HARD TIMES DURATION

The Chicago News reminds us that—

There was a business depression in 1857 lasting 12 months.

There was a business depression in 1869 lasting 8 months.

There was a business depression in 1873 lasting 30 months.

There was a business depression in 1884 lasting 22 months.

There was a business depression in 1887 lasting 10 months.

There was a business depression in 1893 lasting 25 months.

There was a business depression in 1903 lasting 15 months.

There was a business depression in 1907 lasting 8 months.

There was a business depression in 1914 lasting 8 months.

There was a business depression in 1921-22 lasting 14 months.

But all of these depressions, which were experienced, to a greater or less extent, in Canada, as well in the adjoining republic, came to an end. The present one is now running its course. It will end too. But he is a rash prophet who undertakes to prognosticate when.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We make history rapidly in this age. Albert Flowers, the pioneer chauffeur in Toronto, died in that city last week. He was a native of our neighboring town of Durham.

• • •

Germany is collecting a special tax on bachelors and spinsters, even when they claim they are, as the Scotch put it, "ower young tae marry yet." If our governments continue their hunt for sources of taxation, they may follow the German example.

• • •

T. L. Church, K.C., who was for years Mayor of Toronto and an energetic member of Parliament for that city, asserts that the gasoline tax imposed by the Provincial Government is illegal, because the Province has no right to impose indirect taxes. If Thomas is right and some of the victims of this tax resists its imposition, and upsets the apple cart, there surely would be a flare-up. This tax brings millions into the cash box of the Ontario Government and the ease with which it is taken out of the consumers is a direct incentive to extravagance in administration.

TORONTO LINE NORTH

Mrs. Wm. Reid of Ann Arbor, Mich., returned to her home on Tuesday after spending the past week with her mother, Mrs. George Pritchard, who has been il but is improving nicely.

Miss Gertrude Lever spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Roy Wood, at Markdale.

Miss Iva Wickens of Kimberley is assisting Mrs. R. Richardson for a time.

Mr. Delbert Alcox, who has been very ill for the past couple of weeks, is improving. Mrs. W. Alcox, Sr., is also ill with a nurse in attendance. We wish them a speedy recovery.

Roses For The Garden

Everyone who has a garden wants roses in it and there is no reason why they should not have some. A rose bush will grow almost anywhere, except in a place where water lies. The roots object to being constantly wet. If the soil was not prepared in the fall, then dig it over well to the depth of eighteen inches and, if it is very poor, bring better soil from the vegetable garden to put around the roots. As soon as the soil is warmed enough the bush should be planted. The hole should be deep and wide enough so that the roots can be spread out and the plant buried a little deeper than it was in the nursery. If the roses arrive before they can be planted, a trench should be dug and the plants heeled in. The roots should never be allowed to dry out. When they are growing well a top dressing of pulverized sheep manure is beneficial.

There are several classes of roses but the one most in favor are Hybrid Teas. These can not be grown very satisfactorily in the coldest sections of the country, but in other parts, by giving some protection in the winter, they do well. Some of the best ones tested in the Central experimental Farm, Ottawa, are: Lady Pirrie, Los Angeles, Ophelia and Souvenir de Claudius Pernet, in the light shades; General MacArthur, K. of K., Gruss Teplitz and Hawlmark Crimson, red; Betty Uprichard, Mrs. Henry Morse, Mme Leon Pain and La Tosca, pink; Dainty Bess, Isobel and Vesuvius, single.

Other classes of roses which are rather hardier than those mentioned are the Hybird Perpetuals. These make a great show of bloom in midsummer but have few, if any, blooms later. Some of the best of these are Frau Karl Druschki, white; General Jacqueminot and Hugh Dickson, red; and Coronation and Mrs. John Laing, pink.

The class of rose which gives the most bloom for the least trouble is the Polyantha Pompon. These are dwarf growing so are easily covered in winter. They are hardier than either H. T.'s or H. P.'s and bloom continualiy all season. The flowers are in clusters and are not very fragrant. Good varieties are Coral Cluster, Ellen Poulsen, Chatillon and Mrs. W. H. Cutbush, pink; Kosters Orleans, Rodhatte and Edith Cavell, red; Katherine Zeimet and Betty Bland, pink, are also hardy without protection at Ottawa.

Of the climbing roses the following are recommended: Dorothy Perkins, Dr. W. Van Fleet and Crimson Rambler, red; Goldfinch and Pemberton's White Rambler, white.

THE HEART

The heart is one of the vital organs of the body which contributes to the work when we are asleep, just as it does when we are awake.

The heart is a muscle organ. When it contracts, it acts as a pump circulating the blood to all parts of the body. Every part of the body needs blood, because it is from the blood that the cells of the body select the nourishment they need, and it is into the blood that the cells discharge their waste products.

A good circulation is necessary if the tissues of the body are to be healthy. A good circulation cannot be maintained unless the heart is in proper working order. In other words, the general health of the body requires a sound heart.

The heart, like most organs of the body, is capable of doing more than is usually demanded of it. That is why it is able for a time to do extra work when it is called upon to do so by sudden or severe physical effort. It is not advisable, however, to overstrain any part of the body, because such strain may be too great or too prolonged, and permanent harm may result.

Because of its reserve power, a damaged heart can live long and useful lives if they avoid such efforts as heavy lifting which throws a sudden or extra load on the heart. They must avoid doing anything which causes shortness of breath, and they should learn to stop and rest immediately if they experience shortness of breath or pain. They must realize their limitations, and not try to do more than they are able.

Infection in any form is frequently responsible for heart disease. Infected teeth, tonsils or head sinuses may be foci from which poisons and germs are given off, causing damage to the heart.

The prevention of heart disease begins with attention to general health through proper food, fresh air, rest and play. Any focus of infection, such as diseased teeth or tonsils, should be removed before there is a chance of its causing damage to the heart.

The heart is often damaged as the result of acute rheumatism, which is an infection. Growing pains and chorea, or St. Vitus Dance, are evidence of rheumatism in children, and they should be treated as serious conditions in order that the heart may be protected.

Jimmy had been ailing for a couple of days . . . but she didn't think it was serious — till this afternoon . . . she called the doctor . . . hospital tomorrow . . . just a minor operation, but it couldn't wait.

Whatever would she do? She must be with Jimmy . . . but there was the baby too. If mother were only there . . . but a letter couldn't reach mother till late tomorrow.

Then she thought of the telephone. In two minutes she was speaking to her mother. Yes, she could catch the evening train — would be there at 8 in the morning.

What a relief! Now she could go about her preparations for the morrow. The telephone had made everything easy. And the cost of the call had been less than a dollar.

Evening rates on "Anyone" (station-to-station) calls begin at 7 p.m. Night rates begin at 8.30 p.m. Just give "Long Distance" the number you want — it speeds up the service.
