Late Mrs. Wm. Bristow

The funeral of the late Mrs. William H. Bristow, which took place to West Church cemetery on Thursday afternoon, was very largely attended despite the inclement weather.

Among relatives from a distance were Mr. David Thomson and Mrs. Thomas Robinson, Toronto; Messrs. John Thomson, Brad. Vandenburg, Chris. Nicol, Gordon Vandenburg, Mr. and Mrs. A. Cox, and Mrs. John Nichol, all of Scarboro; Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Thomson, Flesherton; Miss Ella Allister, Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer, Chris. Thomson, and James Thomson and son of Feversham; Mr. and Mrs. George Ross, Maxwell; Mr. Will Thomson, McIntyre; Mr. and Mrs. Will Edwards, Singhampton; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Freethy, Sr., Mr. George and Miss Susie Bristow, Rob Roy; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bristow and Mr. and Mrs. Russel Thomson, of Stayner; Mr. Tom Bristow, Mr. Will Bristow, and Mrs. Edward Hastings of town.

The pallbearers were Ernest Douthwaite, Richard Currie, Tom Bristow, Ernest Bristow, David Thomson and John Thomson.

Floral tributes were received from Dr. J. H. Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Habgood, Mrs. Jos. Jardine, Mrs. G. McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McDougall, Mrs. Donald McDonald, Kenaston, Sask., grandaughter Marie Cottrell, from the deceased's sisters and brother and also from the family.

The services were conducted by Rev. R. Birnie, assisted by Rev. E. Swalm.

CLEAN-UP TIME

With harvesting and threshing finished, it is not too early to start preparation for the winter. If the stable is not given its annual cleanup now, it may be neglected altogether. The minimum attention should include sweeping the ceilings and walls, scraping the floors and mangers and then thoroughly white-washing everything in sight. Lime is a great cleansing agent, and it is best when applied hot with a spraying machine. There are always odd jobs that should be attended to before the cows are stabled for the winter. The panes that have been broken from the windows should be replaced; the broken latch, the detached hinge and broken floor should be looked after. While these are small things their neglect for a year or two makes a slipshod stable and this is the mark of the careless dairyman.

THE VOTE FOR FARMER'S DAUGHTERS

A number of amendments made this year to the Municipal and Assessment Acts, provide for granting the municipal franchise to farmers daughters who have the required qualifications, that the amendment of the Assessment Act permitting the assessment of farmers' daughters do not come into force until January 1st, 1932 and the amendments to the Municipal Act granting the right to vote do not become effective until the annual elections for the year 1333. This will be seen by reading 1931 Statutes chapter 50, section 40, and chapter 51, section 15.

New Central Markets

A central packing and grading association has been organized by apple producers in Elgin County. The Provincial Government will subsidize the venture to the extent of $750 providing that 10 growers with a combined acreage of 200 acres can be secured. According to the terms of the bykaws the Association will take the growers' entire crop and dispose of it. The grower must bind himself to dispose of his produce or forfeit a penalty equal to 50 cents a barrel. The Association will issue 200 shares of $50 each. The Oxford County Fruit Co-operative Co. Ltd., is now ready for business with headquarters at Woodstock. The Government has assured the Company a grant of $750 to install the plant and get the business moving.

Tommy—Isn't 'wholesome a funny word, father?

Father—What's so funny about it?

Tommy— Why, take away the 'whole' and you've got 'some' left.

Next year's vacation season will be varied by the opportunity to running up to James Bay on the new Government railway. Will the tipping evil get there ahead of the tourist? Quite likely.

Paving Completed

Paving of Flesherton streets was finished on Saturday evening and the equipment was moved to Markdale that evening, where the King Paving Company commenced the laying of cement Monday morning. A good job was made of the streets in town and when the boulevards are grassed and the work finally finished Flesherton will be one of the finest looking villages in Ontario.

SEED PROSPECTS EXCELLENT

The prospect for a good seed year is very good. A fair crop of alfalfa, more than sufficient to meet a heavy home demand, is looked for; there will be sufficient sweet clover and enough alsike to supply the domestic demand though little left over for export; some timothy and probably a big crop of domestic red clover. Second growth fields, from which the bulk of the seed crop is taken, are in excellent shape, unusually clean and blooming abundanlyt. With a bigger duty on all clover and alfalfa this year, farmers are taking more interest in saving seed.

When a married man says he hates bridge, that means his wife is a better player than he.

The Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, has now a number of sets of lantern slides which may be secured by Agricultural and Horticultural organizations, schools women's institutes, churches, etc. without rental charge. The subjects illustrated are: Home Beautification, New Varieties of Cereals, Selection of Live stock, Poultry Husbandry, and Field Husbandry. These slides are proving very popular wherever used and splendid attendances are reported.

Wrong Side Up

When the zealous but misguided settlers first began to break the dry belt in southern Saskatchewan, an old Indian observing the ploughed land stood silent for a time and then he grunted: "Uh! Wrong side up!" That prediction has long since proved to be only too true. At best it is only grazing land, and the sod should never have been broken. Three years out of five brought nothing but disappointment, and now has come the terrible tragety of stark failure and abandonment. Governments should never have allowed promiscuous settlement. Once people break land and build a home they become so attached to the location that only tragedy or death will remove them from it. There are plenty of farmers in eastern Canada toiling away on land that is fit only for growing trees or grazing sheep. But they are attached to the property; it is home and there they will stick. Pioneering is not altogether a thing of the past in Canada. There is more land to be cleared and settled — plenty of it. Governments should shoulder the responsibility and see to it that land unfit for farming is not turned "wrong side up."—Farmers' Advocate.
