The importance of Eastern Ontario in the dairying industry of the province is indicated by the fact that over 650 cheese factories are operating east of Toronto as compared with 85 factories west of Toronto. These figures were recently complied by Geo. H. Barr, Director of the Dairy Branch of the Department.

Mrs. Jas. Buckingham

A very sad and impressive funeral service took place at the Stayner United Church on July 7th when Rebecca Ann Vickers, wife of James Buckingam, was laid away to a well earned rest.

She was born in Fairmont, Ontario, January 29th, 1853, and resided there until her marriage to James Buckingham of Maxwell in 1878. Seven children resulted from this union: George of Ottawa; Etta, Mildred and Edgar of Stayner; Elijah, of Maxwell; Alma, (Mrs. R. H. Wiggins) of Chicago and Percy (deceased) of Chicago.

Mrs. Buckingham was a member of the Anglican Church until her marriage, when she became a member of the Methodist church of Maxwell. She was a member of this church until the family moved to Stayner in 1910 when she became a member of the Stayner Methodist church.

While Mrs. Buckingham's work in the church was of the sort which did not attract attention, yet it was exceedingly effective and her influence for good was far-reaching and penetrating. As Rev. Mr. Gray said at her funeral service, "She indeed was an example for all of us to follow," and anyone who knew her will vouch for the truth of this statement.

One of the main principles of Mrs. Buckingham's Christian make-up was a saying which she most rigidly observed: If I couldn't say something good about a person, I wouldn't say anything at all. And the truth of this was evidenced by the host of sorrowing friends and relatives who came with many floral tributes from distant points to do her honor.

TO AVOID BLOATING

Bloating is an ever present danger with dairy cows on pasture, particularly where the legume is alfalfa. Means for lessening this danger, advised by animal husbandry experts, include: Never turn a cow out on alfalfa pasture on an empty stomach; give a small feed of dry hay before turning out; have a liberal supply of water available in or near the pasture at all times; don't turn the cows out onto a freshly irrigated pasture, or a pasture reeking wet from rain, heavy dew or coated with frost. Much of the danger may also be avoided by mixing grass with alfalfa in seeding down the pastures. The cows prefer grass to legumes such as alfalfa or sweet clover and will take the edge off their appetites before feeding on these.
