AN EX-KING UNION

Alfonso, who was driven from the throne of Spain recently, may take up residence in Scotland. At all events, he has been given a cordial invitation to become a neighbor of the British Sovereign up Deeside, and has been promised plenty of attractions, including the joke loving (and profitable coining) Aberdonians. Bon Acord counsels him not to think of resuming the thankless task of ruling the turbulelnt Spaniards and to learn, as other kings have done that it is "best to let the tow gang wi' the bucket." Alfonso might well busy himself in establishing an exiled Kings' Club for social purposes only. The fair haired Manuel of Portugal would no doubt be chosen first chairman by virtue of his 21 years' exile, but ex-Kaiser William might also qualify as a veteran. For 13 years he has been out in the cold and he may know enough to refrain from again struggling to lord it over his fellows. Alfonso, the Thirteenth, may think that his number was unlucky, as misfortune has usually dogged the Kings who were second of a namel. William the Second of Germany, George the Second of Greece, and Nicholas the Second of Russia, illustrated the rule It held good in Scotland and Russia in almost every experience — Alexander, David, Robert, James, Henry, William, Richard and Edward. And so, if we were called on to take up the King business we would be inclined to insist on being the first (Charles excepted) or any odd number except Thirteenth. Alfonso, with his reputed plenty of "siller" will doubtless be warmly welcomed by the canny Abredonians should he respond to their call. He has already many friends there, on Deeside. He early courted the fair Princess Ena of Battenburg, and it is said that as a youth he startled the astonished Queen Alexandria by his handsprings in the corridors of Balmoral Castle, at which Highland home he was frequently a visitor.

A NOTABLE ANNIVERSARY

This year marks the century of the discovery of chloroform, not however its anaesthetic properties, which remained unreognized for some years. It is a coincidental that this year is also the hundredth anniversary of the Linithgow (Scotland) Dr. Waldie from Edinburgh University, practising as a druggist in the royal burgh. Waldie brought the properties of the anaesthetic to the attention of Sir James Young Simpson, who was the first to experiment with what was for some years, regarded as a dangerous drug, though two independent investigators—Soubeiran of France and Leibig of Germany—made almost simutaneous announcement of the result of their researches. Leibig obtained his chloroform by treating chloral hydrate with caustic potash; Soubeiran treated alcohol with chlorinated lime. About the same time, a United States doctor produced a similar anaesthetic by distilling another compound and used it in his practises. It is not to be wondered at, therefore, that the claim of Sir James Simpson to the discovery has been disputed, but no one will deny that history has established that he and several of his associates in the search after suitable anaesthetic risked their lives, and had to fight a stiff battle against opponents in church and state who were inconvinced of the rightfulness of what at first was an experiment. The world owes much to Sir James Simpson and those associated with him. No one can calculate the benefit to humanity, and the saving of lives that have resulted from the discovery of this wonderful product. Up to that time, many a life was lost through the exhaustion of the patient before the clumsy operation could be carried out. Men recently living have told, for example, that it took half a dozen stalwarts to hold a man still while his leg was amputated with an ordinary saw, and that the suffering of the patient was indescribable.

Cairn will be erected to mark the site of the first cheese factory in Oxford coenty, being another historical mark by the side of the whey.

Invitations Issue For June 27th Picnic

Invitations were sent out last week to invite you home for the big picnic. If you have not received one consider the following letter a most cordial invitation:-

In consideration of the splendid support accorded us by the residents of the "Old Home Town" on the occasion of our annual picnic held in High Park, Toronto, last summer, your committee has decided to hold the picnic this year at Flesherton on Saturday, June 27th. Flesherton declared June 21st, 1930, a Public Holiday and the businessa men closed their houses for the day which enabled the Fleshertonians to attend our picnic in considerable numbers, thus contributing, as you are well aware, very much to the enjoyment of the assembly.

Let us not be outdone in this respect. You, of course, will be there with your family - but that is not enough. Invite all your friends with perfect confidence that you can assure them of a delightful outing. The Flesherton Committee has generously offered to provide tea, coffee, milk, plates cups and seating accomodation. You will, therefore, only need to furnish the food required for the picnic. The Flesherton people are looking forward to the event and the business houses have again decided to close from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. or 7 p.m. to allow everyone an opportunity of attending the picnic.

Mr. W. H. (Beg Pardon) "Bill" Fenwick, Chairman of the Transportation Committee, has generously offered to provide conveyance for those who have no independent means of reaching Flesherton on that day, at the very nominal fare of $1.00 return. If you ride with "Bill" you are assured of a comfortable journey and a load of fun both ways. His telephone number is Gerr. 0163 and he would like you to call him up and make reservation. This must be done not later than June 20th to enable him to arrange accomodation for the crowd. And when I say "CROWD" I mean just that.

We have been very successful with all our past gatherings and only the splendid support accorded us by each of the "Old Timers" has made this possible. A program of sports under the direction of Joe LeGard, Chairman of the Games Committtee, will commence at 3 p.m. Daylight Saving Time. So put your shoulder to the wheel and help us make this picnic "BIGGER and BETTER than ever.

Sincerely yours
BURTON E. FIELD, Secretary.

VANDELEUR

On Friday afternoon of this week, June 12th, a community picnic will be held in the Community Park here. There will be a good program of games, sports, etc. Let all come and enjoy themselves.
