ELOPEMENT BY A COVERTED JEW.

Letters and telegrams from Kincardine have been received at Galt, making inquiries about Joseph Stearn, a converted Jew, who was baptized and received into the communion of Knox's Church, Galt, and occasionally officiated as a lay preacher at the revival meetings during the past winter. He has been conducting revival services at Tiverton, Southampton, and Kincardine, but on Tuesday, the 15th inst., he disappeared from the latter place, taking along with him a girl named McLean. The girl's parents followed them to Goderich, and found that they had stopped all night at the Maitland House as man and wife. Stearn is of medium height, stout build, black hair and whiskers, face red and blotched as if it had been frozen, and marked Jewish features. He speaks a number of languages, is well versed in Scripture, and has lately been quite successful as a revival preacher. When he left Kincardine he said he was taking the girl to Galt as a servant in the household of the Rev. Mr Smith, but this was a fabrication.
