FEVERSHAM

Mr. and Mrs. G. Eby and Mrs. Jas. Long visited with friends in Toronto over Sunday.

Miss M. R. McGirr, who has been training as a nurse in the Collingwood hospital, graduated with honors and won Dr. McFaul's medal at the graduation exercises last week. Congratulations, Miss McGirr.

The people of the village were treated to a close view of an airplane on Monday afternoon, when a plane from Camp Borden circled over the village about 11 o'clock. It made a landing in Mr. Ern. Hawton's field at the north side of the village. After staying an hour the pilot taxied down the field 30 or 40 rods and the big bird rose gracefully. After circling round to gain altitude he sailed for Camp Borden.

Messrs. Heitman and Thornbury held another auction sale of furniture on Saturday evening last. Mr. Jas. Fawcett was the auctioneer and handled the sale in a masterly way.

I see from an item in one of the local papers where the judges are taking a different view of what they call debt dodgers, when they are sentenced to pay so much a month on a judgment summones in monthly installments, was sentenced to jail for three months and to remain in jail until the account was paid.

Messrs. George and Matthew Conron, who are on the police force at Chapleau and Toronto respectively, visited with their aunt, Mrs. A. J. Conron, last week.

Miss Zella Long has obtained a position in Toronto. Zella is a graduate of the Dundalk business college.

Mrs. John Paul is visiting with her friends in Toronto at present.

Miss Warder has resigned her position as teacher in the continuation school here.

Mr. Richard Ottewell of Arcola, Sask., left here for Toronto to visit his sisters, Mrs. S. Colquette and Mrs. M. Mullin and other friends, before he leaves for his home in the West by motor.

The provincial authorities are leaving no stone unturned in their campaign against weeds. Many of the highways have the usual prolific crops along the sides of the road. Some of the farms throughout the country have crops of weeds which will soon be ripening and spreading their seeds to the four winds. Delinquents in this respect will be given an opportunity to explain the reason for their contempt of the law as soon as the weed inspector makes his round.

WODEHOUSE

A sudden change in the temperature came on Monday, following a day or two of intense heat.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Wilcox and baby, Helen, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fawcett visited with Mr. and Mrs. Allen, near Flesherton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cherry moved to Thornbury on Wednesday, where he has secured work.

Little Leona Kirkpatrick spent part of last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sewell on the townline of A. and E.

A few from here attended the shower tendered Miss Gertie Bowles in the hall at Vandeleur on Friday evening.

Mrs. Newt Hutchinson motored to Owen Sound with friends Saturday.

A coaching class in in progress in New England church, preparatory for the judging competition which is being held in Markdale on Friday of this week.

Little Miss Helen Wiley spent the week end with her aunt, Mrs. C. Wiley, in Markdale.

Quite a number have been laid up with a severe cold or flu.

Don't forget New England Sunday School picnic on Tuesday, June 23rd. Sports, good supper and a good program promises good. Musical talent from Meaford will assist. 'Tis the children's day and eagerly they look forward to the annual event.

The young people who went to Vandeleur on Tuesday evening were highly pleased with the number who gathered at the church to hear their play "Choosing a Wife" and other numbers that made up their program. They brought home a tidy sum as their share of the evening's proceeds. An effort is being made to wipe off the debt on the new church shed and the amount is gradually melting away. New lights are also being procured for the church.

Mr. Clinton Henning spent Sunday with his mother in Markdale.

School term is nearing completion and the children are busy getting ready for their final examinations.

We offer The Advance congratulations on attaining its golden jubilee No doubt the senior editor has, in spite of his successful career, found many rough places in all the years, as most editors do, but he has many warm friends, your correspondent amongst them, at home and abroad, who wish him and his son continued prosperity and health for years to come.

(Intended for Last Week)

Showery weather.

Mrs. E. Ward of Flesherton is with her daughter, Mrs. Clifford Risk, who is slowly recovering from the painful accident of last week.

