Walk on the LEFT of country roads

. . . Face the Traffic

This rule is important at all times, but especially so at dusk and at night.

At such times, no matter how careful the driver of a car is, he may not see you until he is very near to you and it may be impossible for him to stop in time to avoid inflicting serious injury.

Should he swerve to avoid hitting you, though you may escape injury others may be hurt.

Of the 524 fatalities on the highways of Ontario last year a large number were caused by persons walking with rather than against traffic.

Why take a chance?

Gamey Hill at Devil's Glen To Be Reduced To Grade

The county road system between Collingwood and Singhampton is to be further improved by the reduction of the grade at the Gamey Hill, east of the Devil's Glen, on the Singhampton sideroad. The present road is to be abandoned and a new cut made straight from the road around the glen. This has been under consideration for a couple of years and has been the idea of Chairman . Scott of the County Road Commission with the concurrence of Mr. J. E. Jamieson, M.P.P. Now the contract has been awarded but not before the County RUoad Committee had given much time to the consideration of the ways and means of financing in order that local labor might be employed. In this connection tenders were received from a number of contractors, some twelve in all, but unfortunately the difference between the tenders for local labor and that for machine work was so great a financial spread that the former could not be entertained by the committee in charge. The lowest tenderer to whom the contract was awarded was the King Construction Co., for $4,240, while the lowest tender for the job by local labor was that of the Holcroft Co. for $6,118.—Bulletin.

WHAT ABOUT FALL FAIRS?

One by one the services and amusements of the past generation are risappearing. The 24th of May celebrations with their military parades and dozens of brass bands, the travelling theatrical companies that stayed in town for three days a week, the husking bees and spelling matches in the rural sections—all these are gone. The fall fair has been about the only thing on the list of old-time entertainment that has not been entirely obliterated by modernism. It has been a stern struggle to survive, it is true, and many township agricultural societies, the name under which such gatherings were conducted, struggled along under deficits for a few years and then gave up the ghost. It could not withstand the competition from the bigger fairs and exhibitions. Here and there, however, the township fair has held its own and defied extermination at the hands of its larger brethren. In such cases it was fortunate in being in control of public spirited men of vision and energy, who took keen pride in upholding the traditions of the past. Fall fairs perform a useful service to the community, as we have pointed out on previous occasions. They brighten and enrich rural life, and bring to the country people a lay or two of needed relaxation and entertainment. They have become a part of rural life, an institution carried on from generation to generation. It would indeed be a misfortune to see them disappear.

Priceville Fair Sept. 11

Priceville fall fair has been advanced to an earlier date this year and will be held on Friday of next week, September 11th. Heretofore the directors have run into rain for their fair day and it is hoped that fortune in the shape of fine weather, will smile on the gathering this year. The Priceville fair is always a good one, there is plenty of live stock and the hall is always filled with roots, vegetables, domestic science, ladies' work, etc. Make an effort to attend the Priceville this year.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

The annual harvest Thanksgiving services will be held in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Maxwell, on Sunday Sept. 13th, at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., when the sermons, hymns and music will be appropriate for the day. A cordial invitation is extended to all in the community to attend.

The traffic officer at Walkerton, who claims that he was kidnapped and forced to drive a car over a porton of Western Ontario at the point of a revolver, has been suspended pending an official investigation. The question to be settled is was he a coward? Are bank managers and the whole staff cowards when they back into the vault when told to do so at the point of a revolver? Self preservation is still the first law of nature.—Pembroke Standard.

TWIN CUCUMBERS

Mr. Wm. G. Allen showed The Banner a novelty in the vegetable line on Saturday night. The exhibit, which was grown in Mr. Allen's garden, was in the form of a twin cucumber, or, to be more explicit, two cucumbers that had grown so closely side by side that they were joined together from stem to stem. Mr. Allen also has two ears of corn that are joined in somewhat the same fashion, although in this case the union does not extend for the entire length of the two ears.—Orangeville Banner.

Residents of the northern section of Scarboro township are up in arms claiming that a high rate of taxation is brought about largely by relief distribution in the southern section. They are bent on taking steps to form a separate municipality.
