriates. The recollection of that dinner is enough to disgust one with steam and its headlong haste, and make us inquire whether it is really the grand business of human beings to contrive so as to be nowhere at all at any given time. The bill of fare included scores of dishes, in soup, fish, meat, poultry, game, pastry, and confections; all with names that made them ten times more luxurious, yet, I must own, so unintelligible, that choice was out of question. I thought of shutting my eyes, and taking something at random; but a qualm came over me as I reflected on the stories I had heard of the continental cuisine, including frogs, snails, and the ox's liver called vulgarly in England cat's meat. I looked at my Frenchman; but he was looking at me. He would not have begun before me for the world; and when, in