Mr. T. I. Fawcett is busy these days taking the census in this and Beaverdale division.

The Sunday School annual picnic will be held on June 23rd this year.

Mr. H. Akins and Miss Sadie Ward of Flesherton were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Risk on Sunday.

Mr. Hilbert Pickering of Sunnidale is visitng friends here the guest of the Brown families.

Service was not held on Sunday as Rev. McAuslan was away to Conference. The Sunday School met at 10:30 with a large attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cornfield of Kimberley were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. J. Cherry. We are glad to report Mrs. Cherry improving in health.

Kenneth Gilbert of Kimberley called on friends here Thursday.

VICTORIA CORNERS

IN MEMORIAM

SMITH — In loving memory of our grandson, Burton Smith, who passed to be with Jesus, on June 22, 1929.

Sweet is your memory, dear to our hearts;
The place that you hold there shall never depart;
Along through the days, be they many or few,
Shall be filled with remembrances, dear Burton, of you.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Parson.

SUMMER CARE OF THE BABY

There are certain conditions which occur during the hot weather, which are apt to cause upsets and disease among the babies. For this reason, it is necessary that special attention be given to certain points in order to keep the baby healthy and comfortable, and to protect him from disease the summer months.

When the weather is hot, a bath, morning and night, is desirable. In addition, the very hot day is made more comfortable for the baby if he is given a cool plunge in the middle of the day.

Many babies have a very uncomfortable time during the warm weather because they are over-clothed. Not only are they made uncomfortable, but their sleep is disturbed, they perspire and then they become chilled. The baby should be dressed according to the temperature, not to the time of year. A diaper alone, or a diaper and a thin sleeveless shirt, are sufficient clothing on a really hot summer day.

During the summer, the baby becomes thirsty more often, and so wants more water. Unsweetened boiled water should be offered to him at least once between each feeding. Thirst is very distressing, and as the baby cannot ask for a drink, he depends upon you to offer it to him. Just because he refuses it once, do not forget that he may become thirsty later on.

Hndreds of babies die every summer from what is popularly known as "summer complaint — Summer diarrhoea. The best way to prevent this loss of life is to prevent the diarrhoea. diarrhoea.

Breast-fed babies very seldom contract this disease, and breast-feeding is therefore, the first and important tant point in prevention. Raw milk should not be given to children. Pasteurized milk should be bought, or the milk should be pasteurized at home. Failing either of these, the milk should be boiled. Young children cannot resist the effects of milk containing large numbers of germs from barnyard contamination.

If diarrhoea does occur parents should never forget that it is a very serious and often fatal condition unless properly treated. There are those who think they know how to treat this condition although they have had no training, and the results of what they do are seen in the number of babies they bury.

If the child has diarrhoea, all feedings should be stopped. Let the child have as much unsweetened water as he will take, and give no medicine. Place the child under the doctor's care.

To some, this may seem an unnecessary fuss about what is a fairly common disease. To their objections we would answer that the hundreds of babies who now die of summer diarrhoea do so because the necessary attention was not given them. Deaths from this cause can be prevented by following the advice given in this article.

SUMMER HOMES FOR HOGS

The hog does not require an expensive home. Not only that, but best results are actually obtained from the cheaper equipment. Two or three cabins and a box stall for the farrowing sow will supply the necessary housing in the case of a farmer who grows a few hogs. Experiments have proved successful with cabins constructed of strong though relatively light material and provided with hinged sides for free passage of air in the summer season. They are built on runners so as to be easily shifted frm place to place. The A-shaped cabin is subject to damage by the pressure of the hogs from outside. The upright cabin with the peaked roof will last for years. A circular is available at your local agricultural office giving specifications for a suitable summer home, when tightened up and properly protected, makes an all-year hog house.

Three hundred students of Wentworth County recently visited and made a tour of inspection of the O.A.C., Guelph, as a result of which they obtained much worthwhile information. It is hoped that other counties may follow the lead set by Wentworth.
